BORN

McDONALD — At Mrs. Rasberry's Nursing Home, on Thursday, August 28th, 1947, to Mr. and Mrs. Russell McDonald, a son, John Robert.

MORRISON — To Mr. and Mrs. G. Morrison at Mrs. Rasberry's Nursing Home on Thursday, August 28, 1947, twin sons, one stillborn.

IN MEMORIAM

AUGER—In loving memory of a dear brother and uncle, Pte. Arthur George Auger, who gave his life in France, September 4th, 1914, while serving with the Queen's Own Rifles.

We've gotten over many things, Some big and small, it's true, But we never will get over The shock of losing you.

Ever remembered by Harry, Marguerite and the boys.

AUGER—In loving memory of our dearly beloved son and brother, Arthur George Auger, who gave his life in France, September 4th, 1914, while serving with the Queen's Own Rifles.

You are always in our minds, no matter what we do, All the time within our hearts there are thoughts of you, Never for a moment are you very far away.

Absent and yet near you seem and dearer every day, And when God calls us home to you, Your smile will guide the way.

Dearly beloved and always remembered by Mum, Dad and Charlie.

AUGER—In loving memory of my dearly beloved husband, Arthur George Auger, who gave his life in France, September 4th, 1914, while serving with the Queen's Own Rifles.

When I look upon your picture, Sweet memories I recall, Of a face so full of sunshine, And a smile for one and all.

Sometimes when shadows cross my path,

As shadows sometimes do, I reach my hand across the mist And touch the hand of you.

Soon by your grave I hope to stand, And try in vain to understand, Why one so young, so true, so kind, A resting place so soon should find.

Forgive me, Lord, as in tears I pray, He was so good, why couldn't he stay.

Dearly loved and always remembered by your wife, Laurnette.

AUGER—In loving memory of our dear son-in-law, Arthur George Auger, who gave his life in France, September 4th, 1914, while serving with the Queen's Own Rifles.

We didn't see him on the train, When he left for camp that day, We didn't see him on the ship As it gently sailed away.

He was a Queen's Own Rifles boy, Who marched away so full of joy, Three years ago his marching ceased, For him had come everlasting peace.

You died for a cause you knew was right, You did not hesitate,

You fought a brave and valiant fight, Your deeds we still relate.

For with a courage unsurpassed, You gave your life that peace might last.

Sadly missed and always remembered by Mum, Dad Wilson and family.

Obituary

MRS. J. E. WHITELOCK

This community was indeed saddened by the word last week that Mrs. J. E. Whitelock had passed away on Monday, August 25th at the Private Patients Pavilion of Toronto General Hospital, where she had been for treatment. She had not been enjoying good health for some time, but her cheerful disposition never gave indication of this to friends.

Born in Brampton, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Gibson Taylor, Beulah Eileen Whitelock was forty-five years of age. For the past thirteen years Mr. and Mrs. Whitelock have been esteemed residents of Milton. Active in Women's Institute work, she has served as secretary for Mountain Union W.I. and at the time of her death was Secretary-Treasurer of Halton District W.I. She took a keen and helpful interest in church and other phases of work for community betterment and was a real helpmate to her husband in the home and in his work as Agricultural Representative of Halton. She will indeed be missed by a wide circle of friends who share with the husband, son, and members of the family the loss they have sustained. Surviving are her husband and one son, James L.; a sister, Miss Thelma Taylor of Brampton and a brother G. W. Taylor of Montreal.

The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon with service at the home on Queen Street and service conducted by a former pastor, Rev. J. B. Moore of Waterdown. Mrs. Whitelock was a member of St. Paul's United Church, Milton. Here many friends gathered in tribute to a life they honored and in sympathy with the bereaved. A wealth of floral tributes also bore testimony of esteem. Interment was in Brampton Cemetery.

The pall bearers were Messrs. W. E. Breckon, Freeman; R. S. Duncan and C. D. Graham of Toronto; Edwin Harrop, Milton; W. H. Robinson, Georgetown and Frank Stark, Milton.

LAST CHANCE

Good clerical employees are hard to get but a departmental supervisor in one of the life insurance companies is getting fed up with his temperamental assistant.

"Listen," he told him the other day, "I don't care how good you are. You've been coming in late in the mornings, you take too long lunch hours, and sometimes you don't even bother to show up for work at all. I'm telling you right now, I don't like it."

The assistant listened in stony silence. Then he said "Boss—I'm going to give you one more chance."

Council Approves Paying of the Hydro Commissioners

Council will submit the question anew at the 1947 elections. Council decided to have the front street business section swept every morning.

A letter from Mr. Elliott for Mr. Restivo complained of the parking in front of his driveway. This matter was left in the hands of Chief Canning.

The matter of a walk into Mr. Restivo's property was settled and Mr. Restivo was instructed to install a plank culvert in his walk to the street for draining of surface water.

Mayor Gowland gave a short resume of the Ontario Municipal Association convention held in Brantford last week.

FLY TRAPS OUTDATED

With cooler weather setting in, flies are beginning to swarm into the interior of rural and urban homes. In the past, irate householders battled the pests with poisonous pads, spiral stickers, gluey sheets of flypaper and fly swatters.

All these weapons have now been outdated by the chemists. To-day, household sprays containing five per cent. DDT not only kill the flies but remain a threat to the flies' existence for several weeks.

Through the efforts of the white-coated men who are continuously juggling test tubes in search of new discoveries, fly sprays containing DDT have been so formulated that when they are sprayed as a mist on walls and ceilings of homes, they do not stain. Close inspection with the aid of a powerful lens may reveal tiny specks of DDT which in themselves are lethal to flies. So potent is this insecticide it is not necessary for the flies to eat it. By merely getting it on the pads of their feet they will be killed. Since these small particles on the wall remain toxic from two to six weeks, fly protection is afforded that length of time.

While DDT is sure death to flies it does not kill them as quickly as many other insecticides. To overcome this disadvantage scientists have added pyrethrum, an insecticide of plant origin. Pyrethrum is a fast acting insecticide which assists the action of DDT by knocking flies down almost instantly. A pyrethrum - DDT fly spray, with its combination of deadliness and knockout power, forms an excellent chemical fly swatter in any home.

Nine billion dollars was spent in U.S.A. in 1946 for liquor.

The LETTER BOX

Editor of the Champion: On Sunday evening the Lorne Scots Band gave what they intended as a treat for the Milton people in the form of a band concert. This was widely advertised and was a splendid concert by a grand band if you could have heard it. There was a good crowd, but I'm sure they were as thoroughly disgusted as the band must have been by the rowdiness of the young boys. I've never witnessed the like. Surely if the parents accept no responsibility or consider other people the town could have provided someone with authority to keep order. Milton could do with a few more such evenings.

A Music Lover

BACK FROM STUDY OF MOSQUITOES, ETC. AT CHURCHILL, MAN.

Anyone going into Canada's north country in the early summer has found the onslaughts of black flies and mosquitoes almost intolerable. For the permanent residents of these northern districts there is little escape from the pests. With the object of making a study of these biting insects and developing an experimental control program a joint Canadian - United States party of experts recently visited Churchill, Man., arriving there in May, 1947.

Black flies breed in great numbers in streams and rivers in the Churchill region, and the species most annoying to humans was on the wing by the first week of July. From that time on the black flies became increasingly troublesome and persons not adequately protected were severely bitten. Local residents reported that the insects persist, but in diminishing numbers, until the snow flies.

Eighteen repellents were tried out in field tests against mosquitoes and black flies and several of them gave protection for from five to six hours under experimental conditions. It was found that mosquitoes apparently bite more readily through woollen than cotton clothing, and that the application of repellent to the outside of the clothing has definite protective value. Black flies, on the other hand show a preference for getting inside the clothing, so repellent applied to the exposed skin and outside of the clothing does not always give complete protection from bites.

Just now the impossible is necessary. Only free men give full production. Peanuts are called ground nuts in England.

PURE PEPPER AVAILABLE BUT PRICES HIGH

Paul Sykes, Canadian trade commissioner in Singapore, reports that there is no basis for the apprehension regarding world supplies of pepper and the possible necessity for the continued use of wartime substitutes. There are ample supplies of various types of pepper available for immediate export from Singapore, and prospective Canadian buyers can be supplied with firm orders at any time, though prices are comparatively high. Despite reported shortages and keen demand in Canada and the United States, no business worth mentioning is being done in either of these markets at present.

RIGHT IDEA ON MONEY

It is desirable that boys and girls grow up with right ideas about money. There is a golden mean between parsimony and extravagance which it is well to attain. People need their fun and amusement, and such things give zest to life. Those who are too close with their money find that this trait does not help them to make friends.

It is well for youth to consider the great number of people who formed the habit in early life of saving money, and how it has helped countless numbers of them to get the education that fitted them for increased usefulness, and enabled them to obtain better jobs and better opportunities to earn money. It is an important art to handle money wisely, and one that is worthy of careful study.

Road tests now being carried out by the Canadian Pacific Railway with diesel-electric locomotive 1501 if successful may revolutionize rail motive power in the Dominion. In this layout (left), the engine is leaving the Farnham, Que. yards on its first test hauling 40 loaded box cars, with Engineer N. Roy (top right) at the

HUMAN DIFFERENCES

The people of an advanced country may feel that they are mentally very superior to those of backward and undeveloped peoples. If education was given generally in those backward countries, the people of those lands would show enormous improvement. They might not be far below the average level of intelligence in Canada. The people in advanced communities may feel that they have reached a higher level of intelligence than those who have not had such good opportunities, but if the young people who have lacked opportunity were given the same advantages that the bright and progressive home and community offer, they might come out as well. There are great possibilities everywhere in human life, if it can have the opportunity for development.

MORE EGGS AND BACON FOR BRITAIN

Eggs and bacon — the traditional breakfast dish of the Englishman — are to be more plentiful in Britain. This will be the result of the new ration allowance for pigs and poultry just announced by the Minister of Agriculture. Farmers will now be able to keep four pigs where they only kept three last winter and 24 chickens as against 20. Increased scales for feeding stuff rations will come into force from the beginning of next month. The effect of this two-fold addition to the ration will make possible a 20 per cent. expansion in Britain's pig and poultry population.
