ROASTERS FOR MARKET

When rearing chickens to roasting size, certain practices are advisable so as to obtain the most profit. The scarcity of protein feeds emphasizes the need to use other sources usually available on farms. By supplementing a simple and cheap ration with alfalfa and skim milk, cockerels under test at the Dominion Experimental Station at Harrow, Ont., showed a higher rate of growth than did birds deprived of these supplements, says W. Mountain, Head Poultryman.

Good pasture, skim milk or butter-milk and early morning freedom to search for insects before the heat of the day, do much to promote growth. Overcrowding, fighting and vermin are common, though easily rectified, causes of retarded growth.

With heavy breeds the most rapid gains are made during the first five months. Two or three weeks more on a wet fattening mash will provide the nice finish preferred by the consumer.

During the fattening period exercise should be reduced by confining the birds to pens, or if time is available, fattening crates provide an even better environment for maximum gains and finish.

Dry picking presents a dressed bird with its natural bloom unimpaired, although the semi-scald method, when properly applied, is accepted by some markets for quick sale. The grading of chickens is based largely on appearance and the blemishes caused by over-scalding may cause an otherwise choice carcass to fall in a lower grade.

FIDELITY

The world places a high value on fidelity. The people who try to perform every task faithfully, to do the best job that it is possible to do, to give the full value for all money they receive, find themselves highly popular with the public and their employers.

There are some who are content to slight their work, to give as little as possible in return for what they get. The faithful people shine in contrast with these. The people who can be depended upon to do the best possible work, are likely to find steady jobs at good pay, and they have the best chance for promotion and better opportunities.

Milton Owls Lost Game With Hespeler Thursday Night

Errors proved costly to the Milton Owls softball entry in the O.A.S.A. play-offs, when they lost the second game eliminating them from the series over at the ball park last Thursday evening. Only one run was earned by the visitors, the Hespeler Fire-Department entry, coming in the second inning.

The contest got off to a bad start as the visitors were late in arriving. Immediately taking the field, they objected to the hurler's box, namely that there was no slab. The official umpire announced to the crowd the game was being played under protest, as Manager Pete McMullen dashed to the field to inform the officials they could take the game by default as it was a half hour late in starting. The rules stipulate a fifteen minute period of grace is allowed to field a team. Therefore Manager McMullen argued, the game was not ready to start until another fifteen minutes had elapsed, and Milton was entitled to the contest by the rule. Hespeler agreed to continue the game without further ado.

It was a fast contest with Hurler Coulson not receiving the support he deserved. Hespeler grabbed two runs in the second on an error, a hit and a three bagger. They picked up a singleton after Anderson and Naylor let pop flies get away from them. An extra run crossed the plate when Anderson dropped his second after running thirty feet. Two more sauntered home in the seventh as Hearn's threw wild to first and Knight was wild on a heave to the plate.

The Owls grabbed off eight hits but were unable to capitalize with them. Charles Fay grabbed a two sacker in the first frame and Eric Toletzka smashed out a homer in the third. Milton's other run counted in the second inning on Blinco's safety.

The teams:

Hespeler Firemen — Watson ss; Hurst cf; Wildfong 3b; Stark rf; Prior p; Klein lf; Bates 2b; Wier 1b; Sprung c.

Milton Owls—Peddie ss; C. Fay c; Toletzka cf; Coulson p; Naylor rf; Anderson 2b; Blinco 1b; Knight lf.

Umpire—Somerville of Hamilton.

MEN OF MAGNIFICENT PREJUDICES

The success of motion picture versions of literary classics arouses some wonder that there are not more of them, if only because the studios pay nothing in royalties to the estates of William Shakespeare and Charles Dickens. There are thousands of good stories waiting for the movie camera and a sympathetic director; much better than any that are being written to-day, in the opinion of at least one old fogey.

If his opinion is correct, there may be at least two reasons to account for it. One is that the quill pen, or even a steel nib, is better suited to the production of literature than the typewriter or the ball point. The other is that the old stories were written without any thought of the movies in the author's mind. The modern writer, if he wants to win success in Hollywood, must respect Hollywood's taboos. He becomes so nervous about what he mustn't say that too infrequently what remains for him to say isn't worth saying.

Shakespeare, Dickens, Thackeray and the rest were men of magnificent prejudices and they had no shyness about expressing them in their writing. True, they did not go out of their way to offend any race or class or religion, but neither did they try to soften what they thought or tone down a necessary character because somebody might be offended. And although Thackeray's portrait of the late Miss Pinkerton is far from flattering to schoolmistresses, Vanity Fair is usually on the supplementary reading lists of present-day schools.

Perhaps, when Hollywood and its writers get over their unreasoning nervousness about who may take offense at what, we'll get modern works for the screen as good as the classics. Or the domination of Hollywood over this continent's theatres may be broken. It has been challenged already. Two of the best pictures of the past year are English productions

GROCERIES EASIER TO GET, HARDER TO PAY FOR

A Canada-wide survey of grocery wholesalers and retailers shows that housewives are encountering few difficulties in buying what food they like to-day; but they are running into price advances in nearly all lines, Canadian Grocer reports.

Salmon, tapioca, rice and canned corn are still scarce but they are rapidly catching up. Ontario retail grocery prices are found to be up about 6% over last year in voluntary chain stores and about 13% in a corporate chain. Biggest gains are in jams, coffee and shortening.

Many of these increases are due to removal by the government of subsidies which formerly supported the market and kept retail levels down, the grocery business paper points out. If these formerly controlled items were omitted from the list, increases in other lines would be scarcely noticeable.

QUIET WEDDING CEREMONY PERFORMED AT BRIDE'S HOME LAST TUESDAY

An interesting event took place on Tuesday, August 26th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Dolby, when their only daughter Ada Elizabeth was married to Mr. Albert Wesley Prentice of Sudbury. Rev. Mr. Moore of Waterdown officiated in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends of the bride. The ceremony was performed in the living room before a bank of ferns and pink and white gladioli.

The bride was gowned in pale blue taffeta with fitted bodice and full skirt and wore a finger-tip veil of pale blue with wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and gladioli. The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret McDougall, wore yellow brocade taffeta with a wreath of yellow daisies and carried a bouquet of mauve gladioli. The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Mr. Melville Dolby. The bride's father gave his daughter in marriage.

The groom's sister, Mrs. R. Archibald of Copper Cliff played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mrs. J. McDougall of Oakville sang "Through the Years."

Following the ceremony, refreshments were served on the lawn. The bride changed to a navy suit with pink blouse and navy accessories for going away. After their honeymoon the bride and groom will reside in Sudbury.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB CONDUCTS BOOTH AT TORONTO EXHIBITION

The executive of the local Women's Canadian Club met recently to plan for the new season. They hope to have an interesting and varied program throughout the year. Contacts have been made for several lectures and September will bring a witty lecturer whose verse has already made her well known and loved.

The Club hopes this year to increase its membership and arrange an hour of meeting convenient for the majority.

For the first time the Association of Canadian Clubs is taking part in the Canadian National Exhibition. A booth in the Women's Building conducted by Women's Canadian Club volunteers will be an attractive spot with its exhibit. Many women from all parts of the Dominion will want to include this in their tour.

NEW SUPPORT FOR MARGARINE

New support for the pro-margarine forces has arisen from the negotiations with Newfoundland on the subject of confederation. It appears that some 80 per cent. of Newfoundlanders "butter" their bread with margarine, says Canadian Grocer editorially. Because of its cheapness, it is preferred by many. It costs 25-41c per pound, compared with 80-85c for imported Canadian butter. The Newfoundland commission, recently in Ottawa, was reported to have asked for a guarantee that oleo can be continued to be made and sold there. It would be interesting if Newfoundland - Canadians were permitted to make and eat margarine and the rest of us denied that privilege.

Recent bad weather, particularly in Ontario and Quebec might cut feed grain and hay crops, with a resultant decrease in butter production this fall and winter, with the possible need for more butter to be imported as last year. At that time we obtained considerable from New Zealand. Many thought this action unfair to the U.K. as they felt this butter should have gone there rather than come to Canada. If a shortage of butter should come about this fall, many would rather see margarine produced in Canada than for us to import butter from other Empire countries.

"Aside from the fact that margarine may become something of a necessity it's quite evident that the ban on production and sale in this country makes Canada unique. It could also be interpreted as an 'unfair trade practice.'"

"There can be no logical justification for banning any wholesome and nutritious food," the grocery paper concludes.

SILKWORMS MAY PROVIDE MATERIAL FOR THE ROYAL WEDDING GOWN

It is possible that the material for Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown will be made by Britain's silkworms. At Lullingstone Castle, in Kent, there is a colony of 4,000,000 who have already provided silks for a previous State occasion. They made the fabric for the robes worn by the Queen and the two Princesses at the Coronation, each cocoon producing two miles of thread. Enough raw silk is already set aside for Princess Elizabeth's dress.

BRITAIN HELPS TO MAKE SEAS SAFE AGAIN

The vast minesweeping operation which is making the oceans safe again for world shipping is now nearing completion. The fleets of 13 nations are co-operating in this work of which the largest share has fallen to Britain's Royal Navy. It is the biggest job of mine clearance in history and aims at freeing all European waters for unrestricted movement of shipping by next year. To-day, after two years of patient labor always under the threat of sudden danger, 140,000 square miles are now entirely clear of mines.
