RIGHT AROUND HOME

by Shirley

This week's recipes are two more types of sweet breads, which we featured last week.

The French Coffee Cake has a delicious nut flavor. We used pecan nuts and preferred them to walnuts for this recipe. This cake is best served hot or reheated.

The jam-filled biscuits are excellent for holiday breakfast when you can really take time to enjoy them. These also should be served hot.

French Coffee Cake

- 1/2 cup finely packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup finely chopped nuts
- 1 cup margarine
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 cups sifted all purpose flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup sour cream or sour milk

Set the oven moderately low, 325 degrees. Grease and flour a 10 inch tube pan.

Mix the first four ingredients and set aside. Beat margarine until creamy. Gradually add the granulated sugar; beat until fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time, then stir in vanilla. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add soda to sour cream and stir. Add the flour mixture alternately with the sour cream to the egg mixture. Stir only enough after each addition to blend. Pour half the batter into the pan. Sprinkle with 1/2 of the nut mixture. Pour in remaining batter; top with remaining nut mixture.

Bake 55 minutes or until brown. Let cool in pan 10 minutes. Loosen around tube and sides, remove from pan and cool on a rack. Serve hot for breakfast or an afternoon snack.

NOTE: If sour milk is not available, place 1 tablespoon vinegar in a measuring cup, add milk to make 1 cup.

Jam-Filled Biscuits

- 2 cups pastry flour
- 3 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons fine granulated sugar
- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1/3 cup milk
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- Thick raspberry jam

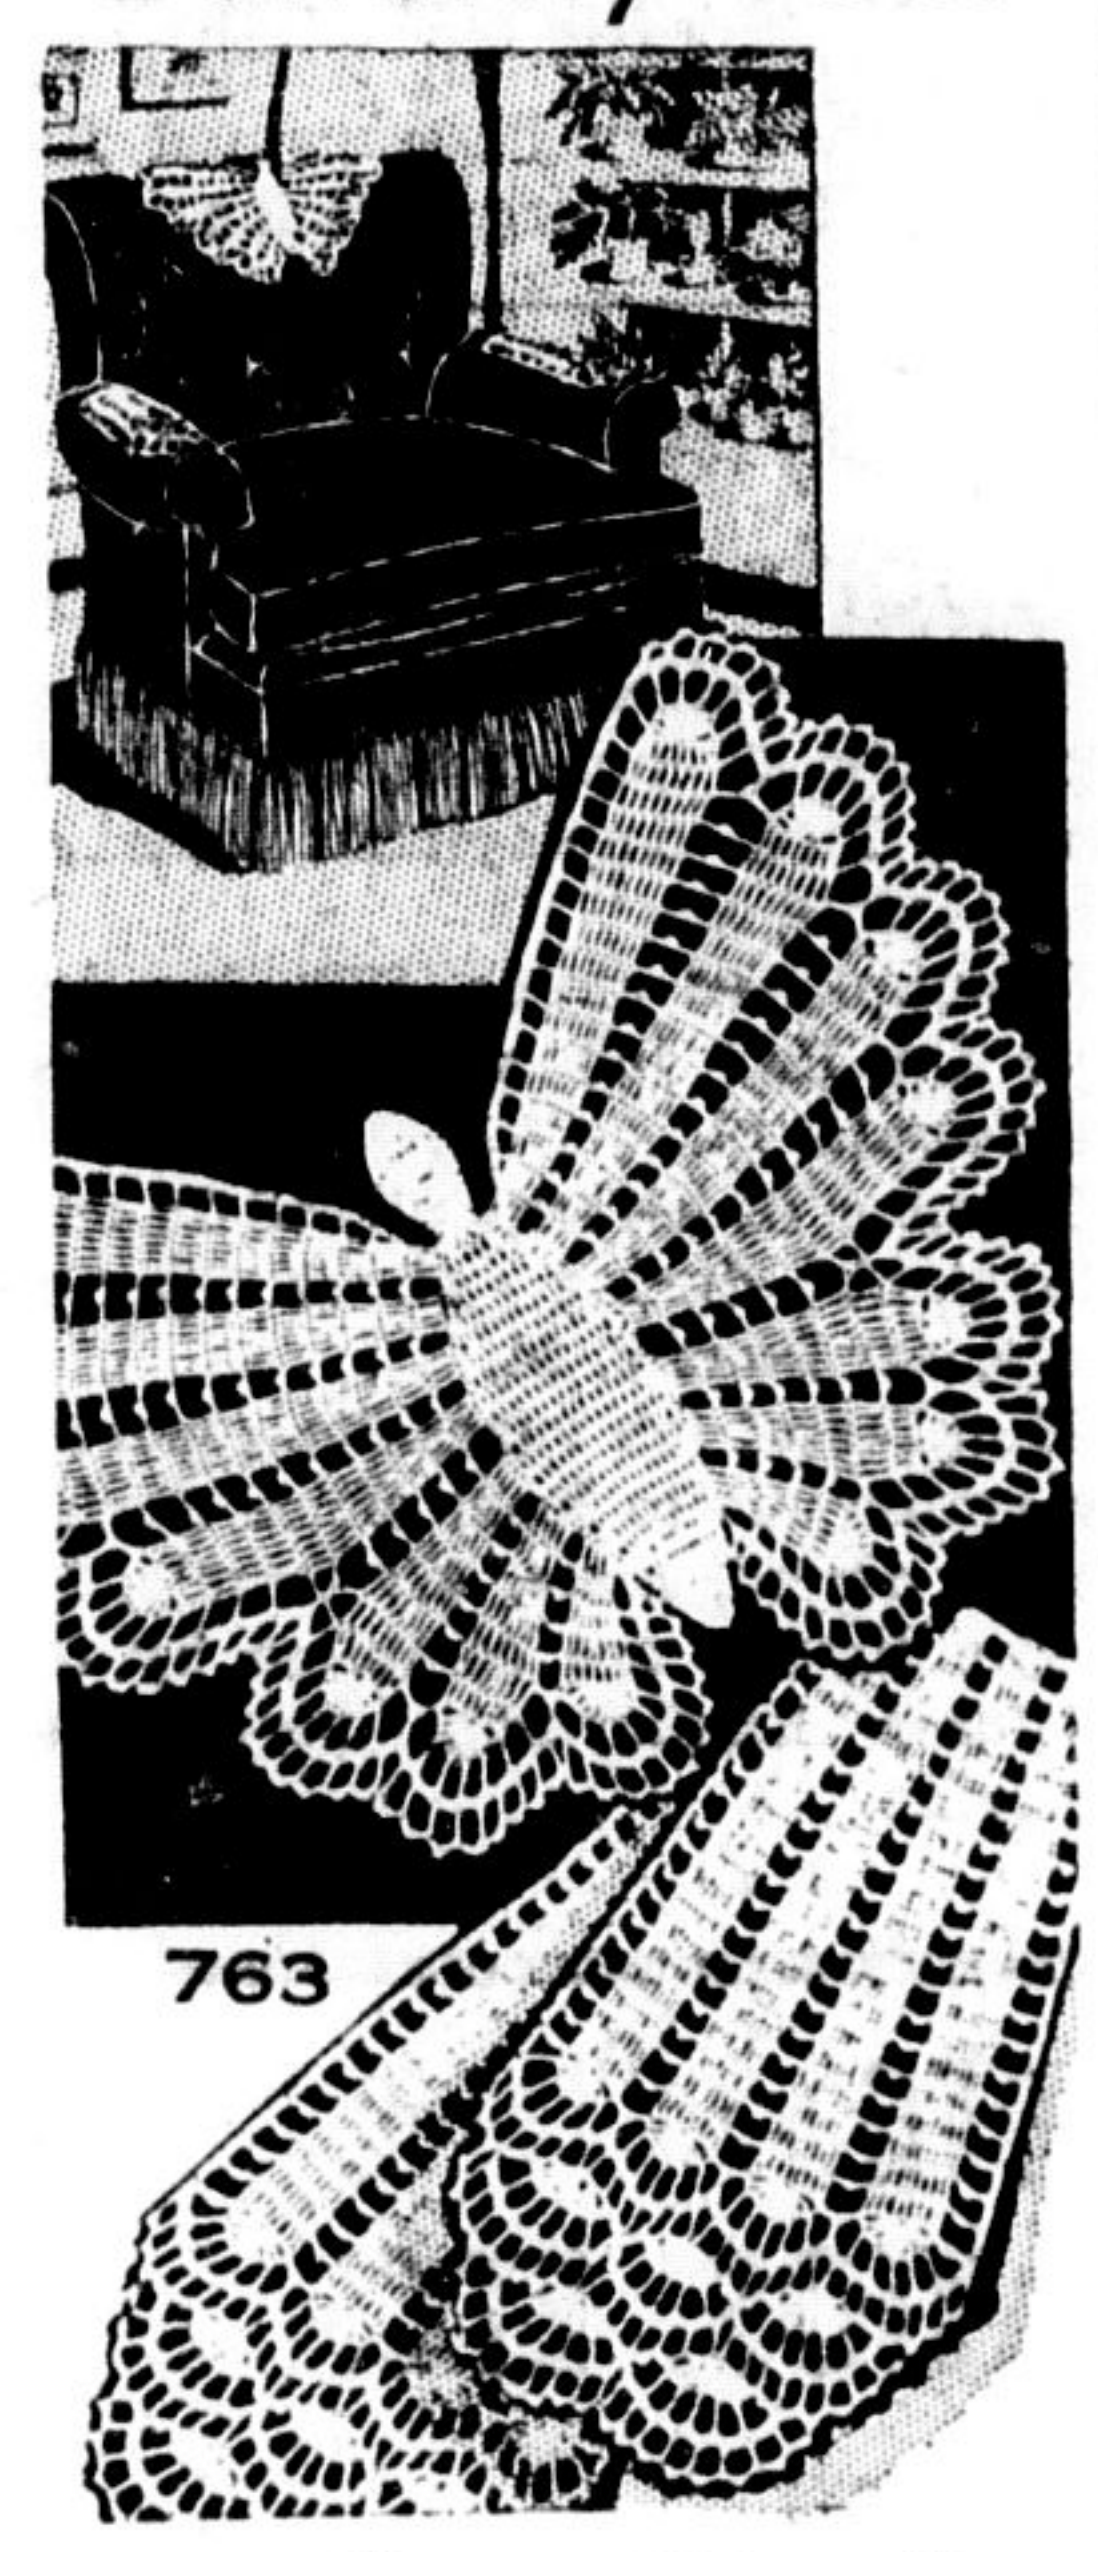

Grease a cookie sheet. Preheat oven to 425 degrees.

Mix and sift once, then sift into a bowl, the flour, baking powder, salt and 2 tablespoons sugar. Cut in butter or margarine finely. Combine well beaten egg and milk. Make a well in the flour mixture and add liquids; mix lightly with a fork, adding milk if necessary, to make a soft dough. Knead for 10 seconds on lightly floured baking board and roll out to half inch thickness; shape with floured 2 1/2 inch cookie cutter.

Arrange well apart on prepared cookie sheet; make a deep impression in centre of each round of dough. Brush dough with a little milk and sprinkle with a mixture of the remaining 1 tablespoon sugar and cinnamon. Drop a small spoonful of raspberry jam into each impression. Bake in preheated oven about 12 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 1 doz. biscuits.

W.A. Bazaar Well Attended; Hunters Lucky

Hornby United Church afternoon W.A. held their annual bazaar in the church hall on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 8th. The bazaar was well attended and was presided by Mrs. Doug Leslie, the president of the W.A.

Ministers Meet

Fifty-six ministers and laymen of the Halton Presbytery held a meeting in the United Church hall on Nov. 4. A buffet supper, prepared by the Evening W.A. was enjoyed by the ministers and laymen.

Hunters Lucky

Some of the Hornby deer hunters are home. The hunters that Mr. Delbert Downs was with came home with eleven deer and one moose for the eleven men on the hunt near Minden, Mr. Gordon Lee was in a hunting party of eleven near Inholme Lodge. They brought home seven deer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley and family visited with relatives in Welland on Sunday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson who were married on Saturday, November 8th, at St. Stephen's Anglican Church. Mrs. Robinson is the former Carole Hunter.

The school children at Hornby Public school had a holiday on Monday, Tuesday being Armistice Day.

LAYING PLANS for their Christmas Ball in the Pine Room Oakville on Friday, November 21, are members of the Sarah Martin Chapter I.O.D.E. Shown seated are Mrs. P. D. Hill, Mrs. John Park, Mrs. M. Roberts and standing are Mrs. John Noble and Mrs. Peter Hendrie. Special decorations for the event are shown on the table as the conveners make preparations for the project.—Adv't.

Bride Wears Brocaded Satin Attendant in Crimson Velvet

With Rev. James Maxwell officiating in St. Stephen's church, Hornby, Carole Diane Hunter and William Cecil Robinson exchanged wedding rings. The ceremony took place on Saturday afternoon, November 8, with white mums decorating the chancel of the church and white and red carnations on the pews.

The bride, a student at Toronto Teachers' College, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hunter of R.R. 2, Georgetown. The groom, who is a student at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Robinson of R.R. 1, Oakville.

Miss Elaine Laird of Norval played the wedding music. Harold Brain of Fort Erie was soloist, choosing Wedding Prayer and O Perfect Love.

Bow Accents

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of brocaded satin with a fitted bodice, three-quarter length sleeves and bateau neckline. The softly pleated skirt featured bow accents. Her shoulder length veil was caught to a pearl and sequin tiara.

She carried a cascade bouquet of red baby roses and white stephanotis.

She was given in marriage by her father.

Her only attendant, as her maid of honor, was Miss Marie Harrop of Norval.

Her ballerina length gown was of crimson velvet with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and full skirt. Her headpiece was of snow white feathers. Her cascade bouquet was of white baby mums.

Groomsman was his cousin, Tom Preston. Ushers were Tom Hunter, brother of the bride, and George Greenlees, R.R. 3, Campbellville.

Many Guests

The home of the bride's parents was opened after the ceremony for the guests from Toronto, Hamilton, Streetsville, Brampton, Georgetown, Orono, Grand Valley, Milton, Summerville, Port Credit, Norval, Fort Erie, London, Oakville, Palermo and Campbellville.

Among them were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Daymond of Hamilton and the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parton of Summerville.

Mrs. Hunter wore for her daughter's marriage a dress of ice-blue ottoman cord with Dior blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's mother chose a dress of midnight blue crepe with Chantilly lace, with winter white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple left on a wedding trip to the Eastern States. For travelling, the bride wore a blue Empire dress with a Spencer jacket and white accessories, topped by a peacock blue coat and corsage of red roses.

SMOKING LEADS

Eight principal causes of fires in Canadian homes are: Careless smoking and handling of matches; misuse of electricity; defective or overheated heating and cooking equipment; improper disposal of rubbish; careless handling of kerosene and other flammable liquids; lightning; defective or overheated chimneys; children and matches.

Mrs. B. Boyle Shows Slides Of Yukon to Ladies' Groups

The Boston church ladies held their November meetings at the home of Mrs. Harry Davis. The president, Mrs. J. Irving, opened the W.M.S. meeting with the good thought followed by the doxology and prayer.

A nominating committee was chosen, namely, Mrs. Gordon McGibbon, Mrs. H. Michie, Mrs. S. Murray; also a membership pin committee, Mrs. I. Stark and Mrs. H. Michie.

The text word was shepherd. Mrs. J. Irving gave as her scripture reading the third chapter of Proverbs. The glad tidings prayer was read by Mrs. Davis. All joined in singing "What a Friend we have in Jesus."

Mrs. Irving introduced the guest Mrs. Robertson of Milton, who brought a fine message prepared by Mrs. Wylie of Streetsville, vice-president of section 2. Miss Hampshire thanked Mrs. Robertson and the meeting closed by all repeating the Lord's prayer.

Slides of Yukon

Mrs. Dredge opened the Ladies' Aid meeting with prayer; Psalm 74 was sung.

Mrs. I. Stark and Mrs. H. Michie volunteered to act as a visiting committee for November. The roll call word was praise. The ladies were pleased to welcome to the meeting Mrs. Ben Boyle (the former Marion Peddie) who with her husband and son had spent the summer in the Yukon. She showed colored slides, taken around Fort St. John, Teslin, Allin, Watson Lake and along the Alaska highway and told of many incidents of their stay in the Yukon.

The meeting closed by all repeating the Mizpah benediction after which a social time was enjoyed by all.

Horticultural Notes For the Month of November

Prepared by the Milton and District Horticultural Society

Outdoor bulb planting may be continued until hard freezing, if earlier work was not permissible. Soil lightly encrusted by frost, may be removed and the bulbs planted beneath, if well mulched with manure or litter afterwards — in order that bulbs may take root before freezing reaches their depth. Earlier planted bulbs should also be mulched before freezing sets in.

Mulching for the protection of perennial bulbs and borders should not be applied until the first hard frosts arrive. Earlier mulching encourages mice. Heavy manure is not advisable and might do more harm than good. Air circulation is almost as necessary in Winter as Summer. Cover lightly with branches, evergreens or old conestalks, to catch falling leaves and hold snow. Screened coal ashes are sometimes used for mulching delphinium crowns and some other perennials raised from seed.

Rotten Manure Best

Do not allow leaves to lie on the lawn, or bare spots may result. Topdress the lawn with a loam manure mixture or with very fine well rotted manure.

Make little ditches in the rock garden and see that no stones are damming water into pools. Fall is a good time to begin construction of a rock garden. The soil and rocks would be well settled by Spring.

Water lilies and tender aquatic plants should be inside by now and the pool drained. Fill with leaves or litter and leave the drain open. A better practice, if there is a good depth of water, is to roof the pool with boards and cover deeply with manure to prevent the water freezing to the bottom. This will prevent heaving and cracking of the pool walls during the winter.

Mulching Trees

The mulching of small ornamental trees and shrubs should not be

For Parents Only
Visit Your Library
by Nancy Cleaver

In spite of the fact that two out of three Canadian homes have TV sets, the circulation of children's departments in our public libraries is increasing. Recently a librarian pointed out that TV viewing often stimulated a boy or girl to borrow books of facts to augment information he had received from TV and other sources.

John Erskine once expressed thanksgiving for the throngs pouring in and out of libraries. He pointed out that: "We ought to be thankful that a man reads at all. If he reads anything, he is for the moment taken out of his immediate self, some uplift, some imagination, some art, must be involved."

What better way could we mark Young Canada's Book Week in November than by visiting the library as a family? Take time to register and apply for a card for borrowing books if you do not own one. Leave your son or daughter, if of school age, to enjoy the juvenile section while you choose some reading from adult shelves.

Appreciate Service

Parents, more and more, are coming to appreciate the service of the public library, not only for themselves, but for their children. Public libraries are not just for city and town families — many country people visit the library on their shopping trips into town or on market day.

In many schools the teachers make suggestions about the choice of books. The book lists prepared annually by the Canadian Library Association are very useful not only for book borrowing volumes but in choosing books for birthdays or Christmas gifts.

The following titles have been selected by the committee for Young Canada's Book Week for the bookmark entitled: The Canadian Scene:

- The Story of the Totem Pole by Ruth Brindz (Copp Clark).
- The Sun Horse by Catherine A. Clark (Macmillan).
- Starbuck Valley Winter by R. L. Haig-Brown (Collins).
- Franklin of the Arctic by R. S. Lambert (McLelland).
- Fox Island by Kathrene Pinkerton (McLeod).

Rugged Country
Canada is such a vast country that the setting for Canadian stories can be very different and in Algonquin Adventure by Ronald J. Cooke (Ryerson) the background of this thrilling adventure yarn is the wild, rugged country, 300 miles north of Toronto. This is an area we know well from camping in it and this is one of the newest juvenile books on the market which we can heartily recommend. It is written by the editor of the Forest and Outdoors Magazine.

Canadian Portraits by Byrne Hope Saunders, former editor of Chatelaine (Clarke Irwin) is another delightful book just off the press. In it are fascinating biographical sketches of Emily Carr, the painter, Cora Hind, newspaperwoman and wheat crop prediction expert, Dr. Augusta Stowe Gullen, pioneer woman doctor and Emily Murphy, first woman magistrate in the British Empire.

Here's a verse by W. L. Stidger for parents to remember as they plan for these special occasions: "He who gives a child a book Gives that child a sweeping look Through its pages Down the ages. Gives that child a ship to sail Where the far adventures hail Down the sea Of destiny."

Adventure in Library

Even before a child starts to school he may begin his "library adventure" by a trip to the library with mother. While she is choosing her books he can look at a picture book. Gradually he gets to know the "library lady". She is another friendly adult in his small world—and the more people he knows and likes the easier it is for him to learn to "stand on his own feet" and not lean too much on his parents.

The school age boy or girl is full of questions and the library is a source of reference. A child should receive encouragement at home to discover if the library has information on any special topic which appeals to him. Often this is the field of leisure time interests or hobbies. Books on "How to Make" are popular with all ages—and there are many such books written especially for young readers.

A trained librarian gives direction in the choice of books. A child discovers new and exciting volumes which are just right for his age and interests. A good librarian is a great help in encouraging a real love for reading. What a marvellous thing is this zest for books! A child who tastes the fun of reading at an early age need never know the loneliness, the sense of having nothing to do, the boredom of idleness which a person with no love for books often experiences.

PROCLAMATION Retarded Children's Week

NOVEMBER 16 TO 27, 1958

WHEREAS it has been established that mentally retarded children can be helped through special schooling and recreational, social and workshop programs and that there is a great need for research into the causes of mental retardation;

AND, whereas public understanding will greatly contribute to easing the plight of some 3% of the population who are in some degree mentally retarded; NOW, therefore, I, as Mayor of the Town of Milton, support the Milton and District Association for Retarded Children in its efforts to help our community's mentally retarded by declaring the period of November 16 to 27, 1958, as "Retarded Children's Week" in Milton.
