Staff 'round Town

Looking over the county council notes last week, we noticed that work will soon be started on repairing the bridge on the first line.

This is really a feather in the cap of the county engineer. To get a job of this proportion started in less than a year from the time the bridge collapsed is certainly fast time.

This should be a real factor for the county fathers to take into consideration in their discussions on the subject of making the engineer's job a full time position.

During the time that this bridge has been out of commission, we at Harris's have been building up our stock of bookkeeping supplies, office needs of all kinds, social stationery, guest, recipe and baby books, travel diaries, daily diaries and artist's supplies. Next time you are downtown, drop in and look around.
