HALTON CENTENNIAL MANOR

Georgetown Rotary "Showboat" Docks at Port of Halton Manor

By Miss Muriel Thompson

On Tuesday night, May 2, the stage of the auditorium was filled with gaily dressed ladies and gentlemen and its walls echoed to the sound of lovely music when the Georgetown Rotary Club's "Showboat" docked at the Port of Halton Manor to present its annual minstrel show for the residents.

This is the third occasion on which this kind and generous service club has presented its annual show at the Manor. The first show was presented in the dining room two years ago and one year ago, the second show was the first entertainment ever to be given in the new auditorium.

As on the other two occasions the audience, which consisted not only of the residents, but also of a large number of staff members and their families, was delighted beyond measure by the excellent program presented.

Ralph Ussel was the producer-director of the show and played all the accompaniments for the musical numbers on the piano. Ken Harrison was the music director. The great musical talents of these two gentlemen ensured the success of the show.

White Costume

John Gunn, dressed in a striking white costume, was the excellent interlocutor. An eight-piece orchestra added greatly to the musical part of the program. The various numbers on the program were a delight for both the eye and the ear. The ladies of the chorus looked very attractive in their white blouses and rose-colored frilled skirts. The men of the chorus wore bright blue jackets, "boaters" and huge red ties. The end men wore the very ornate and "splashy" costumes favored by end men through the years.

It would be impossible to mention all the artists and program numbers that were presented.

ed. Very fine vocal solos and duets, lively skits, attractive dances, catchy choral numbers and the traditional gags of the end men made up a program that kept the audience enthralled from the beginning of the entertainment to the end. From the opening number "Here Comes the Showboat" to the grand finale "Great Gettin' Up Morning", every part was presented in expert fashion.

The serving of coffee and cookies gave a final touch to a wonderful evening, an evening that it is hoped will be repeated annually for many years to come.

Fifth Sunday Service

In accordance with their custom of coming to conduct the church service at the Manor whenever there is a fifth Sunday in the month, the Christian Business Men of Oakville came to the Manor on Sunday afternoon, April 30. George McAllister was the leader and he was assisted by two talented ladies, Mrs. R. M. Olson who sang two very enjoyable solos and played the violin, and Mrs. George McAllister who played the piano accompaniments for Mrs. Olson and for the singing of the hymns. Mrs. Olson's solos were "His Eye is on the Sparrow" and "Now! Belong to Jesus."

After Mr. McAllister had read psalm 23, a minister who has delivered inspiring sermons on several former occasions, delivered a very sincere and comforting sermon based on the first three verses of chapter 14 of St. John's Gospel. The minister was Rev. M. Christensen, pastor at Highway Gospel Church in Milton. These verses of scripture begin with the words "Let not your heart be troubled" and Mr. Christensen made them applicable to the residents of the Manor, thus bringing great comfort. He said that we are living in an age when great strides are being made in the scientific world, yet the words are just as full of meaning today as they were at the time when they were spoken. With these words, Christ was pointing out the fact that we can find happiness through faith in Him and through believing that He has gone before to prepare a place for us.

—County Assessor Ford Rogers and Milton Assessor Frank McNiven attended a three day conference for assessors in Hamilton. The convention began Monday and ended Wednesday.

—North Halton O.P.P. Constables Al Miles, Joe Feldcamp and Walter Jordan have returned to work after an eight week leave to attend a police college course in Toronto.

—David J. Hume of Milton received second class honors in his fourth year final exams at O.A.C., and will receive the degree of B.S.A. at the convocation to be held Friday, May 19.

By Mrs. Cecil Patterson

The eighth and final club meeting for the Hornby South 4-H Debutante Chefs for the unit "Featuring Fruit" was held on Saturday evening in the club work room at the home of the leader, Mrs. Cecil Patterson. Thirteen girls answered the roll call "A fruit recipe I have enjoyed making". "Fruit drinks" was the topic for the meeting and Mrs. J. Simpson gave the requirements and garnishes for interesting and tasty drinks made from fresh fruit.

The demonstration in which all participated was the preparing of "grape sparkle", this punch, lovely to look at and delicious to drink, was later served with lunch brought by Mrs. Simpson and Marie Curtis. Questionnaire number eight was completed, also leaflets on menu building and breakfast planning. Arrangements were made for Achievement day. Betty Lawrence was chosen to give the three minute talk on the club exhibit, "Various ways with one fruit".

Fourteen girls enrolled in the club last February and 14 have completed the work and will be receiving their silver spoon and certificates. The leaders have enjoyed this unit and derived much pleasure and satisfaction working with this fine group of young ladies. The girls have shown keen interest in the project, they attended regularly and have learned much from this new unit "Featuring Fruit".

Opens Home for Mothers
Mrs. Donald Hancock, Seventh Line, opened her home on Thursday afternoon to entertain the room mothers of Percy W. Merry school. The meeting was called to make arrangements for the "fun fair" in June. Proceeds from this will be used by the Home and School Association to purchase special teaching aids for the school. Since they are allowed only one money raising project each year, the committee endeavours to make the fair a huge success.

Last year it was very satisfactory and every room had fine sales counters consisting of home baking, plants and shrubs, used toys, games, children's and doll clothes, books, puzzles, aprons, jewellery, hats and purses. There were games for all in the play yard for the small fry and a refreshment booth.

These booths will be repeated again this year and mothers are asked to contribute to one or more tables.

A social time is enjoyed by all and it is a fine way to get acquainted with those in the school area.

Ladies attending the afternoon tea at Mrs. Hancock's home were Mrs. D. McChesney, president; Mrs. A. Death, Mrs. J. Bousfield, Mrs. J. Neeldans, Mrs. J. Hill, Mrs. F. J. Johnson, Mrs. E. Brandenberg and Mrs. C. Patterson. Absent were Mrs. M. Beaty, Mrs. T. Groves and Mrs. R. Ford.

Lunch was served by the hostess and all enjoyed a social half hour over the tea cups.
