OH, THOSE PIPERS! Yes, underneath the masks and phony costumes are the Milton members of the Lorne Scots pipe band, who dropped their regimental regalia for a fun-filled Hallowe'en night. The pipers and drummers paused for this picture between entertainments at the arena where the Rotary Hallowe'en carnival was held.

HALTON MANOR

Hallowe'en Party, Euchre Activities Visiting Groups Provide Programs

Ten ladies and ten men attended the October 27th euchre party, making five tables of progressive euchre in play.

On Tuesday afternoon, October 28th, five ladies from the Salvation Army Training School in Toronto, conducted a program of a sacred nature at the Manor. These ladies had been attending a Salvation Army rally at Oakville and had undertaken this project. They were followed by four Salvation Army bandmen playing their brass instruments.

The five "Lassies" were under leadership of Capt. E. Hammond. She played the accompaniments for all the musical numbers, gave an eloquent prayer and also played the accordion. Sgt. J. Mitchell led in the singing of several familiar hymns. A trio of ladies, Cadet Mrs. G. Newton, Cadet Frayn and Capt. E. Hammond, sang a lovely vocal selection, "He Hideth My Soul." The scripture lesson from chapter 4 of Hebrews was read by Cadet S. Frayn.

See Flannelgraph

A flannelgraph, "The Gospel Star," presented by Cadet Thorne of Nova Scotia, was greatly enjoyed. Testimonies were given by two bandmen, Cadets Gee and Cullen. A very fine vocal solo, "Who can Cheer the Heart like Jesus", was sung by Cadet Mrs. Newton. An eloquent and inspiring closing address was given by Capt. Hammond. A speech of thanks was given by Muriel Thompson.

Arrange Party

About twenty ladies belonging to the Evening Auxiliary of St. John's United Church in Oakville arranged a very enjoyable party for the residents on Tuesday night, Oct. 28. The dining room had been decorated with black and orange cut-outs of witches, black cats and all the traditional emblems of Hallowe'en, and the visiting ladies brought a very effective Jack-O-

Lantern with them. The president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. L. Fulford, acted as chairman and announced the members. All the piano accompaniments were played by Mrs. E. Brearley.

A short devotional period was first on the program. The hymn, "What a Friend", was sung. Miss Dennis read the Beatitudes from chapter 5 of St. Matthew and a prayer was given by Mrs. DeCourcy. The hymn "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus", was sung and closed his part of the program.

Community Singing

Community singing came next on the program. Old-time ballads and folk-songs, accompanied by Mrs. Brearley at the piano and Mrs. Radley on her accordion, were sung in spirited fashion. Mrs. Radley also played a fine accordion solo, "Whispering Hope". Pretty colored slides showing autumn scenes in Muskoka were shown by Miss Dennis. These were followed by several readings, two of them very amusing, by Mrs. Haigh, the chief reading being "Mrs. Arris at the Photographers'". Two enjoyable vocal solos were sung by Miss Thelma Skoog, their titles being "Sundown and Mighty Like a Rose."

Alaska Slides

A series of informative colored slides taken in Alaska last summer were shown by Miss Latimer, who gave an interesting commentary as the slides were shown. A trio of ladies, Miss Skoog, Mrs. Brearley and Mrs. Andorfer sang, unaccompanied, the sacred selection "Praise Ye the Lord."

This varied and interesting program was followed by a delicious lunch of sandwiches, cookies and tea. The visiting ladies were thanked on behalf of their very appreciative audience by Mrs. S. Allen. The visitors left a very attractive Hallowe'en basket, decorated with orange and black paper and containing fruit, small cakes and candy for each resident.

Hold Hallowe'en Party

A merry evening, full of rollicking fun and entertainment, took place at the Manor on Wednesday evening, Oct. 29th, when the Hobby Class entertained the residents at a Hallowe'en party. Orange and black cut-outs of Hallowe'en emblems and two lighted Jack-O-Lanterns furnished an appropriate background for the weird and comic costumes worn by a goodly number of the residents.

The party was under direction of the two directors, Mrs. S. Lockie and Mrs. S. Allen. A parade of the masqueraders before the judges, Mrs. M. Smith and George Robertson, resulted in the following prizes being awarded—first, second and third prizes for best Hallowe'en costumes—Miss H. Metcalfe, Miss E. Hannant, Miss Hilda Marcy. First and second prize for man dressed in best woman's costume, Mr. Sam Bacon, Jim Begley. Special prize—Mrs. Lockie.

Tour Manor

After the judging, the parade toured the Infirmary so that the patients there might join in the fun. After the parade and judging, a very dainty "golden blonde lady" entered the room and caused many a masculine heart to flutter. After the "blonde" had puzzled many persons it was discovered that "she" was no other than Mr. Stan Allen, the Superintendent.

A number of amusing contests were conducted. For dropping pegs into a milk bottle, Mrs. Roder, R.N., was awarded the prize. For drawing the best pumpkin with the electric lights out—Eddie Dowdle. For a contest in which a lady fed a tart to a man, Mrs. M. Smythe, Mr. Allen. For blowing up the biggest balloon, George Robertson. A short musical program followed the contests. Josie Van Grunsven played several selections on her electric guitar.

Lunch Served

The Knox church quartette, Neil McPhail, Cameron Wilson, Bill and

David Lockie, sang "Passing By" and several sacred numbers. A delicious lunch of sandwiches, pumpkin tarts and tea closed a very entertaining evening. Much credit is due Mrs. Lockie, Mrs. Allen and "The Golden Blonde", for a very merry Hallowe'en party.

Another group of women residents is grateful to Mrs. Louis Keene of R.R. 1, Campbellville, for a very enjoyable ride to Lowville, Kilbride and vicinity on Thursday afternoon, October 30th.

When the residents assembled in the dining-room for supper on Friday, October 31st, they found pretty place-cards made of orange and black paper at their plates. These had been made and donated by St. Christopher's Church Year in Burlington.

Chapel Speaker

The spirited singing of hymns and an enlightening sermon by Rev. Paul Zimmerman, a college friend of Rev. K. L. Campbell, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church in Milton, featured the chapel service on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 2nd. The accompaniments for the familiar hymns were played by Mr. Jack Mountain and the singing led by Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Zimmerman described his work among the American Negroes, especially those of Spring City, Tennessee, where 10 missionaries, including Mr. Zimmerman himself, administer to the needs of these unfortunate persons. He illustrated his sermon by several quotations from the First Epistle of John in

Rev. J. L. Blair Guest Speaker At Anniversary

Rev. J. L. Blair a former minister of St. Paul's United Church, was the guest preacher on Sunday for the 106th anniversary of that church.

Mrs. Charles Lambert, Clarkson, was the guest soloist providing solos at the morning and evening services.

Special music was also contributed by the choir under the direction of Mrs. H. Magee, including I am Alpha and Omega, and Bless this House.

Rev. Blair addressed his sermon "The Church on the March" to a filled church in the morning stressing the importance of prayer, which the following eternal truths about God are explained. God is Light, God is Righteous, God is Love.

stewardship, and witness as elements that keep a church moving ahead. In the evening his sermon topic was "The Master's Touch". Rev. Osborne and Rev. J. L. Graham assisted in the evening service.
