Mrs. W. J. Robertson Hostess To United Church W.A., W.M.S.

Mrs. W. J. Robertson was hostess to the W.A. and W.M.S. groups of the United Church for their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. F. O. Colling was program convener and was assisted in the worship service by Mrs. Orval Peer reading the Scripture passage, and Mrs. M. E. Coulson and Mrs. G. E. Coulson rendering a sacred duet. Mrs. Colling led in prayer.

The following gave complete and helpful reports: Evening Auxiliary organization and a letter from Angola by Miss Marjory Miller by Mrs. Thos. Ramshaw; why we should read and how, by the Literature secretary, Mrs. Geo. Colling; articles on temperance and citizenship, given by Mrs. Wm. Hayward and Mrs. Geo. Readhead, respectively; and a paper on Stewardship prepared by Mrs. J. M. Readhead and read by Mrs. E. C. Foster.

A short business meeting of the W.A. was held, with the president, Mrs. Roy Coulter, in the chair. A satisfactory treasurer's report was given on the special service offering and correspondence read concerning open house invitations to the United Church training school and Five Oaks Christian Workers Centre at Paris. The picnic for the girls at Cedarvale school, Georgetown, was also announced and it was agreed that a group would attend. This picnic is sponsored by the Presbytery W.A.

An article on Christian Education committees was read by Mrs. Geo. Coulson and the president closed the meeting with prayer. The hostess and committee served lunch.

Mrs. C. F. Waite, Mr. E. C. Foster and Mrs. Velma Norris attended the Hamilton Conference annual meeting at Sudbury over the week-end. Mrs. Wm. R. G. Johnston, Milton, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Davidson, Acton, and Mr. A. R. Coulter, Campbellville, represented Halton County at the Zone 3 meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture meeting at Uxbridge, Ontario County, Monday, June 6. They report an excellent meeting.

Church Meeting Held in Sudbury

Local delegates were among over 400 who attended the annual meeting of the Hamilton conference of the United Church in Sudbury last week-end. The conference includes five Presbyteries, and this is the first time the meeting has ever been held at such a remote centre.

The delegates were billeted in homes, some of them in the model company town of Lively. Population is already 3,000 in this two-year-old town with four churches already established.

Matters of growing importance in the area were dealt with.

Sunday afternoon, nine young men and one young woman were ordained. One of the ordinands and his wife, a training school graduate, are leaving immediately for Rhodesia, as the first missionaries from the copper belt of Canada to the copper belt of Africa.

Halton Presbytery this year has six candidates for the ministry, each coming from the professional world to take the required courses in theology.

At a service of witness in Sudbury community arena, over 3,000 reconsecrated themselves to the service of the church.

Addresses touched on a variety of subjects of current importance. Sudbury has a population of over 52,000 yet, in view of recent developments, it has been predicted that in five years it may exceed 150,000.

Attending the district conference of the United Church in Sudbury over the weekend were W. R. Hume, Miss Mina Hume and Rev. J. L. Blair from St. Paul's United Church, Clifford Waite and Elmer Foster from Lowville United Church, Mrs. Velma Norris representing the Halton Presbytery W.A. and Ian Williams of Hornby.

A letter was also read from the Halton Presbytery Woman's Association inviting the society to a picnic at the Cedarvale school for girls at Georgetown.

The meeting was closed with the Mizpah.

For the W.M.S., Mrs. Brownridge presided. The meeting opened with a hymn. The ladies were very pleased with the good number who attended their annual Blossom Tea on May 24. There were around 110 ladies present. The devotional part of the meeting was taken by Miss Lela Featherstone. Mrs. E. Ford was in charge of the Temperance meeting.

Do You Know?

What is Asthma? The answer, of course, is that Asthma is not a disease, it is a symptom complex which may be caused by several underlying diseases. Asthma (laboured breathing, wheezing, cyanosis, etc.) may be found in chronic bronchitis, Pneumoconoses (such as Silicosis or Miner's Lung) or in Allergy.

In all patients exhibiting the symptoms of Asthma, the cause must be ascertained. If the cause is Pneumoconiosis, the lungs may be so badly damaged that little can be done. Fortunately, this condition is rare in Southern Ontario.

Chronic Bronchitis and Bronchiectasis respond very well to Chiropractic treatment and removal of the nerve irritation is often followed by regeneration of the bronchial tissues.

In allergy the cause is an abnormal sensitivity of various irritants which is peculiar to the patient. In these cases, the Chiropractor does not perform tests to identify the offending substance and try to eliminate it. Instead, the Chiropractor adjusts the patient's nervous system to normalize it; this removes the abnormal over-sensitivity and creates health, with permanent release from the discomfort of Asthma.

BUSY EDITOR
The newspaper man who takes his vocation seriously is one of the busiest men in any community. He must take an active interest in every phase of community life, therefore his work is never ended. It's challenging, but often frustrating. But with all, there's a fascination about getting out a weekly community newspaper because the names are news about people you know.—Campbellton (N.B.) Parents Should Know Baby Sitters; Sitters Should Know Several Rules

Of the 12,000 persons who lose their lives annually in the U. S. and Canada, it is said fully 4,000 are children. Half that number, reports indicate, are in the age group of five years old or less—the period when they are powerless to help themselves in the event of fire.

Baby-sitting is a popular part-time job for many teen-agers and older people here, and suggestions forwarded by the local firemen will be of interest to many mothers as well as baby sitters in the district.

Children of this age, and all youngsters who are unable to think or act for themselves, should never be left unattended. But before entrusting their children to baby sitters, parents should know something about those to whom they entrust their offspring, and also they, as well as the sitters, should be familiar with the more important fire safety considerations.

Parents should know the sitter, his or her family training and background. Only those sitters should be employed who have a sense of responsibility and who like children and who preferably live in the neighborhood. It is advisable to have the same sitter regularly, if possible, and to leave the sitter instructions in writing as well as orally.

Here is fundamental information sitters should obtain from the parents:

1. The house number and street name.

2. Location of the house telephone.

3. Location of all exits from the house (including openings to porches and/or extensions) from which rescues could be made.

4. Emergency telephone numbers: fire; police; medical.

5. Nearest Fire Alarm box location (if any).

6. How to shut off the heating units: (a) the furnace, by thermostat; (b) space heater, by carburetor control; (c) electric or other heaters.

7. Is there a flashlight available to the sitter—in good working order?

8. Destination of parents. Telephone number or other information on how they can be reached. Name of responsible person to call in case of emergency.

Here are recommended things for the baby sitter to do in the event of fire:

1. Remember, your first responsibility is the safety of the children. Get them to safety.

2. Call the fire department. A fire alarm box may be used, but do not leave the children alone. Get them out of the house, or in a safe location, before calling. If more convenient, use the house phone or that of a neighbor.

3. If you smell smoke but see no fire, call the fire department. In such cases it may not be necessary to get the children out, but be prepared—have an exit in mind.

4. In the event of cold or inclement weather, there may be question of proper dress for your charges. It may be a serious mistake to pause to dress the children—the delay may be fatal. It is much better to grab a blanket or something else to wrap them in.

5. When you turn in an alarm: if from a street box, remain to direct firemen to the location of the fire (after making sure your charges are evacuated). If via telephone, be at the front door to notify the firemen. Put the porch light on.

6. If there be an odor of gas present, remove the children to safety. Notify the fire department. Do not turn on or off any switches as they may create a spark that could ignite the gas vapors present and cause an explosion.
