DON'T MISS IT!

Hello Homemakers! People who have reached the age of recollection are often amazed to find that unimportant moments in their lives have been the happiest. Uncommon events, however gratifying, are without stress and strain; happy times will always seem like "spring."

Remembrances that speak affection and consideration in mute ways are memories of home — swept, dusted and arranged to suit the family. To-day we strive to make a house a home.

However, if you are tired from overwork, the household chores will not be accomplished as readily as easily, or as well. So let's take heed:

1. Alternate sitting down tasks and standing up tasks. Don't be on your feet too long at one time.
2. Wear properly fitted shoes and comfortable clothes while working around the house.
3. Notice humorous and interesting incidents to relate at mealtimes. Take a walk or do some reading or pay your neighbor a short visit.
4. Do head work while dusting, sweeping, washing dishes and

HUMOR CHANGED SINCE 1876, OLD NEWSPAPER JOKES SHOW

Somebody in Milton laughed at this:

"A young woman in Chicago put her false teeth in a glass of water at night, and in the morning found them imbedded in a chunk of solid ice. She was late at breakfast, the process of thawing out the teeth with matches having been slow."

Anyone who didn't laugh was supposed to, anyway. The riotous story was taken from a column blantly marked "Humorous" in a Weekly Globe of February 11, 1876. The paper was published in Toronto.

This old paper is owned by Miss Cynthia Joyce of Milton.

Another of these most amusing paragraphs reads, "Eh, doctor," said a baillie of a small Scotch town to a friend, "he maun ha been a extraordinary man, that Shakespeare; that are things come into his head that never would hae come into mine at a'!"

On the first page of this paper is a large picture of Hon. Edward Blake. The whole front page and over three-fifths of the second are devoted to the same kind of story about him—in too small type and in too uninteresting manner to tackle.

A column called "Ecclesiastical" gives church news of Ontario, one on "Curliana" results of curling contests.

"When the new parliamentary library in Ottawa is completed, it will be one of the most beautiful buildings on the continent."

"The mystery which has enshrouded the death of Mr. Wm. Spence, formerly a resident of Toronto, has been removed by the dying confession of Marshall Crain, a murderer who was hanged on the 21st of January... at least 2,000 strangers gathered in the streets of Marion, Illinois (the day he was hanged) and the militia gathered for patrol and guard duty. He was dressed in a white suit with his baptismal gown over it. He walked with a firm step to the open window, and addressed the crowd. He then read a poem of twenty-four stanzas, which he had composed for the occasion."

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. E. Mc. asks: Can we place a silver entree containing broccoli and sprinkled with cheese under a hot broiler?

Answer: No. Never subject silver plated ware or sterling to direct heat. Broil cheese on broccoli on a piece of aluminum foil then slide gently into a silver entree which has been rinsed with hot water.

Mrs. M. R. asks: Have you a new idea for a special hot lunch?

Answer: If you wish a delectable luncheon treat prepare one three-decker sandwich for each person. Make plain ham sandwiches then lay a thin slice of loaf cheese on top of each and place a slice of canned pineapple over this with a spoonful of mint jelly in the centre. Now the decker sandwiches are slipped onto the broiling pan and under the preheated top oven element. Allow a distance of 3 inches between the top of the sandwich and the electric element, and 3 to 4 minute toasting period. Serve on a tea plate garnished with parsley and olives. (Remember this will be eaten with a knife and fork). A fruit cup, sugar cookies and coffee will complete a wonderful luncheon.

THE SUGGESTION BOX

Mrs. J. C. says: I use a smart shoe box with the corners reinforced with cellulose tape for a recipe file. In it I keep a small pair of scissors and a bottle of glue and a package of 3x4 inch cards, and a recipe index. As soon as I clip out a recipe it's pasted on a card and filed.

Mrs. E. D. says: Banana Rolls are a favorite dessert at our house. Use a half banana (cut crosswise) and roll it in a square of pastry sprinkled with a little grated cheese. Tuck in the ends and bake folded side down, in hot oven of 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve warm with a tart lemon sauce.

Mrs. H. T. says: Often the simplest recipes are best. Here is a good supper dish. Add ¾ cup grated cheese to 2 cups white sauce and stir until melted. Season with salt and pepper. Arrange cubes of canned corned beef and a half tin of (drained) mushroom pieces in a greased casserole. Pour over hot cheese sauce and sprinkle with ½ cup dry crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven of 425 degrees for 12 minutes.

Pilots Lie Down To Fly Aircraft

A specially adapted Reid and Sigrist Desford trainer aircraft, flown by a pilot lying down full length in the fuselage, is being tested at the Royal Aircraft Establishment's Farnborough airfield.

Primary reason for testing the prone piloted aircraft is a medical one: theoretically the effects of centrifugal force on the pilot should be less severe in manoeuvres if his body lies along the axis of the aircraft. The prone position also reduces the sizes of the aircraft fuselage, cuts down its frontal area and makes possible a slimmer fuselage, reducing drag. The redesigned control system—stick, rudders, etc. will be closely watched during the trials, which will also reveal whether the prone position is specially fatiguing.

Printed copies of it had been circulated all morning and there was not a man, woman or child in Marion who was not to be found with one."

"Total loss in a fire at Rimouski was estimated at $20,000.

"Bismarck has recovered, and is now able to be about."

"In view of the unsettled state of political affairs, the British government intends to strengthen its naval forces in Chinese waters."

"The revival meetings of Moody and Sankey were commenced at the Hippodrome, New York, last night."

"If civilized people were ever to lapse into the worship of animals, the cow would certainly be their chief goddess. What a fountain of blessing is the cow!"

Following are the ages recorded in the Death column of the old paper—20, six month, 75, 4, 2, 54, 7, 6, one month, 80, 3, 9, 6, five weeks, 24, 17, 22, 72, and 25.

"Short hints concerning sickness—don't whisper in the sick room."

"Remember that sick persons are not necessarily idiotic or imbecilic, and that it is not always wise to try to persuade them that their sufferings are imaginary."

"Do not content with sending a sick friend flowers and jelly, but lend her one of your pictures to hang in place of hers, or a bronze to replace the one of which she is so tired."

Fashion letter—The polonaise still continues to be fashionable, but it is so long as to look like a dress, barely showing the skirt in front and only the train in the back.

"A costume I lately saw was made in this manner—Iron grey cashmere and black velvet. The skirt of plain black velvet. The tunic of cashmere is trimmed with a bias of black velvet. The bodice of velvet, and ornamented with a border of curled black feathers. Sleeves of cashmere, with velvet crossed with a band of feathers."

"Answers to correspondents: J. M. M.—When Riel's term of exile is expired his rights of citizenship will be restored.

"S.S.—The brain of the late Thomas D'Arcy McGee weighed 59 oz."

Blair Auxiliary Holds March Meet

The March meeting of the Blair Evening Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Bryan Cramp on Wednesday evening with Mrs. J. Robertson presiding. The meeting was opened with a poem and the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Robert McPhail read the scripture lesson. After the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, the members offered their homes for the meetings for the balance of the year.

Mrs. W. Mahon read an interesting article written by Mildred Gehman in the Glad Tidings. A short article "Sunday School by Mail" was read by Mrs. S. Cramp.

The roll call was answered with "Gospel" as the text word. The meeting was closed with prayer by the president.

A social period followed when the 15 ladies present enjoyed a very pleasant half hour.

The St. David's Girls' Group are planning for a special meeting when they expect to have Miss Anderson, missionary on furlough from British Guiana, as guest speaker.

The Ladies' Aid quilted their third quilt for this year at the home of Mrs. C. A. Elsley on Thursday afternoon.

FASHION HINT

Hats are smaller this season, and many of the models are hardly more than half-hats which fit snugly on the head and demand the minimum of hair beneath. Most of these, like the one pictured above, are worn absolutely straight on the head but many dip more to one side than the other, with some perilously perched over just one ear.

From London, England, comes word of hats with enormous plumes standing upward, shooting out from the back, and plunging outward from the front. Beads are colored to look like semi-precious stones, and sequins and fur are popular trimmings.

Imagine the stir in town if you wore this hat from London for shopping—"One amazing shape was fringed with black ostrich feather fronds, each finished with a spray of black sequins, the fringe hanging from the edge of the hat like icicles from a roof." Evidently the shape of a high roof caught on with the designers, who outline the "eave" of the roof with "jewels."

Peas Biggest Item On Export Listing

Exports of canned fruits, vegetables and products processed from them are a sizeable item in Canada's foreign business. In 1951 nearly 35 million pounds of these commodities were exported valued at some $5 million.

The United States was the chief customer, taking 25 million pounds of concentrated apples and apple juice; jams, jellies and marmalade; canned corn and canned tomatoes were popular items.

Great Britain imported six million pounds, 5½ million pounds being tomato soup and juice. Bermuda purchased 38 different types of product for a total of over a million pounds. The biggest single item was 326,858 pounds of canned peas.
