An Excavation of a Indian Ossuary

During the month of January, the Special Exhibition Gallery of the Royal Ontario Museum of Archaeology will display the results of an excavation conducted by the Museum in the summer of 1947 in Tiny Township, Simcoe County, where an Indian ossuary or bone-pit was partially explored. It was the custom of the Hurons at the time of the arrival of the first Europeans to bring together the remains of all those who had died during the preceding eight or ten years and, holding an elaborate, week-long ceremony, to reinter them in a large pit, burying them with many of the articles which the dead had used in this life and were believed to require in the life beyond the grave. Such ceremonies were held, as a rule, about every ten years, at which time all villages within a radius of ten or twelve miles participated. The Hurons always referred to the event as "The Feast of the Kettle" since the essential function was to bid farewell to the departed in a great, final feast.

The excavation of this particular ossuary has special significance, in that it is believed to be the one associated with the village called Ossossane by the Hurons, New Rochelle by the French and La Conception by the Jesuits. Both the Recollect and the Jesuit missionaries refer to this village in their accounts; and Brebeuf gives a long, detailed, eye-witness account of the "Feast of the Kettle" which occurred in 1636. All evidence so far produced indicates that this is the ossuary referred to by Brebeuf but positive proof must await completion of the excavation.

This is the first time an undisturbed ossuary has been studied according to modern archaeological procedure. Skeletal material recovered will reveal the physical make-up and pathology of the Hurons; while the specimens buried with the bones reflect the customs of the time and particularly mirror the effects of trade with the French. As this ossuary is estimated to be about fifteen years later in construction than that excavated by the Museum in 1946 at Cahigue, the changes shown in the European trade goods are interesting.

IVAN'S IN TERRIBLE WAY

According to a Moscow despatch an "average" Russian family, in which everyone works, has a monthly income of 1260 rubles, or $299.40. Ivan, his wife and family, therefore, must budget on about $59.85 a week.

Here is what Mrs. Ivan is faced with when she visits the Soviet equivalent of the Supermarket to lay in a week's groceries: 1 lb. butter $5.50; 7 quarts milk at 50c a quart, $3.50; 1 doz. eggs, $2.50; 1 lb. coffee, $7.00; a 3 lb. roast of veal, $6.00; 1 lb. sugar, $1.20; total $25.70, before she even gets around to buying bread, bacon, vegetables, cooking fat, fruit or cereals. Should her family happen to be smokers, she can buy as many packs of 25 cigarettes she likes — at $1.20 pack. Heaven help them if they like a glass of beer with their dinner—beer is $1.33 a bottle. All this means that about once every Five-Year Plan she might save enough to buy one member of the family a pair of shoes at $54; and every other Five-Year Plan there might be enough in the bank to get Ivan a suit at $285. The above are taken from prices fixed by the Soviet government at the time of its recent economic "reform." Comment is invited from Canadian communists, who sponsored petitions condemning our social system for allowing milk to rise from 16c to 18c a quart. — The Printed Word.

NASSAGAWEYA

S. S. No. 7

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Robinson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Anderson, Brampton, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Davenport gave their home for the January 5th Farm Forum. There was a good attendance that divided into two groups for discussion of the topic. A few tables of euchre added to the evenings pleasure. Our host and hostess served lovely refreshments.

Friends here of little Carol Freeman, Guelph Rd., are pleased to hear she has recovered from an attack of scarlet fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Martin who have been residents of No. 7 for the past four years have moved to Lot 10, Con. 1 Nassagaweya.

Mr. C. E. Davenport attended the Federation of Agriculture Convention held at the King Edward Hotel Toronto, several days last week.

Mrs. David Henderson gave her home for the meeting of the W.M.S. and Mrs. Edward Dredge, president of the Ladies' Aid were in their respective chairs, conducting the afternoon's proceedings. A bazaar is being held by the Ladies' Aid during March.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. J. Copeland who has been ill is convalescing. She is returning home with her daughter, Mrs. Butcher, who has been nursing her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Zimmerman and baby Sharon were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davenport, Sunday.

Mrs. Stephen Cox, St. Helena, has returned home after spending a week at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Smillie.

This community was sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Wm. McLaughlin, Sr., of Guelph. Sympathy is extended to her family in the loss of a loving and devoted mother. She will be greatly missed by her large circle of friends made by her cheerful, kind thoughtfulness to others.

This week's farm forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frank with an attendance of twenty-eight. The discussion was from the topic, "The World is Our Market" and the question, "Should Canada give food to European countries even if they can't pay for it?" was one that had many sides and although the answer was yes the group found it hard to see how it could be done. Although they did suggest several ways. The group was pleased to have as a guest, Miss Mary C. Needler, Toronto, from the farm forum committee of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. In place of the usual game of cards the members enjoyed a discussion on "What makes a healthy, thriving farm?" and Miss Needler when asked gave a description of what happens to our answers to questions after being mailed to Mr. Clare Burt, Toronto. Mrs. Frank served a lovely lunch that everyone enjoyed.

Mrs. Paul and pupils have had a student teacher, Miss Lechowski of Toronto Normal School, with them the past week.

ACTIVITIES FOR YOUTH

Boys and girls have a very strong craving for activity. They feel conscious of their powers and want to try them out in something that interests them. If there is not sufficient outlet for his desire, the minds of some may resort to mischief or make trouble or seek undesirable companions.

Their activities need careful parental oversight. Some may give an amount of time to outside activities that interferes with their school work. The thing of first importance at the school age, is to learn their lessons thoroughly and well.

The activities in which youngsters engage are one means of developing whatever gifts their natures possess. Some will show an ability for music that may be valuable. Some will show dexterity with their hands and mechanical skill. Some will develop a power of leadership and ability to organize and direct their mates.

There are many such gifts that are valuable and they develop as young people get a chance to practice them. The schools do a wonderful job in discovering and developing such gifts and helping their pupils to make use of their powers.

GEORGETOWN

A new floor has been laid in the kindergarten room at the Public School and the "under-sixes" started to school on Monday.

A change of plans has resulted in the Georgetown Papermakers getting the nod for elevation to Intermediate 'A' ranks instead of 'B' as announced last week.

A fire caused when gasoline ignited while repairs were being made to a truck owned by Norman Snyder, caused considerable damage to the vehicle. The fire broke out about 5 o'clock in the Snyder's Cartage warehouse on Young St.

Georgetown Fire Brigade was called to Glen Williams on New Years Eve when fire broke out in a room adjoining the boiler room at the Glen Textiles, Ltd. plant. The blaze was confined to the one room and caused major damage to the floor, but luckily the brigade was able to quell it before it reached other parts of the mill where real difficulty would have been encountered.—Herald.

VETERAN PILOT PRAISES ONTARIO SAFETY PROGRAM

It's safer in the air than on the ground to-day but real progress is now being made in traffic safety, according to Clyde Pangborn, veteran U.S. pilot with 18,000 flying hours to his credit.

Interviewed in Toronto where he picked up a plane for delivery to Brazil, 50-year-old Captain Pangborn, who has been flying since 1917, said that when he returns home he is going to vacation on a long motor trip. "That's one reason why I'm interested in traffic safety. It affects everybody. You people in Ontario are, I think, very wise in the determined battle you are making against traffic accidents. Most accidents can be prevented. A reputation for safe roads and highways can be a great drawing card for your tourist business from the States because down here, our people are becoming increasingly conscious of the importance of traffic safety."

"The 'dangerous age' on the roads and to a less extent in the air is 17 to 24. Young drivers in this age group are killing themselves, pedestrians and other drivers because of bad manners and ignorance of safety principles."

For safe driving and safe flying, Captain Pangborn's own rule is: "Base your safety on the percentage of chance you have. On rare occasions you can get away with good odds when necessary; but follow the rule of never taking an unnecessary chance."

This rule has got Captain Pangborn over 18,000 hours of flying including 150 trans-Atlantic flights in the last five years. An R.A.F. Ferry Command chief during the war, the Captain delivered planes from Canada and the States to Bangalore. Back in 1931 he made England, Africa, Singapore and the first non-stop flight from Japan to the States, winning $25,000.

Milton Opens Hockey On Georgetown Ice

Walsh ruled they were high sticking each other in the north corner. The brick town boys impressed the crowd as they dominated the play in the last period. They out-scored Georgetown two to one and Georgetown drew more penalties. Milton's first count happened when Bertwhistle was serving time. Nash was ruled out when he cross checked Scattalon, on his break through at the half way mark. The Milton gang crowded, pressed and shot dozens of pucks at Rhodes but he kept them on the right side of him. Ambrose sailed through, batted it over to Stott to break the big goose-egg that was staring at the locals, at 16:10. From then on in the Miltonites dominated the play as they forced the Papertowners to play on their own back step. It paid off as Stott grabbed a pass from Currie and Linton to make the count 3 to 2 with six seconds to go. Storey, argued the time clock was six seconds over, and while the big black hand looked as though it might be over the mark, the time keeper insisted there were still several seconds to go.

The teams: Milton—Goal, Lever; defence, Westlake and Scattalon; centre, Linton; wings, Fox and Currie; alternates, Scilissizzi, Stott, Ambrose, Scarrow, Chester, Bird and Mellinson.

Georgetown—Goal, Rhodes, defence, Patterson and Binsell; centre Storey; wings, C. Bradbury and Gibson; alternates Bertwhistle, Martin, Nash, Ferri, R. Bradbury, J. Kemshead, A. Kemshead.

Referee—Maurice Walsh, Toronto.

First Period
Georgetown: Storey, Bertwhistle 19:26
Penalties—Kemshead, Martin, Patterson, Stott, Scilissizzi, Scarrow.

Second Period
Georgetown: Bradbury Bertwhistle 4:23
Penalties—Nash, Patterson and Nash, Scattalon, Chester, Stott.

Third Period

Milton: Stott, Ambrose 16:10
Milton: Stott, Currie, Linton 19:54
Penalties—Nash, Martin, Bertwhistle.
