Brevities

The Princess Theatre has installed improved projection machines also a larger new beaded screen, providing a much more brilliant picture than formerly.

Decline General of Productive Land

There is no longer an abundance of good productive land to feed and clothe the peoples of the world, said Hugh H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, in a recent address. In fact, there was not a single acre to waste. Through the reports of 36 countries on soil conservation, it was known that soil was scarce throughout the world. There was barely enough to take care of the present populations if it were properly used, but it was still not being used properly.

In the United States alone, said Mr. Bennett, 230,000,000 acres of soil (land exceeding six times the area of New York State) had been ruined by poor cultivation or allowed to be devastated by erosion. The United States had only 460,000,000 acres of good farm land that would be sufficient to feed and clothe the population, if the soil was conserved and if the population became stabilized. Stabilization did not seem likely in the near future.

Industry and labor, as well as farmers, had a large stake in their country's soil. Business men and industrialists to-day were rightly concerned about their nation's productive soil and water resources. They realized as never before that these basic resources were linked directly to their country as a prosperous nation and the future of the world as a place for a growing civilization. Food played a large part in winning the war and it would play a large part in winning the peace.

Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director of Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, has repeatedly emphasized the damaging effects to farm lands in Canada from surveys and soil conservation. The soil erosion, and the need for soil soil is still Canada's greatest asset, he urges, and to assume that there are limitless areas of fertile land in Canada is dangerous. Soil fertility even in the most favored section of the country, is not being maintained to the extent necessary. Better farming practices are essential.

Quality Cheese From Cold Milk

The discovery that vigorous agitation of warm cheese milk would induce the development of rancid and unclean flavour defects in cheddar cheese was reported recently by the Division of Bacteriology and Dairy Research, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture. This research work has been extended to an investigation of various types of agitation such as might be encountered in the commercial handling of milk. In general, all types of agitation of warm cheese milk was found to be detrimental to cheese quality. As the temperature at which milk is agitated the flavour defects decrease in intensity; in other words, cheese of higher quality was obtained. In addition to scientific considerations, this research work is another reason for cooling cheese milk for production of high quality cheddar cheese.

3000 IN HALTON SEE FILMS OF THE NATIONAL FILM BOARD

With the first month of Film Showings sponsored by Halton Federation of Agriculture, in co-operation with the National Film Board, completed, the Fieldman reports that some three thousand people attended the meetings.

In the Fieldman's opinion, the films shown to the school children left in their minds information otherwise unobtainable except by travelling, which is possible for only a small percentage of our people. The interest and enthusiasm shown by all of the children, demonstrated a renewed interest in school life. In every group the children were very keen and eager to respond to questions on the films, asked immediately after each showing. The correct answers proved they had followed the pictures closely. A large number of schools are carrying on projects.

In summing up the suggestions of the teachers on future films, health, agriculture, and social studies predominated.

It is quite obvious from the discussion periods held at each evening meeting of the adults, and also from personal contact, that Halton Farmers agree that a sanely planned policy of reforestation is desirable. Our people seemed shocked at the enormous waste, both by fire and man, of Canada's vast timber wealth. The film "North West by Air," showing the development of the North West Territory by the state, created very interesting discussion as to who should continue the development of our Northern oil, mineral and timber wealth, the State, private individuals or corporations. The majority favored the state. Most of those undecided favored the state if they had assurance of a carefully planned policy of economy.

"Home to the Land," a film outlining the veteran's land act, proved to be of outstanding interest to Halton farmers. The unanimous opinion of all groups being that 6,000 dollars was inadequate to settle a soldier on a 100 acre or larger farm, also that after an environment of efficiency and mechanism for three four or five years, the soldier should be equipped for farm life in a like manner and his farm stocked with the type of stock recommended to other farmers by the Department of Agriculture in order that he will be interested and happy.

Our people also feel that all the nation's resources exercised to win the war should be utilized to hold the peace. Provision for emergency or cash capital seems to have been overlooked, also the soldier equity over and above the 6,000 dollars, whether his own or loaned to him by a relative or friend, should be protected.

H. Devlin of Milton on two and three year old heifers in milk. In the Jersey Calf Club, Sam Harrop of Milton, had the winning calf.

NOT VERY IMPORTANT

In this climate fuel bills are important, not the cost for any month. But a man was encountered the other day who had kept track of his monthly gas bills and had calculated the five-year average for each month.

It all comes under the head of what's interesting but not vital. The first fact is that, in Ontario at least, July is the only month which can be depended on not to go below 65 degrees outdoors and therefore not require some artificial heat indoors. August will take .3 per cent of the annual bill, September 2.9 per cent, October 6.7, November 12.3, December 15.6, January 18.4, February 17.3, March 14.2, April 8.2, May 3.7 and June 4 per cent.

"NEVER KNOWN A MAN HELPED BY DRINK"

A lot of men I have known, so far as I could see, have not been hurt by their use of strong drink. But I have never known a man who was helped by it. Certainly it has no place in the life of any athlete, and that includes professional baseball players. Physical fitness and alcohol don't mix. I know of two penants that were lost, as I view it, because one fellow on the club drank a bif, and then associated with someone with whom he would not have associated if he had not been drinking. This happened two different years in major league.—Branch Rickey, baseball executive, Christian Herald.
