"This," said Betty to a momentarily flustered Bob, "is the beginning of a new year with a lot of wonderful possibilities for us.

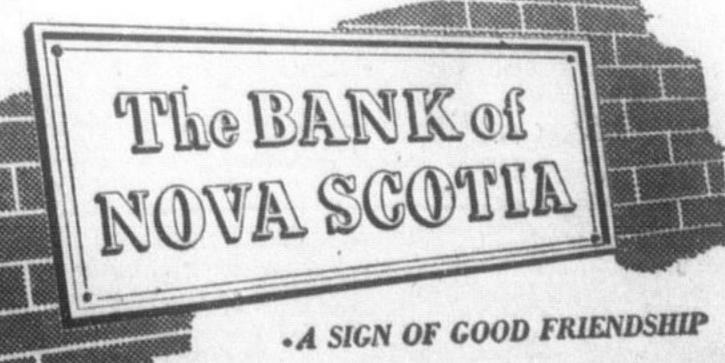

"The Bank Manager and I were chatting about the new year and he told me what the Bank President had said in his speech about our future.*

"And, you know Bob, I never realized before what great possibilities there are for you and me and every Canadian."

* * * * * In the Bank President's words:

"The underlying trend for Canada is decidedly upward—we are still a young and growing country." There are immediate problems, to be sure. But Canada's unfolding resources and growing capacity to develop them can make the next fifty years a half century of realization of Laurier's famous quotation: "The twentieth century belongs to Canada."
