Brevities

—This is the last week of January and the days are noticeably longer.

—New cars seem to be more plentiful and even more attractive this year.

—Never had a hydro cut-off this year and its something to be thankful for.

—The young folks are surely getting plenty of use of the artificial ice at the arena. It's been a great year to have it.

—Farm Auction sales have certainly eased off this season in comparison with a year ago.

—Sewer trunk lines are gradually getting better and the Main Street bumps aren't so deep.

—You'll find the small classified ads provide a quick and easy way to buy, sell, rent or exchange.

—Nothing changes quite so fast as the weather. Wednesday's temperature was 60 and the day before below freezing.

—January has been one long thaw this year with the snowfalls lasting only a short time. We're not complaining.

—It is hoped train schedules will soon be able to return to normal. But the striking miners seem to disagree with this opinion.

—Send in your items of local news or personal to the Champion. They're always welcome. A letter box on the office door makes it convenient.

WARNING FROM SOCIALIST AUSTRALIA

The people of Australia have tossed out the Socialist government of J. B. Chifley and placed in power a coalition of Liberals and Country Party members who made anti-socialism the main plank in their campaign.

There is a moral for Canadians in the downfall of the Australian socialists. First elected in 1941, they proceeded on orthodox socialist lines, with the support of the majority of the Australian people, until Chifley became prime minister in 1945. From then on, the main purpose of the government was to gain control of the commercial banking system, finally by nationalization legislation that was upset by the courts. In the process, the government lost the support of the Australian people who determined that no government should lay hand on their savings or set up a bureaucratic lending policy, where a socialist party button and socialist doctrines would determine credit applications.

The moral for Canadians is direct and simple: Beware a party that would get too close to your private bank account or expose it to political scrutiny.

There is a salutary lesson for the governments too: In action and in policy governments do well to keep even so much as the faintest shadow of the tax gatherer from falling across a voter's bank book, or the faintest suspicion that his prying eye is there.

20 nations were represented at a meeting in England to dovetail world travel time-tables.

Obituary

MRS. GRAHAM McNAIR

In the death of Mrs. Graham McNaair on Christmas Day there passed away another member of one of the oldest pioneer families of Esqueving Township. The youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Cunningham of the Sixth Concession, she was a sister of Robert who is still on the old homestead and of John, of the Sixth Concession, also. Following her marriage in 1907, she resided on the Base Line until following the death of her husband eight years ago, she again resided with her brother, Robert. Although she had been in failing health for some time her death came as a great shock to a wide circle of friends. Beside her two brothers she leaves one nephew Jas. C. Cunningham, of Hornby.

MR. HENRY H. LINDSAY

Henry Herbert Lindsay passed away after a lingering illness early Tuesday morning, January 10th, at his home, 426 Clendennan Ave., Toronto, in his sixty-eighth year. He was the beloved husband of Christina Wedderburn, dear father of Mrs. F. Lee (Mary), Frank, Mrs. Wm. Lawson (Olive), Harry and Irvin and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lindsay of Trafalgar Township.

Born in the vicinity of Milton, Ont. and a resident of Toronto since 1912, he was employed by Norman A. Smith Co., insulation engineers and a member of the I. O. F.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. C. Spence (Mary), Mrs. J. Turrell (Mabel), Mrs. C. B. Beaty (Ethel) and one brother, James B. Funeral services were held in the chapel of McDougall and Brown, St. Clair Ave. W., Toronto, conducted by Rev. Mr. Cross of St. John's Anglican Church, West Toronto and interment was in Prospect Cemetery. The pallbearers were his three sons, two sons-in-law and his nephew, Hugh Beaty.

When It's Personal It Hurts

By Joseph Lister Rutledge Nobody likes increases in his own personal costs, yet we bear with a measure of fortitude cost increases that are indefinite or that do not touch us too nearly. We are well aware that virtually every cost with which we are familiar has increased sharply. We know that our own income, which is a factor in all costs, has increased equally. Yet, when a railroad company or a telephone company or a landlord suggests the need for increased income, our gorge rises and we burn with a sense of sharp injustice. We assume that while it was just and equitable that we should receive more similar justice and equity doesn't apply to a telephone company or a landlord.

Think of it. While most prices, including our own income, have increased 50 to 100 per cent, rentals, including the recently permitted increases, have advanced 24 per cent. The average home rental in Montreal is $27.00, in Toronto $30.-30, in Halifax $23.75, in Winnipeg $24.00. These are Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures. As even these figures include a measurable part of the permitted rent increases it is quite evident that the average citizen renting a home is paying a relatively small part of his income for shelter, probably not so large a percentage as he paid years ago.

It is true, of course, that these are averages, and that there must be many individual cases where those on fixed incomes, or those living on savings find themselves faced with a very serious problem. In the main, however, the figures covering our general spending indicate that our problem is that we have broadened these spendings and, if we have less in reserve for such primary necessities as shelter, it is because we have spent more on other things.

There are, and always will be, persons to whom a minor increase in rent must be a tragic happening. We might also remember that it is no more tragic than an increase in food or fuel costs. Yet some way must be found to meet these situations with understanding and consideration. But to use these individual instances to imply that rentals have been or are being increased exorbitantly is to be dishonest with ourselves and to play into the hands of those who would use any and every argument of the kind to undermine our social system. Before we let ourselves be so used, mightn't we relate our own gains to the needs of those who serve us?

SHATTER-RESISTANT MIRROR

Claimed especially suitable for public washrooms, etc. a U.S. made mirror of shatter-resistant glass is said to withstand shock four or five times greater than ordinary mirrors, reports The Financial Post. When broken it disintegrates into harmless granules. Has invisible theft-proof hanger; comes in all sizes.

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN COURT ACTION BY JUDGE ROBINSON

His Honour Judge W. N. Robinson has delivered judgment in the case of W. S. Enright vs. W. R. Wright. Hearing of this case which had to do with their partnership during wartime in an invention known as the Victory Dirk took place in the courthouse at Milton on December 23rd and December 27th. His Honor held that under the terms of partnership no cause for action existed and dismissed the claim of the plaintiff with costs.

Mr. C. F. Leatherland of Acton appeared as solicitor for the defendant and Mr. P. A. Ballachey, K.C., prominent Brantford lawyer, appeared for Enright.

Present during the two day trial was George Elliott of Milton who will appear, assisting Mr. Leatherland, in the Supreme Court action between the same parties which concerns among other matters, a $30,000 mortgage on the former Jno. McDonald farm on the third line south of Acton.

The Supreme Court action has been set down for hearing at the next Assizes in Milton.

LIMEHOUSE

A capacity crowd enjoyed an evening of cards and dancing at Limehouse Memorial Hall on Friday evening under management of a W.I. committee. Winners at cards were Mr. Gilbert English and Mrs. S. Wright and for the ladies, Mrs. Jas. Noble and Mrs. E. Miller. Karn's orchestra provided music for dancing with Mr. Lorne Widdis as floor manager. The spot dance was won by Mrs. Geo. Sargent and Mr. Bob McMaster. Mr. McDermott of Brampton won the door prize. A vocal trio comprising Mr. and Mrs. Ed McDermott and Mr. Rod Hadley of Brampton was an added highlight. Lunch was served by the committee.

The few leads of gravel spread on the county roads last week-end made a decided improvement. The W.A. held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Norton on Friday evening when plans were made for a Valentine party. Mr. and Mrs. Les Campbell and Billie of Hamilton visited the Nortons on Sunday.

Communion services were held at Limehouse on Sunday with four new members joining, two by transfer of certificate and two by profession of faith. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Doris visited Mr. Robt. Scott on Sunday.

We welcome Mrs. Al Vaicuniene, a young Lithuanian who arrived on Saturday to join her husband who is employed on the Thompson farm.

Stuff Round Town Rumor has it that the Milton Board of Trade may be revived at an early date.

In the past, the activities of this body have been of short duration but it is to be hoped that this time a real spirit of co-operation can be achieved and that will ensure a live Board of Trade.

No town that is showing real progress is without a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce and residents of Milton should follow this modern trend and work together to make our town bigger and better as time rolls along.

Many people are of the opinion that such an organization is for merchants only,—well, as the old song says "It ain't necessarily so"—any resident of the town who is interested in making his town a better place to live in is eligible for membership.

Yours for a strong Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce.
