Wonderful Example Shown Community

(Intended for last week)
Friends and neighbors gathered on Friday evening in Omagh school for a presentation party for Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Beatty, who have taken up residence in Milton. Cards were enjoyed with prizes for high scores going to Mrs. C. Marshall and Hugh Beatty. Carrying prizes were won by Lillie Campbell and George Peacock.

Following a lovely lunch, Mr. Clayton May, master of ceremonies, invited the guests of honor to the platform where they were made the gift of a handsome chrome kitchen set by Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. G. Brownridge and Mrs. G. Robinson. Mr. Beatty expressed appreciation on behalf of himself and Mrs. Beatty, inviting all to visit them in their new home.

Short addresses were given by Mr. Robert Marshall and Mr. George Peacock, who both commented that Mr. and Mrs. Beatty would be much missed in our immediate community but that throughout their life they had shown a wonderful example of good living, neighborliness and kindness that the younger people could well copy. All join in wishing this nice couple many happy years in Milton.

Adopt Church Plan For Subscriptions

The Every-Family Plan for subscriptions to the United Church Observer was adopted at the annual congregational meeting of the United church recently. C. F. Waite, minister, conducted the meeting, which was well attended, with Rev. E. W. Brearley of the Appleby-Nelson charge also present. Good progress was reported in all departments of the church, the highlight of the year being the new building and extension of the Sunday school room and redecoration of the auditorium.

A request was sent to Halton Presbytery for permission to have Mr. Waite officially preside over congregational and official board meetings. Orval Peer was appointed recording secretary for the meeting and the following were elected to the Board of Stewards: Charles Readhead (church treasurer), Jack Davey, Orval Peer, Clyde West, Harvey Millar, Roy Coulter, Tom Ramshaw and Jack Coulter.

There was no change made in the active members of session: Elmer Foster (clerk), Erland Colling, Burness Coulson, Burdge Gunby, Norman Langton, Featherstone Colling and George Coulson. Ushers appointed were: Harvey Millar, Reg Coulson, Donald Colling, Lynne Coulter and Jim Storing. Mrs. Mabel Davey and J. M. Readhead were again appointed organist and choir leader, respectively.

as important that a Christian take the Ten Commandments for his standard of behaviour today as it was in the time of Moses when God gave the Israelites the commandments. Merle suggested that we learn about the religion of other races if we are to understand their need for Christianity. Music was provided by the choir, accompanied by Ellen Foster.

At the Fireside hour in the Sunday school room following, the girls of Zimmerman led the devotion exercises and Bill Alexander of Burlington gave an interesting talk on the Yukon Territories, where he had spent six months of the past year. Jim Storing presented the vote of thanks.

Spanking Unwise Says Psychiatrist

Montreal. (CP)—Here's one psychiatrist who should be popular with children:

Dr. Alistair McLeod of the Red Feather Mental Hygiene Institute says spanking runs a poor third as a method of discipline.

"The paradoxical thing about spanking is that the child who might benefit from it doesn't need it, and the child who seems to need a good thrashing doesn't benefit from it," Dr. McLeod said.

Children with criminal tendencies had been found to have an unusually high resistance to pain and no fear of it whatsoever.

On the other hand, Dr. McLeod said, a child who always seems in the need of disciplining is a child with problems, and parents should think twice before reaching for the hairbrush.

He offered as alternatives to spankings: reward for success; cooperation between parent and child to get at the root of problems.
