He Went Smilin' Thro' A Stop Road

When we saw a truck sweeping along the base line west on Wednesday afternoon as we went down No. 25 Highway we remembered some advice given us when we first started to drive an automobile. "Drive always under the assumption that the other fellow is a fool". Thanks to that advice our car is all in one piece without a scratch and although a bit unnerved, the editor is not harmed. That truck went sailing through the intersection just as we came to it without any indication of stopping and as we brought our car to a quivering stop he passed within a foot and laughed and waved his hand and went on down the base line eastward toward Hornby.

We're told that trucks travelling along the base line have a habit of neglecting to stop at No. 25 Highway. The one yesterday was not the first we have noted but it was definitely the closest we'll ever meet and miss. We believe the name on the side began with an N and we could secure further information if so desired. In the interest of safety let's have some observance of these stop signs and not try that smilin' through act any more even if you have the advantage of a heavily loaded truck.

HI-TIMES

By Seymour English

The big social event of the year, the annual Spring Dance, has come and gone and by all reports it was a great success. It has been a long time since our tired old eyes have seen such a collection of beautiful femininity and handsome masculinity in Milton High. We noticed several lovely evening gowns but not one—not a single tuxedo. How come?

This would be a good opportunity to rectify an error we made Friday night. When Mr. Hopkins decided that the president should "say a few words" we were so flustered that the obvious remarks were omitted. On behalf of ourselves and the Student Council we wish to thank both Mr. Hopkins and the orchestra for the excellent music, and all the girls who helped prepare and serve the lunch.

Now that the social season is over and exams are in sight, everyone is studying feverishly. Oh, we admit that about two hundred of our brighter students aren't, but even they expect to do a little on the eleventh of June. In the meantime they operate on the old theory that one should "eat, drink, go out at night, for tomorrow we write an exam."

At last our new clock and bell are working properly and Miss Carson earnestly wishes that they weren't. The bell is situated just outside the 9B room and makes such a racket that poor Miss Carson jumps every time it rings. As the song goes "You'll get used to it, and when you're used to it..." it will probably break down again.

Staff Round Town
Recently comes to us a story of another echo of the past.
It seems a coupon salesman for an out-of-town photographer, made the rounds, and when the photographer arrived and took the pictures we heard a few squawks about a poor job being done at a high price.
We often wonder how come these people can come into town and canvas without a license and also how come they can open shop for a day or two in some vacant room or hall without being assessed the one hundred dollar transient traders' fee.
A good way to remedy the situation is, that when any peddler or 'salesman' calls at your door, get in touch at once with your chief of police and let him check up on them.
Many dollars can be saved and many disappointments avoided if this rule is followed.
It is very seldom that any outsider can offer you anything in the way of goods or values that you can't find right in your own home town—with safety.
Don't forget, that the home town headquarters for ice cream is at
