

POLICE COURT

William Gillian, Hamilton, was sent to jail for 30 days when he entered a plea of guilty to a drunk-driving charge on October 15 and his car impounded for three months when he appeared before Magistrate W. P. Woodliffe here on Wednesday, Nov. 26th. He was also assessed $25 and costs on a reckless driving charge. He was prohibited from driving for two years.

According to Traffic Officer A. Jackson, the accused car was involved in collision with a Greyhound bus on the Queen Elizabeth highway near Burlington. J. D. Sullivan, of Hamilton, appeared for the defendant.

The magistrate reserved judgment for one week after hearing evidence against Allan Morley, of Milton, who appeared charged with committing an indecent act.

"I've taken into consideration that you have assisted the police in recovering some of the money," Magistrate Woodliffe told Lillian Hunter when he sentenced her to nine months in the reformatory. The accused appeared at Oakville police court last Friday charged with stealing $500 from her employer, Daniel Carter, of Trafalgar. She had explained that when out with a soldier in Toronto she became drunk and when she sobered up the money in her purse was gone. Two hundred dollars of the money had been recovered.

Owing to the absence of Provincial Police Constable John Reavley, who is at Kirkland Lake, Crown Attorney W. I. Dick asked for a week's adjournment of the reckless driving charges against Russell Floyd, of Guelph, and Malcolm McFadden, of Milton.

Halton Livestock Men To Discuss Swine Situation

W. P. Watson, Assistant Director of the Ontario Livestock Branch, is to be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Halton Livestock Improvement Association scheduled for the Farmers' Building, Milton, on Saturday afternoon of this week. We are informed by this Harrow, President of the Association that Mr. Watson will discuss the entire swine situation, including the relationship between hog and feed prices, etc. The programme will also include a sound picture in technicolor entitled "Bacon for Britain" which shows the entire processing end of the business from the time the hog leaves the farmer's premises until it reaches seaboard. The meeting is open to all and it would appear to be a real opportunity for hog producers to get a clear-cut picture of the entire hog business and also to discuss and clarify certain features which are not in general favour with hog producers.

Mexico Claims Villa

Mexico has refuted the claim that Gen. Francisco (Pancho) Villa, the notorious bandit chief whose life and exploits have been the theme of numerous books and motion pictures was a Colombian. When the claim was made recently in Colombia Mexico produced proof in Mexico City that the bandit was born in Rio Grande on June 5, 1878, and was christened Doroteo Arango, but considered Francisco Villa more picturesque.

After an appetizing turkey and short honey moon, hearty congratulations are extended by their many friends.

This delightful Indian Summer weather is giving farmers ample opportunity to get the fall plowing and all other work done up before the ground freezes. It will also shorten the winter and lessen the cost of heating the homes, which this year will prove an expensive item. Cattle are also able still to obtain part of their living from the fields, which are still as green as ever.

We wish to extend congratulation to Mr. and Mrs. Medford Prewess on the birth of a daughter on Nov. 24th.

THE HOME FIRESIDE

As the autumnal days grow chilly, a fire of blazing wood is built on the hearth in many homes. The people of former days used to spend many hours sitting and dreaming before those glowing tongues of flame. The glowing coals seem to make them talk more freely, and home seems sweeter amid the flickering shadows thrown out by the firelight.

Some homes lack any place for an open fire, and modern people are apt to have so many dates that they can't sit down by the fire. Something is lost out of their lives when they have no time for fireside reveries and

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE PRICES UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT ONLY

THE PRICE CEILING ORDER IS NOW LAW

A fine up to $5,000 and two years imprisonment provided for offences against this law

WHAT YOU MUST DO TO COMPLY WITH THE LAW

- As a Consumer
You must not buy goods or services for more than the highest price charged for such goods or services during the basic period, September 15 to October 11. If in doubt, ask your merchant for proof the price he asks is a lawful price under the Price Ceiling Order. Normal seasonal price changes in fresh fruits and vegetables and greenhouse products are exempt.
- As a Retailer
You must not sell goods or services for more than the highest price at which you sold such goods or services in the basic period, September 15 to October 11. You must not buy goods or services from manufacturers or wholesalers or any other sources for more than the highest price you paid to them in the basic period. Cost of merchandise to the retailer, less the cost of merchandise delivered to them after November 30 is too high in relation to the ceiling prices, should be paid in touch with their suppliers and try to arrange an adjustment fair to both parties. The price of goods of a kind or quality not sold during the basic period must not be more than the highest price charged for substantially similar goods in the basic period.
- As a Wholesaler
You must not sell goods or services at more than your highest price (less discounts then prevailing) during the basic period, September 15 to October 11. You must not buy goods or services for more than the highest prices paid during the basic period. Wholesalers will be expected in some cases to reduce their prices below the ceiling in order that their retail accounts may carry on. Wholesalers in turn may have to ask their suppliers for price reductions. The continued flow of goods through normal channels is of the utmost importance and the Board will intervene if suppliers divert business abnormally from one customer to another.
- As a Manufacturer
You must not sell at prices higher than your highest price (less discounts then prevailing) during the basic period, September 15 to October 11. In some cases it will be necessary for manufacturers to reduce their prices below the ceiling so that wholesale and retail accounts may carry on. Where maintenance of the retail ceiling requires manufacturers' prices to be substantially reduced, the Board will investigate and in proper cases will afford necessary relief.

Imports
Retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers are assured by the Board that any considerable increases in the costs of import of essential goods will be covered either by subsidies or by adjustment of taxes. Details will be announced shortly.

Services Also Come Under This Law
The Price Ceiling law also applies to rates and charges for electricity, gas, steam heat, water, telegraph, wireless, telephone, transportation, provision of dock, harbour and pier facilities; warehousing and storage; manufacturing processes performed on a commission or custom basis; undertaking and embalming; laundering, cleaning, tailoring and dressmaking; hairdressing, barbering and beauty parlour services; plumbing, heating, painting, decorating, cleaning and renovating; repairing of all kinds; supplying of meals, refreshments and beverages; exhibiting of motion pictures.

NO CHEATING OR EVASION OF THE PRICE CEILING LAW WILL BE TOLERATED

"How the Price Law Works," a pamphlet setting forth how each branch of business must apply the regulations to its own operation will shortly be available at Post Offices and Branch Banks.

The Board will soon open Regional Offices throughout Canada where problems may be discussed. These Offices will co-operate with business in the adjustment of difficulties.

The Price Ceiling Law is vital to Canada's War effort.

PROTECTION OF PRESS FREEDOM

They say eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty. This is absolutely true, and it applies to the freedom of the press, that glorious principle on which Canadian welfare and progress depends. Our country will go ahead and be happy and prosperous as long as it has free newspapers. They provide the forum in which our people meet and discuss their interests.

In that forum mistakes of government can be pointed out so long as freedom of speech exists. People who have good ideas can state them in the newspaper forum, and when such wise suggestions are offered they will find the support of the public. When that support is obtained through this medium of press freedom, the way to correct popular errors and the mistakes of government becomes clear and obstacles to progress are removed.

In the dictator ruled countries the government says that such free discussion disrupts the unity of the people, and the editor or citizen who speaks his mind is likely to be locked up in jail or worse. So progress in those lands is stopped.

Our laws provide against such suppression in this country. Politicians sometimes complain that as a result of this freedom unfair charges are made against them, but they always have plenty of chance to reply to such charges. The truth will prevail.

If it is ever proposed to limit newspaper freedom because unfair statements are often made, our people should vigilantly resist such an idea. The unfair charges will destroy themselves, but when the people lose their chance for free discussion of their laws, economic problems, and government will disappear. The abuses which result from the freedom of the press are relatively unimportant. When the freedom goes there will be no way to avert injustice and tyranny.

charge of the program which consisted of guitar selections by Miss Wilda Prosser, readings by Mrs. Charles Jarvis and Mrs. Marchant, and a duet by Mrs. Galbraith and Mrs. Turner. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Turner conducted a sale of baking for the Supply Fund. Mrs. Hamilton, assisted by Laura Marchant (nee Laura Hamilton), served dainty refreshments and all enjoyed the social time before dispersing. The next meeting will be December 10th at the home of Mrs. Frank Peacock.
