CROP CONDITIONS IN U. S. AND CANADA

Despite unfavorable planting and growing conditions throughout much of the United States until the middle of June, farmers have planted relatively large areas that are expected to yield a slightly higher harvest than in 1946. Somewhat improved labor conditions and the larger supplies of agricultural machinery and spare parts have assisted the farmers in planting their crops under difficult weather conditions. A wider knowledge of domestic and foreign demands for foodstuffs and feed has also contributed.

In Canada the Bureau of Statistics issued a report on the Canadian prairie provinces indicating that prolonged cool weather has retarded crop growth, which was then some two weeks behind normal. Recent rains, combined with high temperatures made for a brighter outlook. Pastures are in good condition and prospects for the hay crop have improved considerably.

Heather has been found suitable for making synthetic flooring.

YOUTH AND MONEY

During recent years many boys and girls have been able to earn their spending money by taking jobs in various employments. It is important that they should learn to use this money wisely. Some are inclined to let it slip through their fingers too easily, and to do extravagant things with it. It is a fine idea if they would save a good part of it for their education.

Thrift is still an important virtue. The young people who are saving money regularly are acquiring an excellent habit. Times may not always be as prosperous as they are now, and if they have accumulated sizeable savings, these will help if later they want to go to college or take some professional or vocational course.

FOR YOUNG TRAVELLERS

A wait between trains in a strange city with a couple of children in tow is a prospect grim enough to appal the most competent young mother, but from now on the new three-room nursery in the Canadian Pacific Railway's Windsor Station in Montreal will give both parent and youngster a chance to rest, relax and freshen up before continuing their journey. The nursery is in charge of a trained matron, and its play-room (top) is equipped with an indoor slide, blocks, and toys with which the kiddies can be turned loose. The "quiet" room (lower left) has cots for the children to sleep in and chairs for their mothers to relax. Two diminutive tubs are provided in the bathroom (lower right) where a young lady, from Northern Ontario en route to Nova Scotia, is seen bathing her 14-month-old boy. A hot plate, bottle warmer and sterilizer are available for preparing milk and formulas, and the rooms are all decorated with pictures and "transfers" of animals and children. Miss Ethel Alexander, R.N., the matron-in-charge, who can be seen in the upper picture, keeps an eye on the children while mothers go about errands in the station—seeing about tickets or having a meal.
