Norval Anglican Church Marked its Centennial Sunday

Crowds Fill St. Paul's Church When Bishop of Niagara Is One of Guest Speakers

1846—Men, women, children, in farm wagons, buggies, on horseback, on foot, arriving in Norval valley on a day of sunshine; chime of a bell; double doors of a pine-girt, stucco, church edifice open wide; seats within filling steadily with worshippers—the Anglican Church of St. Paul, Norval, erected 1845-6, had been opened for its first service of Divine Worship according to the centuries-old rites and ceremonies of the ancient Church of England.

1946—Men, women, children, in automobile, motor-buses, on foot, arriving in Norval valley on a day of sunshine; chime of a bell; double doors of a pine-girt, stucco church edifice open wide; seats within filling steadily with worshippers—the Anglican Church of St. Paul, Norval, still open after 100 years, was celebrating its centennial. The date, Sunday, October 27th.

From distant parts of Ontario, from nearby farms, from sister churches of the Anglican Parish of Hornby and Stewarttown, from little villages and great cities, they came, former members of St. Paul's Norval, sons and daughters of the "old home church", rallying for the greatest day in its history. They came in hundreds, crowding the church to capacity at morning and evening services, gathering in groups before and after worship to talk over the "old days." It was the greatest gathering of Norval Anglicans in many years.

Choristers from the Anglican Church in Brampton, under their choir-master, with Mr. Charters Jr. as guest organist, led the singing at Morning Prayer, when the centennial preacher was the Rev. B. W. Horan, M.A., B.D. (Wycliffe College, University of Toronto). Taking as his text a passage from the Book of Hosea, Prof. Horan gave an inspiring address, calling for closer study of the Holy Bible to-day, stressing the fact that the forbears of the present congregation had been a "people of the Book", Bible-conscious Christians who could not face life in a new country without the organized system and uplifting influence of Church worship. "They carved out their farms, they built their churches, they bore their witness to Christ—an example to us all" declared the speaker.

The visit of the Right Reverend L. W. B. Broughall, M.A., D.D., Bishop of Niagara in the evening, saw the building packed to overflowing, many worshippers being placed in additional seats set in the aisle and before the pulpit. Special music was provided by organist Mrs. W. Bradley and visiting choir of St. George's Church, Georgetown, by kind permission of the Georgetown rector, the Ven. G. W. O. Thompson, Archdeacon of Halton and Wellington.

The robed choir of 27 choristers entered during the processional hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers." The great congregation sang full-throatedly, fervently. And in the deep and reverent hush that followed the "Amen", came the dignified, beautiful phrases and measured ritual of the Anglican "Order for Evening Prayer".

The deeper tones of men's voices blended with the clear voices of women and children in the General Confession, Lord's Prayer, Psalm 84 ("O how amiable are Thy dwellings, thou Lord of Hosts"), Magnificat, Nunc Dimittis, Creed, Responses, and General Thanksgiving. Scripture lessons and prayers were read by the officiant. And as the hymn "Jesus, keep me near the Cross" rang out like a cry from the heart to the Savior of Mankind, the Bishop of Niagara entered the pulpit.

"My dear people of St. Paul's, and you who have gathered in such large numbers on this great occasion," began Bishop Broughall, "I congratulate you most warmly on your 100th anniversary." Taking as his text, the words "The Lord preserve thy going out and thy coming in", His Lordship preached a deeply moving sermon, gripping and holding the attention of his listeners from first word to last. "There have been many 'comings in' and 'goings out' in this pioneer church. Generation after generation of Anglican families have entered this place of worship, and gone out to bear testimony to others of the saving power of Christ.

Bishop Broughall emphasized the great need there is to-day that all who name the Name of Jesus should bear their witness before the world. "We need active propagandists for Christ! Others, who teach not the Christ, are very active to-day. Pagan teaching is being spread amongst us with vigor and energy. We must meet it, all of us, with the clear teaching of the Cross and Resurrection of Christ the Lord! The pioneers who built this church lifted up before all men Jesus, the Light of the World! Keep that

Halton Swine Team Wins Provincial Championship

The provincial inter-club competitions for Ontario Club members in dairy cattle, beef cattle, swine, poultry, grain, potatoes, and clothing were held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on Friday of last week, 149 teams of two members each, participated in the day's program. These young people represented the 8437 young people enrolled in the 807 clubs organized in Ontario in 1946. Halton was represented by six teams in all, two being in dairy cattle, two in grain, and one each in both swine and clothing.

In the swine project, with 24 counties represented, the Halton team of Fraser McNabb, Georgetown, and Keith Merry, Hornby, won top honors. As a result, they held the Farmer Magazine Trophy, emblematic of the Provincial Championship for the ensuing twelve months. Incidentally, Fraser McNabb was the high man of the competition, with a score of 530½ points out of a possible 600. These two young men will now represent Ontario in the Inter-Provincial Club Competitions to be held at the Royal Winter Fair, on November 11th.

The Grain Club project brought out 31 teams, and here the Halton Grain Club Team of Carlo Toccalino of Bronte, and Douglas Currie of Georgetown, placed second to Brant County, the winner of the competition. Carlo Toccalino was the second high man of the competition, with a score of 533 out of a possible 600. Halton's second team composed of Geo. Wilson of Georgetown, and Victor Sterritt of Glen Williams, representing the Halton Galore Barley Club, placed tenth in the same contest.

In the Dairy Cattle project, with 38 teams competing, the Milton Holstein Calf Club was represented by Douglas Alexander of Georgetown, and Gordon Darby, of Rockwood, while the Halton Jersey Calf Club was represented by James Devlin of Milton, and Tom Alderson, of Hornby. While neither team achieved top honors, we understand they made an excellent showing in this strong competition.

Girls' Clothing Club also participated in the day's program. Top honors were won by a team representing the Vellore Club, of York County. Halton's team representing the Ashgrove Club, was composed of the Misses Jessie and Mae Wingfield, and they too made a most creditable and excellent performance.

In short, the twelve young people participating from Halton proved themselves worthy representatives of their fellow Club Members, and the County of Halton. Our sincere congratulations are extended not only to Fraser McNabb and Keith Merry on the honors they won for themselves and the County of Halton, but also to all Halton representatives, for a job well done.

Interesting Program At Meeting of Home and School Club

The October meeting of the Home and School Association, Milton Public School, held in the school last Wednesday evening, October 23rd, was well attended. Sixty-nine parents and friends were present to enjoy an excellent program. Mrs. McGrogan presiding, welcomed those present, especially any who were not previously acquainted in our association.

Rev. G. W. Porter was elected honorary President, to take the place of Rev. Mr. Kirk, recently removed to Hamilton.

Following the business portion of the meeting, a very fine solo "Summer Time" by Geo. Gershinov, was rendered by Mrs. Ken. Randall with an encore, "In the Garden Where the Praties Grow."

Mr. Foster spoke briefly, welcoming especially the parents of children in Grade I. He stressed the extreme importance of this grade in the life of the child. Our Grade I teachers, Mrs. McDowell and Mrs. Stephenson also spoke of the importance and the problems of the child's first year in school. Miss Chant, as school nurse had many interesting and helpful suggestions to offer in the care and health of the child so the complete success of this first year might be attained.

As supervisor of music in the schools, Mr. Pudwell gave an interesting and helpful message. A child should very early in life become acquainted with good music.

We are disappointed that Judge Mott will not be able to come to Milton till sometime in the early spring. Instead, a Father's program is being planned for November, when we hope to see a goodly number of fathers as well as mothers and friends.

To date a paid up membership of 43 is reported. Grades 8 and 2 were tied for the prize at this meeting, each with a representation of nine parents.

The meeting came to a close by the singing of "The King" followed by a social half hour, accompanied by a cup of tea.

Parents Go To Beverage Room and Neglect Children

In Milton Magistrate's Court last Wednesday, Robert Newell and his wife Gladys jointly charged with neglecting their three children, pleaded guilty and were fined $20 and costs or 15 days. According to Chief G. W. Canning the pair left their children in a car without lunch, during a thunderstorm while they were in a local beverage room.

"I received two calls from citizens about the children left in a car in front of a hotel," the chief testified. "The children told me their mother and father were in the hotel, and they were cold and hungry."

Both parents admitted being in the beverage room but denied the children were hungry. "They were fed at 12 o'clock," Mrs. Newell said.

"There will be a conviction" ruled the court, "people don't make complaints to police unless there is a reason for it. If you continue to neglect the children the court can take the children away, and place them where they will be properly cared for," Magistrate Langdon added.

Hippolyte Chraleboise, 18, of Aymer, Que., was sent to jail for 30 days when he pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing $5 from Mrs. Mary Montgomery, Oakville, last October 6th. Pleading guilty to five charges of stealing various articles on October 12 from the home of William Boissette, Oakville, he was placed on suspended sentence and probation for a year. He was also ordered to make restitution. The youth admitted to police he took the articles while attending a party at Boissette's home.

A charge of neglecting their children, against Clarence and Agnes Morley, was adjourned a week, on request of the defendant.

John C. Stover, 21, who is charged with assaulting Police Constable Sam Brush occasioning bodily harm, appeared before the magistrate and was remanded a week on request of Crown Attorney W. I. Dick. The crown stated it was unable to proceed as the chief witness was still confined to hospital. He is also charged with consuming liquor in an illegal place.

According to Chief Canning, Const. Brush was struck from behind following an argument at the town hall following a regular Saturday evening dance. It is alleged the constable was knocked down the front steps at the entrance of the hall. He was admitted to Milton Private Hospital suffering a back and scalp injury.

Convicted on a charge of concealing the birth of a child, Ruby Walker, 26, Nassagaweya was remanded a week in custody for sentence.

THIS WEEK BY EDGAR SIMON Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Good news came to Ontario and Quebec householders with an indication from Reconstruction Minister Howe last week-end that the threat of a fuel famine had apparently ended. Mr. Howe announced the end of fuel restrictions imposed in 1943. Only remaining restriction is that 20 per cent. of requirements must be accepted in inferior or Class "C" fuel.

The change in regulations was accompanied by a warning that there is no guarantee that the fuel will be available. Fuel estimates to date give a more definite assurance that no one will go short as far as quantity is concerned, though there may be some deterioration in quality.

Mr. Howe warned last August that stocks in the central provinces were 17 per cent. below requirements and that shipments of bituminous coal were 3,000,000 tons below normal. However, the backlog has since been made up by increased imports of anthracite coal from the United States and an effort by the railways to offset shortages caused by the Great Lakes shipping strike.

Mr. Howe's announcement said a decrease of low volatile coal supplies is expected and there will be a shortage of coals such as Pocahontas. But the overall picture was considered somewhat better than last November.

Recommendations which may lead to a big step forward in the preservation of Northern Ontario's forests are being heard by the Royal Commission on Forest Resources which is holding hearings at a number of northern cities.

At the time of Mr. McLintock's retirement last March a group of his friends got together to plan some sort of civic recognition of his service to the town during his 16 years here as manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.
