Oakville's Junior "C" entry, who flaunted such an imposing record were eliminated by Victoria Square on Friday night. The Lakeshore Club were beaten by one goal in their first loss of the season. Tying the first meet with Stouffville (Victoria Square) Oakville lost the second in a goals to count round by 8-7. It is too bad the O.H.A. can not devise some means by which teams who definitely are superior to the run-of-the-mill material might be given a better chance to prove their worth. Ah me! Such is hockey.

Georgetown took the first round of the Intermediate "A" playdowns by defeating Stratford 5-4 on Monday night. The team from our neighboring town had won the opener by 9-2 on their home ice only to be laced by Stratford 9-5 in the second meet played on the latter's arena. In the final clash on Monday, the Paper-makers clinched the series by scoring a goal in the last three minutes of play, barely eeking out a win. Unfortunately the Legion crew did not present a complete picture of "A" hockey to the Georgetown fans, mainly because the majority of players hail from a house-league maintained in the precincts of Stratford. Whoever the Mercantiles meet next will probably hand out an exhibition of brand "A". We wish you the best in your next series, Georgetown and continued success.

We can't give readers any insight into the championship picture seeing as every "B" squad is playing off in some sort of a way and with our efforts to collect a summary of remaining teams, we only added to the confusion. Grimsby and Markham appear to be the teams to beat. Each of the forementioned clubs are sweeping their respective series clean, handing out defeats in every game they play. The Peach Kings are a formidable aggregation and after eliminating Brantford are tussling with the Tanners in a total goal series. Two faces on the Grimsby club might strike a responsive note in many fans — Mattison and Hale. Both of these were members of last year's Milton entry into Group 5. You remember the county town's ace trio—McMunn, Mattison and Hale—well then, perhaps, it gives you an idea of the strength of the fruit belt sextette.

INTERNATIONAL PRIZE FOR INSECT PICTURE

At an International Congress on Scientific Films held recently in Paris France, the Dominion Department of Agriculture two reel motion picture entitled "Vegetable Insects" was awarded first prize. This documentary film in color shows close-ups of a wide range of insects which are destructive to vegetable crops in Canada and the most practical methods of control in home and commercial gardens. All of what may be termed the staging of the picture was arranged and supervised by three officers of the Dominion Division of Entomology, Alan G. Dustan, W. S. Matthewman and J. P. Pearson.

On Tuesday the County Council of Halton granted $100 to the East India Famine Relief Fund. Rev. Robert Haddow will be inducted as pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Watford on April 6th. He will carry with him the best wishes of his old congregation of Knox Church and the people of Milton generally. The postponed carnival was held at the rink on Tuesday evening. There were some pretty costumes and Bob Dewar's hobby horse was a feature. The prizes were as follows: Best Dressed Lady, Miss Bennett; Best Dressed Gent, Wm. Winn; National Costume, E. Winn. Beck of Brampton won the 3 mile race and Hillyard Bowman the one mile. Chas. Jones lit a fire with coal oil last Tuesday and a flash of fiery gas flew into his face. His moustache was singed close to his lip, his throat was scorched and his hands burnt, but all burns were very slight.

PROPER COOKING RETAINS FOOD VALUES

In these days of climbing food costs, wise homemakers know that correct cooking methods are as important as proper food selection and good meal planning.

Many of the food values present in raw food can be lost before that food reaches the table unless particular care is taken in preparation and cooking. For instance—

Do not soak vegetables before cooking. If you must pare vegetables, pare thinly and cook immediately after paring.

If you must pare fruit, pare thinly, and immediately prior to eating. Cook vegetables as quickly as possible.

Avoid overcooking—cook until just barely tender.

Steam vegetables rather than drown them in water. Put them in boiling water which does not quite cover them and cook them in a tightly covered saucepan. Where spinach is concerned, no water is needed other than the moisture on the leaves after washing.

Save the water in which vegetables are cooked and use in cream sauces, gravies and soups.

Never add soda to cooking vegetables. It may preserve the color but it destroys the vitamins.

Try to cook the right amount for each meal. This avoids waste and resultant expense. Also storing and reheating causes loss of vitamins.

During many months of the year more water evaporates from the Great Lakes than flows over Niagara Falls.

DON'T WAIT FOR SNAILS

Queensland (Australia) farmers and agricultural authorities are on the lookout to prevent the introduction of giant snails into the mainland from the adjacent island of New Guinea where they have over-run a large area. These snails were originally taken to New Guinea by the Japanese who used them as food, the Australian High Commissioner in Ottawa reports.

PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN BROTHERHOOD

Golden Text.—Holy Father, keep them in thy name which thou hast given me, that they may be one, even as they are. Jno. 17: 11.

Lesson Text.—Jno. 17: 1-11, 20-23. Time.—Wednesday morning, April 5, A. D. 30.

Place.—By the brook Kidron. Exposition.—I. Prayer to the Father, 1-3.

The hour that Jesus had looked forward to from the beginning with mingled longing and dread has at last come. His crucifixion, in which in awful agony of body and soul He was to complete His redemptive work, was at hand. He begins His prayer by asking that He might Himself be glorified, but it was not a selfish prayer: He prayed that He might be glorified in order that He might, in turn, glorify the Father. The Father had given Jesus authority over all mankind in order that He should give eternal life to everyone that believed, who constituted the elect company whom the Father had given unto Him. The Deity of Christ Jesus comes out plainly in His statement that He possesses the power to give eternal life. His subordination to the Father comes out in the fact that this divine authority was given to Him by the Father, and had its original source in Him. The phrase "all whom thou hast given me" teaches plainly that there is a body of believers whom God has chosen out of the world and given to Christ, and many and glorious are the privileges of that body (chs. 6: 37, 39; 10: 28, 29; 17: 6, 9, 11, 12, 14, 24). Anyone can make it sure that he himself belongs to that elect body by listening to and learning from the Father, and thus coming to Jesus (Jno. 6: 37, 45; Rev. 22: 17). V. 3 gives us a wonderful definition of eternal life: it consists in knowing the only true God, and Jesus Christ.

II. Christ's Testimony on Earth, 4-8.

It was on the cross that Jesus finished the work that the Father had committed to Him (ch. 19: 30). Because He had accomplished the work the Father gave Him to do, and thus glorified the Father, He could now ask the Father to glorify Him with Himself. The glory with which the Father would now glorify Him was the same glory that He had with the Father before the world was. This glory He had voluntarily put aside that He might redeem us (Phil. 2: 6-8; 2 Cor. 5: 21), but now this work of redemption was accomplished, or would be the next day, when He died on the cross; so God will restore to Him the glory that He gave up to accomplish (Phil. 2: 9-11).

Jesus now turns from praying for Himself to praying for His immediate followers; but before asking the Father to do for them, He recounts what He Himself had done for them; He had manifested the Father's name to them. The name stands for the nature and character as revealed (Ex. 3: 13-15; 34: 5-7). Jesus had revealed to them the nature and character of God. This lay at the foundation of all that He had done for them. While Jesus on His part had revealed God to them, they on their part had kept God's Word.

III. Prayer for Disciples, 9-11.

He prayed for no others than those described in vs. 6-8 (Heb. 7: 25; 9: 24). It was because they were the Father's ("thine") that Jesus prayed for them. It is another wonderful word that Jesus speaks in vs. 10, "All things that are mine are thine." In those who are God's own and Christ's own, Christ Himself is glorified (Gal. 1: 23, 24; Phil. 1: 20). Note carefully for what He prays: He prays for the Father Himself to keep them and to keep them in His own name (i.e., by His own revealed person and character) (Prov. 18: 10). Of course, the Father heard this prayer, for He hears Jesus always (ch. 11: 42). Therefore, the believer is eternally safe; for he is eternally kept by the Father's power and character in answer to Jesus' prayer (Jno. 10: 29; 1 Pet. 1: 5; Jude 24; 1 Cor. 10: 13).

The purpose of the Father's keeping was in order that they might be "One." In this we see how God the Father and Christ the Son long for the unity of believers (vs. 21, 22). It is only through God's keeping that believers can be truly one; the Devil and our own hearts are always leading us to division. During Jesus' stay with the disciples He had Himself kept them, and as a result of the keeping "Not one" of them perished. "The son of perdition" perished, but the Greek construction here used does not imply that he was one of them whom the Father had given to Christ and whom He had eternally kept.

Judas is a shocking revelation of how close a man may get to Christ and yet never allow Christ to enter the heart. See to it that Christ has entered your heart (Rom. 10: 10-13).

APPLE JUICE SYRUP

In the fruit products laboratory at the Dominion Experimental Station at Kentville, N.S., a method has been devised by which an edible syrup can be prepared from apple juice. The syrup was used commercially as a sweetening agent for soft drinks. The process is undergoing trial on a commercial scale.

FASHION IS THE NEWS

- Fashion is in a hat: a newly neat little hat that caps closely to the head, or a wide, ribboned and flower-burdened brim.
- Fashion is in a coat: a coat casual as a cloud, loose and easy and palely coloured, or fitting carefully as a dress, adroitly tucked and softly gathered.
- Fashion is in a suit: a suit with a dandy's mien—dapper and dashing, thin through the waist and sharply cut-away.
- Fashion is in a skirt: in a cigarette silhouette or the fluid flaring of pleats.
- Fashion is the new lengthening of a waistline, the new covering of a foot, the new narrowing of shoulders.
