JUVENILES COME FROM BEHIND TIE OAKVILLE; PLAY-OFFS START

On Tuesday, February 1, the high flying Milton Juvenile C team came from behind to tie the highly regarded Oakville Juveniles of the O.M.H.A. B series. This hard to pick any outstanding player on Milton ice this season and if it is any indication of future games, the people of Milton can be assured of some really outstanding hockey on future dates.

Coach Dooney Evans really has the boys in tip-top shape, playing bang-up hockey and with the odd break they should go a long way in the play-offs.

This game was hard fought all the way with Oakville starting to rough it up with eight penalties, including one misconduct and two five minutes. Milton received three penalties, including one five minutes for fighting.

As this was a real thriller it is hard to pick any outstanding player but honorable mention should go to Hannant, Charlton and Dance of Milton and Thompson of Oakville.

As Milton and Acton are both in C series and both ended up with the same points in the league, the play-offs between these two teams should be outstanding with both teams out to win. The first game is Thursday, February 3 in Acton with the second and final game being played in Milton on Tuesday, February 8.

Use of Advertising Results in Honors

The Grand Union Company has been honored with citations for "distinguished service through advertising" in three categories. The food chain won awards for exceptional advertising service to the customer to agriculture and to national brands. Grand Union was in competition with 1800 super markets in the United States and Canada.

The awards are designed to accord recognition to super markets whose newspaper advertising has become an increasingly powerful force for knowledge of nutrition and better family feeding. Presentation of the honors was made at the annual mid-winter meeting of Super Market Institute, attended by top super market management executives.

In making the award to Grand Union executives, William B. Carr, vice-president of McCalls' magazine, said, "The goal of Super Market Institute is 'That there may be more for all.' You have used your newspaper advertising with effectiveness and distinction in furthering that goal. Your advertising has contributed greatly to making more food available to all at a constantly lower cost."

Aims to Introduce Nightingales Here

Victoria (CP) — Some day in the not too distant future nightingales may be heard in North American forests and a new breed of hunting dog may be seen in Northern Ontario.

These two seemingly unconnected pieces of speculation are the objectives of Dick Van der Meer, a Dutch immigrant who lives at William Head near here among a hodge podge of birds and dogs.

Mr. Van der Meer wants to introduce the sweet song of the nightingale into the woods in this area.

Long Experience

He believes that his 24 years' experience in raising wild birds in Holland will enable him to successfully raise the songsters here.

At present, nightingales he has imported from Europe are thriving in cages at his home. He sees a major problem in the fact they are migratory birds and may not survive a trip south when they are released.

He hopes they will copy some Canada geese who winter near here. Birds do not take up all Mr. Van der Meer's time. He has 22 long-haired German pointers, which he describes as the world's best all-purpose dogs. His dogs are valued up to $1,000 each.

He believes the breed would be a boon to hunters in Northern Ontario where it is often too cold for the shorthaired dogs.

Younger Voters Get Citizenship Course

New Glasgow, N.S. (CP) — The Nova Scotia Federation of Home and School Associations has completed an experimental course in citizenship here which may be more widely adopted throughout the province.

The course was co-sponsored by the adult education division of the provincial education department and St. Francis Xavier University at Antigonish.

The first students were young men and women representing scattered parts of Pictou county. Their course was taught at weekly gatherings over a six weeks' period and revolved around such topics as the responsibility of the voter, the structure of the Canadian government and various local issues, chiefly economic.

There have been recommendations that similar courses be made available to younger voters in Nova Scotia. The federal citizenship and immigration department has shown interest in the plan and may encourage a broader application of it.

GUIDE AND Brownie NEWS

After a leave of absence of several weeks, Brown Owl, Mrs. S. E. Wood, was pleased to be back with the Brownies of the First Pack. Two weeks ago Brown Owl dropped in for a visit with the Pack and was in time for Pow Wow. This gave her an opportunity to thank Packy, Gayle Waldie, and First Class Guide Gaille Anderson for taking over the Pack during her absence, also to express her pleasure in finding the Pack had proven they were real Brownies by their actions and manners. The Brownies were reminded Thinking Day was soon approaching and church parade would be held Sunday. In speaking of Good Deeds, it was suggested the Brownies could help Mother and her friends, remember to save their papers to help the Scouts and Cubs with their paper drives every month.

Last week's meeting, January 27, was very important to the Brownies in particular. They were enrolled as Brownies and to add to their pleasure, Mother and Dad came along to the meeting because it was so special. During the meeting the Sixers made a pool in the meadow to remind all the Brownies of their Brownie Story. Then our seven Brownies, Barbara Coulson, Linda Coulson, Ruth Davis, Betty Lou Bundy, Judy Brown, Esther Skidmore and Gwen Morley, sat around the pool, where they were found by their Sixers.

Each Six in turn came into the Fairy Ring to meet Brown Owl and repeat their Promise. Then each new Brownie in turn was introduced to her Seconder and presented with her name tape. The Pack welcomed the new Brownies with the Grand Howl.

The meeting was closed in the usual manner with Taps and a Brownie Prayer after Pow Wow.

Says Much Smoking Caused by Nerves

Montreal (CP) — Canadians smoke billions of cigarettes a year but few know how to taste a good one, says Joseph Kastner, who has been in the tobacco business since 1908.

"They smoke because they're nervous, especially the women," he explains. "Everything is so fast, fast, fast—they just smoke one after another from habit."

Mr. Kastner started rolling cigarettes as a business in Germany 46 years ago. He's still at it, rolling special blends for a select list of customers.

"I used to be able to make eight a minute," he recalls. "When I was a foreman in Berlin, a long time ago, we had 4,000 girls rolling cigarettes in our factory. Then the machines came."

Mr. Kastner thinks scientists examining the effects of tobacco on the lungs should pay more attention to cigarette paper.

"We used to use thin, almost transparent paper but it didn't burn very well," he says. "They've got a lot of funny ingredients in cigarette papers now, and who knows what it does to your health."

Costly Water Line To Be Investigated

Ratepayers turned out for a meeting in Sixth Line school on Thursday evening arranged by the planning board. The plans may be clear enough to those in the know but many felt it should be looked into further before making any definite decision.

One question that aroused discussion was the proposed laying of a water line to Hornby from Lake Ontario at a tremendous cost. This cost would be borne by the taxpayers.

A committee was named to look into the matter.

Local Euchre

On Wednesday evening a good crowd attended the local euchre at Sixth Line school. Winners were Miss Doreen Howden and Mrs. George Peacock, Arnold Howden and John O'Connor. Tea hostess was Mrs. Cecil Patterson.

Accident Climaxes Year of Hard Luck

Thomas Harvey, son-in-law of the late Len White, who was a former publisher of the Canadian Champion, was killed by a car on Saturday night at Richmond Hill. Police believe Mr. Harvey was walking along the highway when he was struck by a car driven by Harold Nesbitt of Aurora.

The accident climaxed a year of hard luck for the family. Mr. Harvey had broken a hip and was not fully recovered. His daughter, Mrs. Anita Hudson, lost her possessions in the Wilcox Lake area as a result of Hurricane Hazel. Mrs. Harvey, the former Ethel White, who survives, is a semi-invalid.

Mr. Harvey was interred in Milton on Tuesday after funeral service at Richmond Hill.
