This will necessitate the changing of electric supply equipment. This matter was left for the engineers to deal with. Council felt that the use of power would be safest heat-ers will be re-

Another Forum Joins Discussion of Halton Group

To Hornby Farm Radio Forum, our most recent organized Forum in Halton County, therefore our youngest, we extend our congratulations it being the only Forum in the County to brave the element of Monday's storm, at least the only one reporting for the County press, that they did meet.

Sixteen members gathered to discuss the topic "Is there enough land?" The Forum Guide emphasized the fact that the pessimists claimed our soil resources are nearing exhaustion with no fresh lands to cultivate and old lands losing fertility. The optimists claiming there are regions where new land can be brought into cultivation but these are mostly in the far north and the tropics, hence population would need to be shifted and huge sums of money would need to be spent, but they claim it could be done.

As to the fertility of the soil, the scientists know how to restore fertility and even how to make land more fertile. Also the optimists claim the difficulties can be overcome by building new types of plants, e.g., new type of wheat—Saunders has been bred for growing in Peace River District because it is resistant to drought and frost. Hybrid corn has resulted in increased production being introduced into Ontario in 1938 and since that time husking corn acreage has increased by 25 per cent. It is also grown in many European countries with great success.

In reply to the first question which of these points are you inclined to agree with, Hornby agreed more or less with the optimists in that they feel there is plenty of agricultural land in Canada but were unable to voice their opinion on the available agricultural land of the world owing to insufficient scientific knowledge on the question.

The second question dealing with the scarcity of food in the world, and at the same time Canadian farmers are having difficulty disposing of their surpluses what can be done about this contradiction? Hornby felt that our new surpluses would be taken care of if our Governments would simplify currency and trade restrictions, also tariffs and transportation.

Spring Weather Reverts To Old Time February

Last week's signs of spring were soon shattered as the wave of sub-zero caused motorists untold trouble and home owners to stoke-up, in order to be comfortable, during the early part of the week.

Following the heavy snow storm of a week ago, pussy-willows were seen to be breaking and buds on early leafed trees became somewhat enlarged. In the Speyside area most willow shrubs had several buds form on the tips of their branches. Old-timers were sure this was a sign of an early spring. But early Sunday their hopes seemed to be shattered when a blanket of cold air swept over the countryside.

By midnight it was near the zero mark. Then by morning reports had the mercury as low as fifteen. Everybody stoked up a little harder as the mercury rose slowly. Finally relief was felt Tuesday as workers even then shuffled their way to business, with shivers . . . Just hoping it wouldn't last too long.

"As Others See Us", Subject of Address At Canadian Club

One of the outstanding lectures of the season to date sponsored by the Women's Canadian Club was that of February 9th, when Mrs. Helen Gordon McPherson addressed the members on the theme "As Others See Us".

Mrs. McPherson comes from Vancouver, and is a gifted writer and lecturer. She has travelled from coast to coast in the United States addressing both men's and women's clubs and in the course of these addresses she essays to interpret Canada and Canadians to the American public. The mirror she holds before us in order that we may see ourselves as others see us is thought-provoking to say the least.

Mrs. McPherson describes Canada as an interpreter, especially between the United Kingdom and the United States. Canada, she claims, is practised in the art of compromise and functions well in Conciliatory conferences. The growth of Canada's External Affairs' Department is significant and the part which our representatives play is of unquestionable value. On the other hand, we know too little about our own country because of its rapid growth and changing status. Sectionalism is our bane. Nature divided our country into sections. We need a greater sense of unity and nationalism. Yet by all means to cultivate that international viewpoint so that we may continue to make that valuable conciliatory contribution in international affairs.

An interesting question time followed the lecture. Mrs. M. E. Nixon presided and conveyed the thanks of the members to the speaker.
