

Proclamation

On this day of solemn remembrance I join with the Mayors of Cities and Towns in all parts of Canada to issue this Proclamation:

REMEMBRANCE DAY recalls the courage and sacrifice of the past. It bids us reconsecrate ourselves to the nation's highest service, in whatever field our duty lies.

Shortly before Their Majesties' visit, the Mayors of Canada passed a resolution calling for Moral Armament as the need of the day.

The world-wide response showed a world-wide need; and war has intensified that need.

In time of war our homes require this kind of spirit to enable them to bear its anxieties, as well as to give them a lasting unity and purpose.

Such a spirit will make for co-operation in industry and throughout the whole nation. It will make us eager to put national interest before personal security and personal profit.

With a sense of individual responsibility, we shall achieve true economy of man-power, money, and national effort.

The morale of the people and the health of the fighting services will be at their best. Furthermore we need no longer accept as inevitable the moral casualties of war.

The two minutes' silence on Remembrance Day forms a link with the dead. It can also link us with the future and with life.

On this day, while remembering the glorious dead, let us use these two minutes to seek God's Plan and to find out how best to serve Him, our King, and our Country.

Recognizing our own faults and our own failures, let us set ourselves to put right what is wrong in our own lives and to help to free our country from greed, fear and hate.

Then we shall truly honor those whom we recall to memory today. Then we can build the sort of world they died to bring about.

Storage of Apples
In view of the fact that it will now be necessary because of the war to store much larger quantities of apples, experts in fruit storage strongly advise that apples be stored in well-ventilated rooms or cellars. Such storage places should be equipped with plenty of openings, at least in the ratio of one square foot to every 50 barrels. The openings should be open at night and closed during the day, care being taken to avoid dead-end spaces in the corners of the store.

Examinations Abolished in Ontario Middle Schools

Abolition of the written middle school examination, on the ground that only a relatively small percentage of candidates who complete the middle school work require certificates, was announced by Hon. Dr. L. J. Simpson, Minister of Education. The Minister said the expense involved in conducting middle school examinations is "scarcely warranted," and stressed that, by reason of the suspension of the middle school examination, it was considered desirable that all upper school candidates should be required to pass a departmental examination before proceeding to the universities, normal schools or other institutions.

Miss Bessie Early Won Halton Speaking Contest

(Georgetown Herald)

The funeral of Joseph M. Moore took place from his home to Greenwood Cemetery on Thursday afternoon. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. F. C. Overend of the United Church and Rev. D. D. Davidson of the Presbyterian Church. The abundant floral displays indicated the warm affection with which he was held by his many friends throughout the Dominion. Perhaps the most impressive of these was his old lacrosse stick, richly garlanded with flowers. At the cemetery, following the church burial service, the Masonic order of which he was a member, gave the final impressive masonic rites. The Rev. W. G. C. Thompson, chaplain of the lodge, and Worshipful Master Jos. Sanford conducting. The pall-bearers were life-long friends or business associates of the deceased: Robert Erwin and Dr. F. R. Watson, his old lacrosse teammates, Angus Dobson and Garfield McEwen, business associates; Robert B. Foulis and W. A. Wilson, close friends of long standing. The honorary pallbearers were L. E. Fleck, W. P. Bradley, Ralph Ross, Jos. Gabeaux, Duncan Campbell, LeRoy Dale, Charlie Readhead, and Wm. Barber, Leslie Clark, Reg. Broadhead, Roy and Jack Foulis were flower bearers.

Mr. J. M. Moore was born in the Township of Vaughan in the County of York, May the twenty-fourth, 1872. He was a son of the late T. T. and Mrs. Moore of Acton. His father was principal of Acton Public School for many years.

Joseph Moore served his apprenticeship with the Acton Free Press under the late H. P. Moore. He came to Georgetown in 1891, after serving brief periods as a printer in offices at Bolton, Hamilton and Kitchener, Ontario. For some years he served as foreman in the Georgetown Herald and subsequently purchased the business from Mr. R. D. Warren. For over thirty years he has directed the policies and destiny of this paper.

He is survived by his wife, Amy Claridge; his daughter, Mrs. Ryerson Douglas of Toronto; two grandchildren, John Moore and Mary Elaine Douglas; also three sisters, Mrs. H. P. McKelken and Mrs. C. Moore of Toronto, and Mrs. H. C. Schreier of Kitchener. Two brothers predeceased him—T. J. Moore, Guelph, and W. J. Moore, Acton, who died in Pretoria, South Africa during the Boer War.

The deceased was a member of Credit Lodge A.F. & A.M. No. 219 and Halton Chapter R.A.M. 234 G.R.C., Georgetown, the Royal City Lodge of Perfection, Guelph, the Moore Sovereign Consistory, S.P.R.S. 32 Degree Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, Hamilton. He was also an Oddfellow, a member of the Chosen Friends and the Independent Order of Foresters.

In his youth Mr. Moore was an outstanding athlete, being a member of the famous provincial championship Aetna Lacrosse Club in 1895-6. In his chosen trade he was honest, loyal and industrious. He was the ladder of business success. In his early thirties he became the owner, editor and publisher of the newspaper he loved so well.

As he approached middle age he was to be found as distinguished a leader in the community life as he was in the business world. He was Reeve of Georgetown, having spent many years on the town council. He lent his able services to the town as a member of the Board of Health, the Hydro electric power to Georgetown, and at the time of his death was chairman of the Hydro Electric Commission.

In the later years of his life he will be remembered for those characteristics which made him a fine Christian gentleman. His genial smile, warm handshake and brilliant humor will never be forgotten. He loved the children of the community. The town has suffered the loss of great personality and earnest public-minded citizen. His family has lost a loving husband and a kind and generous father. A great aching void is left in our midst that time alone can't fill. When many generations have passed this way his footsteps will still be firmly planted in Georgetown's "sands of time."

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were: Hughes Cleaver, M.P., Burlington; Mr. Elgin Harris, publisher Burlington Gazette; Mr. A. G. Dills, publisher Acton Free Press; Mr. C. E. Charters, publisher Brampton Consistory and Managing Director Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association; Mr. A. E. Dobbie, Managing Editor Smith Falls Record-News; Mr. R.
