

Public School Pupils Present Play Pins, Wreaths Given S.S. Students

By Mrs. Edward Robertson
The pupils in the junior room of Hornby Public School presented a Nativity Play Tuesday evening of last week. It is the first time in several years that the pupils have had a concert. Miss Carol Ward directed the play and accompanied the children on the piano. Rev. J. Hill was the master of ceremonies.
Several carols were sung by the children and the parents attending. Both rooms had their own parties on Thursday afternoon, exchanging their gifts.
Birthday greetings to Jackie Robertson who will be eight years old on December 30, to Mrs. Robert Ross on the 31st, to Floyd Downs on January 1 and to Nancy Robertson who will be 11 years old January 4.

Both Mumps and Pox
Several children in the community were confined to their homes over the Christmas season. Grant Lee has the mumps and the chicken-pox, his sister Peggy has the chicken-pox. Eileen, Brenda and Howard Bradley Jr. have them and Mary Lou Bailey, got them the day before Christmas, so have Susan and Kathy Grexton, Vivian Royce and the Neelands children.
Dan Thompson of Montreal spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Thompson.
Cheryl Bradley is in Hamilton General Hospital. She had plastic surgery done on her lip.

Several Accidents
Accidents were an ordinary occurrence the day after Christmas when the roads were so slippery. No one was seriously injured but some of the cars were badly damaged.
Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bradley will be sorry to hear their daughter, Mrs. Wm. Brunk spent Christmas in the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota where she is receiving treatment for a skin infection.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Learmont of Jacksonville, Florida motored home for a two weeks Christmas vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newton Jr. were home from the States for Christmas with his parents.

Annual Concert
The Hornby United Church Sunday School held their annual Christmas concert on Wednesday evening, of last week in the church.
The choirs sang the well known carols and each class presented songs, recitations, piano solos and plays.

The awards for Sunday School attendance were presented by the superintendent, Mrs. A. Marchment to the following: First year pins and certificates, Paul Thompson, Betty Jean Marchment, Kenny and Jimmy Death and Kathy Grexton; Second year wreaths, Lynne Charles and Murray Hill, Randy Howden, Debbie Neelands, Bobby Robson, Laurie Death and Susan Grexton; Third

Praise From Prime Minister For Halton Member's Speech

Halton's M.P., Sandy Best, won high praise from Prime Minister Diefenbaker for a speech which he made in parliament on December 13.

Mr. Best was commenting on Bill C-52 which would establish a national productivity council and spoke following the maiden speech of Miss Judy LaMarsh, newly-elected Liberal member for Niagara Falls.

He said Canada's problem is the need to "sell more, make things more cheaply, more rapidly and in better quality."

He termed opinions that technological progress makes for unemployment "retrograde thinking."

Productivity is the keynote to a healthy economy to meet growing challenges of imported goods from Britain, Europe, and Asia, he thinks especially when internal distribution costs are so high in Canada.

—Nativity scenes on the lawns of St. Paul's United and Holy Rosary Roman Catholic churches brightened up the Christmas spirit.
