I.O.D.E. Carnival Had Good Events Fine Costumes

The Prize Winners in Races, Skating and Costume Events

Nearly 800 people attended the Carnival sponsored by the John Milton Chapter I.O.D.E. held at Milton Arena last Wednesday evening. The monster event attracted many attractive costumes in both the adult and children's classes.

Throughout the evening two gentlemen kept the audience amused with their humorous antics. Salamanda, the huge negro mammy skated and jumped and fell and—while a knight of the road, quite shabbily costumed, wondered if the ice were safe before he donned his skates, then finally enjoyed the luncheon he carried in a tin can on the top of his head.

While there were no entries in some of the different classes, there was keen competition in several of the races, when boys and girls vied for speed honors. The Girl Guides were awarded top prize for being the best group and Frank Pearen was the oldest man on skates taking part in the carnival.

Nels Pickett, as the negro mammy who created such havoc was given the award for being the best fun-maker, while Herb Marshall, as the knight of the road, was awarded the grand prize of all who appeared in costume.

Tiny Hopkins, in his inimitable style as Master of Ceremonies, kept the program going at a fast pace. Following the display and judging of costumes, the huge crowd completed the evening's fun with skating.

Nonagenarians Mark Seventieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Couse, Cookstown's famous nonagenarian couple, celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary at their home on December 28th. Mr. Couse, in his 97th year, was one of the original bee-keepers in Ontario as well as a seed buyer.

The truly happy event was marked officially by the village itself, when Trustee Eldon Neilly proudly came into the home bearing a giant bouquet of 70 deep red roses "to mark the event as it should be marked," he explained, "and as a fervent token of the community's regard for a wonderful old couple". Mr. and Mrs. Couse also received many congratulatory telegrams from friends and relatives coast to coast and a cable from the King.

Henry Couse started keeping bees at Beeton in 1875 and a few years later married Hannah Jean Richardson of Bond Head. The marriage took place in Pekin N.Y. From Beeton they went to Cheltenham and in 1895 to Cookstown where grandson Harry Couse is a village trustee, and son John R. the main grocer. The family also includes another son, Alpine, of North Hollywood, Cal., an electrical engineer; five grandsons, one granddaughter and three great-grandchildren. Mr. Henry Couse is a brother of the late William Couse of Streetsville. Mr. Harold W. and Mr. Alan L. Couse of Streetsville, nephews, attended the celebration in Cookstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Couse are both in good health and Mrs. Couse does all her own housework and her husband handles his own share of the chores. Mr. Couse attributes his longevity to his profession which is so close to nature that a man can't help but live long. "Perhaps so", returns his wife, four years his junior, "but I give credit to a consistent diet of coarse foods—if you want to keep bright and spry as you near a hundred."

GOOD RESPONSE FOR APPEAL FOR CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS

A generous response was received to the appeal of the Children's Aid Society for contribution to assist needy families at Christmas. During the month of December cash donations totalled $83.00. The money was used to buy quantities of toys, candy and oranges, and even a few big fat chickens for Christmas dinners. Gifts of new and used toys and clothing were also received.

Through this generosity the Children's Aid Society was able to provide Christmas boxes for all the families known to be in need of help, and Christmas was brightened for many little children of our County.

The Children's Aid Society wishes to thank the individuals and various organizations who helped to make this work possible. Your kindness was greatly appreciated, both by the parents and children who benefitted, and by the Society.

A friend of mine in Oklahoma, whose husband and children have a healthy respect for their spring tornadoes, always complained bitterly each time she was forced into the storm cellar by her anxious family. Year after year the storms missed them and with each trip to the cellar she became more embittered in her remarks as they trudged back to the house.

Last spring, however, they emerged from their refuge to find the house rubble and their possessions scattered to the four winds. Her husband patted her shoulder, searching for words of comfort.

He was stunned to hear her say in tones of great satisfaction, "Now that's the way I like to see things when I come up out of a storm cellar!" — From Life's Like That" in The Reader's Digest.

If we print jokes people say we are silly, if we don't they say we are too serious. If we go out and try to hustle, we ought to be on the job in the office. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate genius and if we do print them, the column is filled with junk.

If we edit the other fellow's write-up we're too critical; if we don't we're asleep. If we clip things from other papers, we are too lazy to write them ourselves. If we don't we are stuck on our own stuff; now likely as not some guy will say we swiped this from some magazine. We did!!!

MANY EVENTS AND COSTUMES AT CARNIVAL

Many fine costumes were displayed at the carnival held at Milton Arena here last Wednesday evening. About the same number of entries in both the children's and adult classes were in evidence throughout the entire program. Pictured above are some of the very fine costumes which were awarded prizes. A mother and daughter combination was awarded prizes when Mrs. Marshall White wore the best ladies' comic costume, while her daughter, Dorothy wore the best ladies' National costume, left. Miss Sandra Bell, right, is shown in her cannibal costume. However, she was not as fierce as those teeth indicate. She was awarded first in children's classes as the best of the fancy and comic costumes. Frank Pearen, inset, 83-year-old Milton resident, proudly beams after being awarded the prize for being the oldest person on skates attending the big event.

One Killed and Five Injured in Accident Tuesday

One Guelph woman was killed and five persons injured Tuesday morning when the side was ripped off a Gray Coach Lines bus which collided with a transport truck two miles south of Brampton.

Driver of the truck, Charles Telford, 41, of Grand Valley, has been charged with careless and dangerous driving by provincial police.

Mrs. Helen Agar, of Brooklin, formerly of Guelph, died in Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton, two hours after being removed from the bus.

Most seriously hurt was Mrs. Doris Kemp, Scarborough, fractured arm and face cuts, Clifford McArthur of Scarborough, suffered cuts and George Gilchrist, driver of the bus, face cuts.

Police said the accident occurred when the southbound truck went into a skid and swerved towards the oncoming bus.

The impact ripped the side of the bus halfway to the rear. Following the collision the bus careened down a 13-foot embankment and ran 200 yards in a ditch before it could be stopped. Police said the presence of mud and ice on the road was a factor in the accident.

The truck continued on for some distance before coming to a stop. The driver was uninjured. Eighteen passengers in the bus also escaped injury.

A reply was received to the inquiry about the status of a firm that wants to make sewer connections in town. The engineer's advice on the matter was to be sought.

66% OF U.S. CARS VISITED IN ONTARIO IN 1949

Ontario again leads all provinces in regard to United States visitors entering Canada on Travellers' Vehicle Permits. During the first nine months of the current year approximately 66 per cent of all U.S. cars entering Canada came into Ontario, leaving 34 per cent for the other nine provinces.

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, during the month of September alone, 463,175 U.S. motor cars entered Ontario. To date this year 1,057,033 motor cars entered Ontario on T.V.P.'s as compared with 989,975 during the same period in 1948, an increase of 6.8 per cent.

Milton Wins 6-3 Over Oakville Last Night's Game

Second Defeat of This Team In Schedule—Milton Took An Early Lead

Last night Milton Intermediates handed Oakville their second straight defeat in two games by a 6-3 score. With Milton taking a 4-0 lead by the end of the second period Oakville at no time threatened to take the game. The Oakville club made their strongest bid in the third period when they notched three goals to Milton's two.

While Milton led in, and almost consisted of, the parade to the sin bin, no goals were scored against them while they were short handed. Milton drew eight penalties, one of them in a misconduct to Lantz when he apparently attempted to explain some of the finer points of the game to the referee. Sheppard drew three penalties, Scanlon two, Stewart and Brush one apiece. McNally for boarding and Davidson for roughing were the only Oakville players sent to the side lines for two minutes cooling.

In the scoring department, Linton Currie and Melanson did all the work on the score sheet for Milton, each marking up two goals. Davison for Oakville was their big gun firing two goals with Patterson adding the third.

Oakville—Leger, g; McNally, Kennedy, d; Galbraith c; Davidson, Patterson w; Alternates, Lawrence, Brown, Speck, Hayes, Salisbury and Buckley.

Milton—Evans g; Stewart, Scanlon, d; Fox c; Currie, Melanson, w; Alternates, Fay, Lantz, Linton, Brush, Sheppard and Basso.

NO TAX DISCRIMINATION

The suggestion in Parliament that clergymen should be exempt from income tax gets criticism from the Financial Post. Editorially it states:

"The intent was good. The claim of several members that the clergy are generally a sorely underpaid group, poorly rewarded for their many good words, will have the agreement of the great mass of Canadians. But the proposal that 'our clergymen be taken right out of the income tax brackets altogether' will most certainly not commend itself to responsible people.

"It is this business of starting to exempt any group of our people whatsoever from income tax that is so poisonous, both practically and politically.

"Our own MP's are the first offenders against the rule that no group should be exempt. When they handed themselves salary increases of $2,000 a year in 1945 they made the $2,000 tax free.

"That exemption was a serious blunder. To start further exemptions on the ground of good works can have appalling consequences."

Another Brawl Mars Dance on New Year's Eve

Fight On Dance Floor Stopped By Sounding Fire Alarm—Dance Is Closed

Two unfortunate week-end incidents marred the revelry of the happy throngs who turned out to celebrate the beginning of 1950.

The second skirmish and outbreak of organized trouble occurred at the Town Hall dance last New Year's Eve when a gang of young fellows attempted a brawl in which one youth was injured about the face. According to eye witnesses, they were unable to determine just how it started and among whom, but that the gang, believed to be from Hamilton or Dundas, attempted a pitched battle on the dance floor. One of the gang drew a jack-knife and when the fire siren was sounded by the Chief of Police a wholesale disappearance of the offenders down fire escapes prevented them from being apprehended. Doug Bonham, of Erindale, was badly cut on the face and received medical attention at the Milton jail. The dance was ordered closed to prevent further trouble.

On Monday night a car belonging to Ron Featherstone was stolen from where it was parked on Main Street. Mr. Featherstone told the police he parked to go into a store and when he returned later it was gone. A radio and valuable camera were also in the vehicle. The car had not been recovered yesterday.

Chief of Police, Hugh Warrington again issued a stern warning to those who might start trouble in the municipality. He said "further protection is being provided and culprits would be severely dealt with."

Many other private parties were conducted throughout the town while on New Year's Day the Milton Fire Brigade held a very successful midnight dance at the Town Hall. A second dinner dance was held at Milton Inn. In spite of the unseasonable weather conditions, large crowds attended successful entertainments to top off the celebration for a successful 1950.

NOVEMBER REST

Life on the farm slows down in November. There is as much work to do as in other months, because a well-managed farm has no idle days, but the rush of harvest is over and preparations for winter take up the slack. The chores are greatly increased by bringing all the livestock into the barn. Rain and snow and frozen ground reduce the outdoor work. The pace slackens. Gray days quiet the nerves. The early evenings are spent at the fireside and long nights in bed. Full cellars, woodshed, bins and mows assure security and comfort. There is rest in the solid satisfaction which the winter winds cannot shake. The family are close together again after the rush of summer leisurely planning for Christmas.—The Scene.

Cancer has proven more deadly than any war. Doctors say it is not the increase but that higher statistics are due to earlier and better diagnosis than heretofore.
