Now Available From Milton Dairy

Dairy route patrons of Milton now can get the increasingly popular "900-calorie" foods with their regular milk deliveries.

Milton Dairy announced today that it is making available to its home customers a new, dietary food called Controcal. Contents of a five-ounce can, mixed with one quart of fresh skim milk, provides a full day's requirements of high-grade protein, vitamins and minerals — but only 900 calories. Weight reduction is accomplished through calorie control.

For slower weight reduction or to maintain weight, a glass of Controcal and skim milk may be substituted for any one meal. Two flavors are presently available, Chocolate and Egg Nog.

Because of its balanced, concentrated food values, Controcal can also be used as a supplement for underweight people or growing children. When mixed with a quart of whole milk, one can of Controcal provides 1,200 calories.

Mixing Controcal with skim milk does not increase caloric intake over water-mixed dietary foods now on the market, said Russell Dryden, president of Milton Dairy.

"We feel the skim milk, however, does improve the flavor and appetite appeal of the end product," he added.

The dairy concern said that all weight reduction diets should be under the direction of a physician.—Adv.

Rotary Speaker

Outlines Town's Safety Needs

Community safety and the case for a community safety council was outlined to members of the Rotary Club of Milton by Tim Milloy, on Tuesday evening.

A past president of the Milton Safety Council, Mr. Milloy traced the work of the group in developing safety consciousness from the pre-school child to the adult driver.

He cited Woodstock that has gone four years without a fatality and the record of Milton with at least one fatality a year.

"The people causing accidents today are not an accident-prone minority. They are the average drivers" he charged, in stressing the importance of education of drivers and pedestrians.

Outlines Work
Safety Council work including education of parents to be increasingly careful in danger season, police visits to the schools, provision of illuminate tape for newspaper boys, bicycle safety and the bicycle rodeo, driver improvement schools and the distribution of literature at the fall fair and trade fair, were reviewed.

The importance of enforcement was outlined with an emphasis on police setting the example for safety.

On engineering it was noted the local safety council was surveying Milton's accident locations based on accident reports over the past three years. "There is much left to be desired in the town signs and suggestions on the sites that have seen repeated accidents will be presented to Milton Council when completed", the speaker pointed out.

Believe in Safety
In concluding Mr. Milloy urged members to believe in safety in an effort to reduce the appalling accident rate in Ontario.

The speaker was introduced by Carl Hiltz and thanked by Ray Murphy.

"LATIN QUARTER"
The "Latin Quarter" in Paris is the site of the Paris university and is so called because education at the university was given in Latin and the students went about the streets singing in that tongue.
