

Guides Present Concert

The entire company of the First Campbellville Girl Guides was in the spotlight Friday evening, when under the leadership of their Guides, the girls presented a delightful variety concert and play in Brookville School auditorium.

Weeks of work culminated that evening when about 150 parents and friends turned out to witness the show, which included a dramatic play, minstrel show, dancing, reading and singing. It was the first concert the girls ever presented, but according to Guide Mrs. Jim Baynton, it won't be the last. The concert will probably be presented again in 'Kilbride in the near future, as the girls try to earn enough money to carry out their projects and fill their company needs.

The evening opened with a one-act melodrama entitled Murder at Mrs. Loring's. Characters taking part were Mary Collins, Anne Wheelihan, Liz Robinson, Shirley Ella, Dianne Bonus and Linda Smith. Miss Smith didn't get much of a chance to act, however. She was killed early in the first scene.

Following an interval Shirley Ella, Linda Smith, Margie Black, Judy Miller, Brigitte von Cube, Anne Wheelihan, Liz Robinson and Dianne Bonus performed in a blue skirt waltz number. The Lambeth Walk was performed by Betty Allison, Susan Commons, Dianne Commons, Bonnie Mullen, Dagmar von Cube, Donna Miller, Mary Collins and Lexie MacLean. Charleston dancers Linda Smith and Margie Black delighted the audience with their Roaring 20s dance.

The entire company with Dianne Bonus, Liz Robinson and Shirley Ella performed in the Doggie in the Window number. Then Bess Currie led the company in Blowing Bubbles, and Lorie Allison starred as they presented one called Little Old Lady. Pulling Up The Anchor was performed by the entire group, then Bess Currie, Lynn Timbers and Maud Bryce acted out a scene called Christopher Robin. Fay Mathies and Jackie Timbers did a Shakespearean reading called Puck and the Fairy, to conclude this section of the show.

The final act was the minstrel show, with all the girls taking part.

Mrs. Baynton was assisted by Mrs. Tom Watson and Mrs. Margaret Whaley in producing the evening. Bouquets were presented to mothers Mrs. Ken Robinson, who directed the play, and to Mrs. John Currie, who provided music and played the piano for the girls.

GREAT LAKES CHORUS TO SING AT OMAGH

The Great Lakes Christian College Chorus from Beamsville, Ontario, is to sing at the Omagh Church of Christ Sunday, May 14 at 8.00 p.m.

Great Lakes is a five year Christian High School which was established in 1950. Its students attend from many parts of Ontario and the bordering American States. The Great Lakes Chorus has become well-known for its inspirational choral singing which features sacred songs as it has travelled to many parts of Ontario and large American cities such as Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and New York.

The 21 voice group is directed by Arthur Walker of Hamilton who has been with the Chorus since 1957. The program to be presented at the Omagh Church will consist of two parts, both emphasizing the Theme, "Walking With God". In the first section such beautiful hymns as "Let There Be Music," "I Come to the Garden Alone," and "In Sorrow I Wandered" will be presented. In the second portion a number of well-known spirituals will be offered. "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "When the Saints Go Marching In," and "I've Got a Robe" are several of this section.

The public is cordially welcomed to attend and to be inspired by these young singers.
