Juveniles Win One, Drop Round 10-12

Milton's Juvenile team dropped the Orangeville club 5-4 on Tuesday when the local club visited that town. Orangeville claimed the round 10-12 however, on the basis of the first game when they led the locals 8-5.

Jim Harris was the big gun for the Milton crew, being in on every Milton goal. He and Black were credited with the sole counter in the first period and added a second exactly one period later, assisted by Elliott. Shannon, assisted by Black and Harris, pushed in the first goal of the third period, with Harris following with two more.

Orangeville pushed two in during the second period and two more in the third, levelling the session off at 5-4.

Bill Elliott suffered a dislocated shoulder and strained ligaments during the game. He was treated in Guelph hospital Wednesday.

Juniors' League Headed by Palermo

Palermo leads the Junior Farmers' hockey team league with 17 points, following last week's 2-2 tie with Milton. Norval stands second with 14; Milton is close behind with 13 and Acton—still—has 0 points.

In the Palermo-Milton tie, Milton's goals were scored by Devlin and G. Gillies and Palermo's goals by D. Vivian. Penalties went to Pelletterio, Tasker and Devlin.
Norval defeated Acton 7 to 4.
Three of Acton's four goals were credited to F. Somerville. H. Spitzer copped the other.

Norval scorers were Wilson (3); Cunningham (2); Currie (2). Penalties were meted to Storey and Spitzer.
Team standings are as follows:

	P	W	L	T	F	A	Pts.
Palermo	11	8	2	1	63	25	17
Norval	11	7	4	0	59	35	14
Milton	11	6	4	1	53	23	13
Acton	11	0	11	0	17	96	0

Only three games remain to be played in the schedule.

Cold Reception
For Co-ops Friday

Elmira Polar Kings delighted a partisan home crowd last Friday night with an 8-2 win over Milton that consolidated their hold on first place in the Big Seven.
"Butch" Martin, the 60 minute man of the Kings, was the gent who did the damage. He scored four goals and racked up an assist to just about trample the Co-ops by himself.

He had lots of help, too, from Kilby, playing peerless hockey in the Elmira nets. The Milton team tested him on countless occasions and the shots looked labelled but Kilby rose to great heights by stopping all but two.

The Co-ops held the Kings in check in the first chapter when both sides traded goals. Miller, another Elmira sparkler, put the hosts ahead at 10:15 but Grenke batted in Fox's relay less than a minute later to tie the score.

The second period was all Elmira. They scored three goals without a reply from the Co-ops, who had several good chances but failed to capitalize on them.

The roof fell in on the Co-ops in the last period. Elmira chalked up four goals, while Fox tucked in Townsend's pass for the only reply.

Fox, Wilson and Grenke were the outstanding Milton players in a game that was fast and cleanly played most of the way.

Referees—Melcheski and Eoloda, Kitchener.

GROWING FAST

Are we Canadians thinking big enough, asks The Financial Post. It is almost a certainty that in another quarter century Canada will have at least 23 million people without counting any substantial immigration.

ICE CHIPS
by A. Pick

Elmira's visit here on Monday night was expected to give some indication of what to expect from the Co-ops in the play-offs this semester. Unfortunately, although the Co-ops carried the play and looked as good, if not better, than the visitors they wound up on the short end of the score. Now, from this corner, which is open to suggestion, the difference between the two teams looked to be in the calibre of the twine tending.

Lever wasn't having one of his good nights. As a matter of fact, he looked inept on at least four of the goals that went past him.

On the other hand, you can't win a game unless your mates are going to score goals and the Co-ops didn't dent the twine behind Kilby until the third chapter.

Not that they weren't trying!
Although a lot of ink has been thrown at "Butch" Martin as the gent who carries the Elmira club, Kilby has been a tower of strength and he couldn't get much better than he was in the second period of Monday night's game.

Martin, of course was the big booming gun on Friday night.
He bagged five goals. That's not such an astounding total when you consider the length of time he was on the ice, but it is a tribute to his effectiveness. He's a work horse—the more work he gets the better he plays.

"Butch," as he is endearingly called by idolizing fans, has a serious turn of mind that probably accounts for the enthusiasm he puts in his hockey. Not so many years ago he was the peer of the Guelph, Biltmore defense corps.
Professional scouts had a star-spangled future mapped out for him. But Martin, after a good season with Guelph suddenly announced he was quitting hockey.

The reason wasn't better money doing something else. Other promising stars had done that. Butch was giving up hockey because he thought his religion was opposed to playing professionally. He unhesitatingly severed all connection with the sport.

You've got to understand the Mennonite religion, of which Martin is a member to analyze why he gave up a career that looked all moonlight and roses for him. And you also have to hand it to the fellow for having the strength of his convictions.

Later on, on the advice of a Mennonite minister, Martin returned to hockey but stuck strictly to amateur after a brief fling with Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen in Senior A company.

Georgetown, a team that has improved in their last few outings will have the pleasure of meeting Elmira in the play-offs. Their best of seven series was dragged to the limit last year. Georgetown has the distinction of being the club to break the Polar King's 22 game winning streak this year. The series will be a best out of seven.

The only other club to eclipse Elmira this year, Oakville Kelton Klippers, will meet the Co-ops in a best of seven series beginning next week probably. Oakville shaded Elmira in overtime 7-6 but the Collingwood Enterprise, Bulletin doesn't rate the Klippers very high from their last performance in Collingwood. That journal pontificates that Newmarket and Elmira are much better clubs.

The Co-ops, we hope, are not going to underestimate the Klip-pers. This observer wouldn't be a bit surprised to see the series go the distance. We'll pick the Co-ops to win it and Elmira to take the Georgetown series. The group finals should be dynamite.

Oakville fans are just as confident the Klippers, who are incidentally, the best team to come out of Oakville in years, will polish off the Co-ops. They point to the victories the "flying" Klippers hammered out, and we do mean hammered, over the Co-ops in mid-season. However, while the Oakville club hasn't shown any improvement, the Co-ops have.

To our way of thinking that is where the difference lies.

The Oakville Trafalgar-Journal of last week was up in arms over the last appearance of Fergus in their neck of the woods. The Thistles, buried hopelessly in the league cellar appeared with only seven men for the game. Oakville won, of course, by astronomical figures—25-1.

Fergus wasn't unduly perturbed over the loss. They were hopelessly outmatched and were used to being stepped on by the other teams. Oakville was mad. The Journal sports scribe in a scathing indictment of the O.H.A. queries the right of Fergus to appear with only seven men. He wants some legislation to prevent it happening again.

How, he asks, does Old Hatpin Annie expect Oakville to attract crowds if they're forced to cope with that kind of a show?

Crowds in Oakville, we might mention, have been a distinct improvement over previous years.
Recently over 1700 fans turned out for a game. Maybe the Journal scribe has something the O.H.
A. would be wise to consider. On the other hand the Oakville brass can be consoled by the fact the crowds are still large.

Canada's record for rabies is small whereas in the United States the disease kills an average of 30 humans a year and causes an annual $5,000,000 loss in livestock.

ELMIRA RACKS UP SECOND WIN AGAINST CO-OPS IN PLAY-OFF PREP

Scoring four goals before the Co-ops realized there was a game on, tap, Elmira Polar Kings went on to take a 7-4 decision here on Monday night despite a withering onslaught from a determined Milton team.

The victory in the last scheduled meeting between the two clubs kept the Elmira team's win record against the Co-ops intact but they realized they had been in a hockey game.

One final scheduled game with Georgetown here on Saturday night and the Co-ops go into the playoffs against Oakville. First game of the best-of-seven series is Wednesday night in Milton.

The other Intermediate "A" group semi-final, also starting next week, is between Elmira and Georgetown. The winner will meet the Oakville-Milton survivor.

Kilby in Fine Form
The Co-ops came back inspired in the second period of Monday's game but Kilby was unbeatable in the Elmira nets. He stopped everything the Co-ops could throw at him. Melanson and Irons were in on him alone. So were Townsend and Fox, but he outguessed them all and the Kings added another goal at the 17:29 mark to make it 5-0.

Finally, as the last chapter got underway, Melanson cashed Fox's relay to break into the scoring column. And before you could pat the top of your hat, Townsend and Raine added markers to put the Co-ops right back into contention.

But while they pressed hard for the equalizers, Blake fired a blazing drive from the left side that had Lever beaten all the way. That goal took some of the fire out of the Milton attack and while Mc-Nally sat out a holding penalty, Miller rapped in another for Elmira.

Bill Vaughan finished off a play with Fox in the final minute for Milton's last goal.

The game was fast all the way and the Co-ops had more than their share of play. They dominated both the second and third periods. Aside from the first seven minutes of the first stanza when Elmira scored the goals that proved to be winners, the Milton club looked every bit as good.

Lever was shaky and muffed several shots that ordinarily he would block with little or no trouble. Martin, usually the big noise in the Elmira camp, managed to add only a goal and an assist to his output.
