

A NEW EDITOR FOR THE CANADIAN CHAMPION

G. A. DILLS, of Acton

Arrangements have been made by Mrs. John Blight, widow of the late John Blight and F. Leonard White who have been the owners and editors of the Canadian Champion for the past seventeen years, to transfer the ownership to G. A. Dills, of Acton. The new editor will take charge and publish The Champion after November 1st.

Mr. Dills is a man of lifelong newspaper and printing experience. After serving an apprenticeship on The Acton Free Press under the late H. P. Moore he followed the printing and newspaper business in Toronto, and other Canadian cities and in New York and other cities of New York state. For the past sixteen years he has been editor and proprietor of The Acton Free Press. He does not assume the editorial chair as a complete stranger in Milton, but is well-known by many citizens in town and the district around.

We are informed that the new editor will have a statement to make in next week's issue of the Champion and there will also be an announcement from the present owners and editor.

Stop! Look! Listen!
Speed The Victory!

To the Citizens of Milton and district: We are now coming near the close of the first week of Canada's Fifth Victory Loan, and so far the response in this district has been fairly generous. We still have a long way to go to reach our objective, but with the continued generous contributions of everyone we can again go over the top. It is needless to stress the importance of this loan, it means providing the tools to finish the job and backing our own Canadian sons to the limit. Citizens of Milton and district appreciate their duty and responsibility and will see to it that their sons and daughters who have gone forth to fight for victory and freedom shall have their undying support.

During the next few weeks salesmen will be at your service to assist and advise in any way regarding your loan. If however you may be inadvertently overlooked, don't let that deter you from loaning your bit, get in touch with your bank or with Loan headquarters on Main street, or call the salesman in your district.

These men appeal to the public to be ready when they call, as they have a large territory to cover and will be very busy. All help given will help the cause.

Save and Loan to Speed the Victory.

The members of the John Milton Chapter, I.O.D.E. would like to thank everyone who assisted with the Penny Sale and Fun Parade, broadcast by Sheriff, Ltd. in the town hall Tuesday evening. Donations from the following firms were very much appreciated: T. Eaton Co., Ltd., R. S. Simpson Co., Ltd., S. Smith, National Grocer, Ltd., G. W. Robinson Co., Carroll's Ltd., Dominion Store, Ltd.,

Liberia Hot and Humid,
But Rich Garden Spot

Liberia, co-signer with the United States of a lend-lease agreement, is the only republic on the African continent. Situated on the continent where it juts toward the "bulge" of Brazil, Liberia is edged with colonial domains of France and Great Britain. Next door neighbors are Sierra Leone, French Guinea and the Ivory Coast.

About the shape and size of Tennessee, the "Land of Liberty" has a population estimated at 1,000,000 to 1,500,000. Coastal areas are low, the hinterland rising to a plateau and mountain heights. Climate is hot, humid. Rainfall, heaviest from May to September, averages 160 to 180 inches a year. Malaria and sleeping sickness are problems.

Because of its rich soil, Liberia has been called the "Garden Spot of West Africa." Principal yields include coconuts, a good grade of coffee, considerable quantities of cocoa, cotton and rice. Trade in pepper—"Grains of Paradise"—earned for Liberia the name of "The Grain Coast." Goats, sheep and cattle find ready pasturage. Gold mining is important business. Iron ore is a latent resource. Diamonds, copper and zinc are other untapped wealth.

Junglelike forests are hard to convert to lumber. Forest products—jassaba fiber, and palm kernels—are collected for export. Annual production of rubber plantations, worked under concession to American interests, has quadrupled the yearly value of all other exports combined.

Meal Made Appealing
By Appearance of Food

Food prepared with thought for appearance plays an important part in giving a meal appetite appeal. Colors, shapes, textures and flavors deserve consideration. Contrast ends interest and careful blending of flavors can make interesting dishes from commonplace foods.

Reds, greens, yellows and white in various combinations are colors which should guide the planning of every menu when creamed meats or meat salads, which are light in color, are served. Vegetables should provide color and contrast in texture.

For example, a crisp, mixed vegetable salad or a green vegetable—peas, broccoli, asparagus, a yellow—carrots or corn, or a red vegetable—cabbage or beets, should be served with a creamed meat dish. A touch of green adds much to the appearance of food—a sprig of parsley or pieces of carrot tops can be used.

Spinach is a good basis for a mixed vegetable salad, and can be combined with other vegetables for budget salads. Thought should also be given to the shape of fruits and vegetables when planning a meal.

Retrieve Sea's Treasures

Within the last decade science has found ways to dip more deeply into the sea's store of dissolved treasures. First, in 1934, came the development of a huge plant on a North Carolina beach to extract bromine from sea water. Although there are only 65 parts of bromine in a million parts of sea water, the process has been successful and thousands of tons of bromine are extracted each year. Most of it is used in making anti-knock gasoline.

Most spectacular operation in "sea-mining" is producing solid, shiny magnesium metal from sea water. To meet a greatly increased demand for magnesium for airplane construction (it is one of the lightest of the metals) an extracting plant was set up on the shores of the Gulf of Mexico at Freeport, Texas. Approximately each 300 gallons of sea water pumped through gives up magnesium salts from which a pound of the metal is produced. Hundreds of millions of pounds of magnesium have been taken from the sea by this one plant.

Anthropoid Apes

Gibbons are anthropoid apes perhaps somewhat less closely related to man than are gorillas, orang utans, or chimpanzees. But they are strikingly human in the appearance of their faces, and in the upright posture that characterizes their walking. Their tree living habits have developed in their extraordinary length and power of the arms. They are entirely at home in tree tops, sleeping on limbs, and swinging from branch to branch, often along on well-defined aerial trails. The family parties are held together by the loud voices, which are used to emit what are apparently well-defined signals understood by the members of each individual family group.

Dry Cleaning in Germany

It has been estimated that civilian drycleaning in the Reich is down to less than 10 per cent of the pre-war figure. Schindler's, which was Berlin's biggest plant, closed more than two years ago. Plants in Hamburg, which supplies chlorine-type solvents to drycleaners throughout Germany, now no longer do so because these compounds are needed for cleaning war machine parts or else they are earmarked for the army. What little drycleaning is available in Germany is probably, according to this informant, carried on with bootleg kerosene.

Women Work in Aircraft

War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt reports that from 70 to 80 per cent of the new workers in the aircraft industry are women. Declaring that the production of aircraft is rapidly becoming a "women's industry," he revealed that women comprised approximately one-third of the workers now employed, the proportion running about 45 per cent in western plants, 33 per cent in the Middle West and 26 per cent in the East. It is probable that the proportion for the whole country will rise to 50 per cent by the end of 1943. Before the United States entered the war, only 2 per cent of aircraft industry workers were women.

NASSAGAWEYA

The third annual auction sale sponsored by the Busy Bees Club held each year in Brookville Hall gets better each year. Mr. Joseph Frank opened the evening's proceedings by a short speech in which he conveyed the thanks of the ladies to those who attend their money raising events and to those who donated articles for sale and the booth, to the men of Acton Legion who were conducting the Bingo and to Mr. J. Elliott who was in charge of the sale. Two hours of Bingo were then played with good prizes given, also two $5.00 special prizes which were won by Mr. H. C. Easley and Dr. Young who tied and divided the first prize and Donna Easterbrook winner of the second one. $14.53 was cleared from this part of the evening's work.

Mr. J. Elliott, Milton, auctioneer, soon disposed of several articles which included tools, homemade baking, sewing, vegetables, clothing, preserves, toys and games and knick-knacks. After deductions for materials and advertising the sale netted $34.00.

From the booth where the ladies sold hot dogs, pop and homemade baking the ladies cleared $6.00. A fish pond was conducted by one of the members and several dollars was cleared from it. Left-over articles are being sold privately. Mr. and Mrs. W. McLeod and Miss Isabelle donated $1.25 which brings the total proceeds to well over $57.00. Potatoes, aprons and cabbage were the best selling items. Receipts at the hall amounted to $81.10.

One of Nassagaweya's oldest and most respected residents, Mrs. Henry Davenport passed away at her home last Wednesday morning after suffering from an attack of pneumonia. She was in her 86th year and until the last illness was managing her own home and garden and even going to visit neighbors occasionally.

Mr. and Mrs. Davenport came from England 62 years ago. Her husband predeceased her ten years ago. Ten children blessed the home, four boys, Henry, Guelph; Fred, Windsor; Edwin, Nassagaweya and Lawrence, of Kitchener; and six girls, Eleanor (Mrs. Hardy) Port Huron, U. S. A.; Irene (Mrs. Ripply) Toronto; Eliza

MOFFAT

Moffat has been ablaze with autumn colors. These are the pleasant days "when every prospect pleases" and nature affords such a splendid environment for our enjoyment. However this wonderful scenery is fast changing to one of a more austere and naked appearance.

The harvest of field and garden for the most part has been gathered in, and once again Providence has dealt kindly with our community.

Many attended the Anniversary Services held at Campbellville in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday. The Thanksgiving season added much to the inspiration and enjoyment of the services.

Monday, the day set apart officially for National Thanksgiving was a beautiful day, and the hearts of our citizens were reminded of their bountiful land, and its freedom from the devastations of war.

The weather being so fine afforded an opportunity to friends from a distance to visit the people of our village.

Mr. and Mrs. Spears, of Hamilton, were guests of Mrs. Fraser and Kathryn.

Mrs. Isaac Adams, Fred and Ruth Adams and Beatrice Dawson, of Toronto, were visitors at the home of Rev. C. L. and Mrs. Poole.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach, of Hamilton,

Donald Ferguson read the address and Wallace Lasby made the presentation of a ring. L./Cpl. A. McPherson made a very feeling reply thanking all for the kind address and gift. Lunch was served and dancing and a social time was spent.

The Women's Association of Ebenezer United Church conducted a refreshment booth at Erin Fair on Monday with good success. Proceeds were for war work.

Owing to anniversary services at the Eden Mills United Church next Sunday, there will be no service in the Ebenezer United Church on Sunday.
