"THE COUNTRY STORE"

Far out beyond the city's lights, away from din and roar, The cricket chirps on summer nights beneath the country store; The drygoods boxes rickety about afford a welcome seat For weary tillers of the ground, who here on evenings meet.

A swinging sign of ancient make, and one above the door, Proclaim that William Henry Blake is owner of the store; Here everything from jam to tweed, from silks to ginghams bright, Is spread before the folk who need from early morn till night.

Tea, sugar, coffee, (brown'd or green), molasses, grindstones, tar, Suspenders, peanuts, navy beans, and homemade vinegar, Fine combs, wash ringers, rakes, false hair, paints, rice, and look-glasses, Side saddles, crockery ware, and seeds for garden grasses.

Lawn mowers, candles, books to read, corn planter, household goods, Tobacco, salt, and clover seed, horsewhips and knitted hoods, Canned goods, shoe blacking, lime and nails, straw hats and carpet slippers, Prunes, buttons, codfish, bridal veils, cranberries, clocks, and clippers.

Umbrellas, candies, scythes and hats, caps, boots and shoes and bacon, Thread, nutmegs, pins and Rough on Rats, for cash or produce taken; Birdseed, face powder, matches, files, ink, onions and many more, Are found in heaps and stacks and piles within the country store.

Urges Full Study Of Water Contracts

Lethbridge, Alta. (CP)—Dr. Andrew Stewart, president of the University of Alberta, told agriculturists here recently that contracts with water users are the controlling factor in the continuation of irrigation projects.

Normally when there is investment in a new project, returns from the project could be expected to cover its cost, plus the prevailing interest rate, Dr. Stewart said.

"This is not the case for irrigation," he continued. "We should know what the total cost will be, what we will recover from users and the amount of the subsidy required."

Contracts with water users on payment for irrigation services should be set at a figure which will ensure continuation of the project. If the contract rate is too low, the right acquired will develop value. Land prices will climb and the farmer will be able to dispose

In 1954 more than 160,000 Canadian of all ages participated in Swimming and Water Safety projects of the Canadian Red Cross.

Since 1939 the total of federal income taxes paid by Canadians has increased by 2,600 per cent.

Christian Witness Always Obligation

There was an excellent attendance of members and friends when the Afternoon Auxiliary, W.M.S. of St. Paul's United Church, met at the home of Mrs. Frank Hadley, Mill St. on Thursday last. Mrs. George King president, was in the chair.

Departmental reports all reflected interest and activity. Korean Relief work is going forward steadily, different groups taking over the work responsibility each month. The financial allocation for the Society, for the year was accepted in prayerful dedication.

Plans were considered for an open meeting in April, invitations being extended all women of the churches in town and the community to hear an important address concerning the World Council of Churches, by Mrs. H. C. Smith of Oakville.

Announcement was made of the W.M.S. Presbyterial meeting at Port Credit in April. Members are urged to attend the morning and afternoon sessions.

The afternoon's worship service was in charge of Mrs. George Menzies and Mrs. H. Agnew, other members taking part. Mrs. R. B. Galbraith's summary of the closing chapters of the study book, The Church in India, was a compelling statement to the effect "that the obligation of Christians, individually and in church or missionary groups, is the Christian witness, at all times and in all places." A sense of unity of One-ness in Christ is the great spiritual instrument in achieving brotherhood and peace in the world.

Hostess For Two Ladies' Aid Groups

Mrs. Edgar Cairns was hostess to the Ladies' Aid on Tuesday for a quilting and on Wednesday for a regular monthly meeting — Mrs. Parker vice-president, presided for the meeting which was opened with a hymn. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. M. McPhail had charge of the devotions. The secretary-treasurer, and Cheer secretary gave their reports.

Plans were made for the St. Patrick's supper, also two other suppers to be in April. Committees were appointed to look after the same. Other items of business were discussed.

Mrs. E. Cairns took charge of the programme. Mrs. J. K. Mahon gave a reading "Calmness and Courage" written by Rev. Dr. Pidgeon. An article entitled "The Ladies' Aid" was read by Mrs. Phillips. Mrs. R. B. Elliot read a poem "The Loafer." All three numbers were interesting. The birthday song was sung for Mrs. S. Cairns.

Hymn 212 was sung and the meeting was closed with prayer by the president. A social period followed which all enjoyed.
