Many at Howden-Marshall Nuptials Mrs. Curtis Hostess to W.A. Women

By Mrs. Cecil Patterson
 Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brownridge on their wedding anniversary this week. Birthday greetings to Harry Crozier on July 22.
 Miss Abbie Turner returned home last week following several weeks in Brampton hospital. Omagh friends will be sorry to know that Orville Stout of Meadowvale cut the tips off three fingers on his left hand. Twelve stitches were required to close the cuts. The accident was caused by a power saw.
Wedding Guests
 Many from this district were guests at the Howden-Marshall nuptials in Milton's United Church on Saturday. All join in wishing them much happiness.
 Mrs. George Marshall entertained for her daughter Marie at open house on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings previous to her marriage to Arnold Howden. A large number of friends attended.

Reports of the tea were given by treasurer, Mrs. Colin Marshall. The W.A. gave a donation to help the Mission Band get started. A canvass for the Bible Society is to be made soon.
 Mrs. Robert Marshall, in the absence of the president, took the chair for W.M.S. business. Mrs. Colin Marshall gave the glad tidings prayer. Program was in charge of Mrs. Harold Rutherford and several fine readings were given. Fourteen ladies answered the roll call. At the close of the meeting a sale was held for the flower fund and W.A. The hostess assisted by Miss M. Douglas served a delicious lunch and all enjoyed a social half hour.
Y.P.U. Social
 Omagh Presbyterian Young People were guests on Sunday of Knox Church, Milton, Y.P.S. The group gathered for a picnic at Lambert Park, near Waterdown. Swimming and sports were enjoyed and after they returned to Milton, refreshments were served. Boston young folks also attended. A good time was had by all. This get-together was arranged so that members of the three church groups might get better acquainted.
Rushed to Hospital
 Ronald Leslie was rushed to Brampton Hospital early Sunday morning. He was taken ill very suddenly. Friends trust he will soon be much better.
 A large number of children visited the Percy Merry school on Monday during library hours. Keep up the good work.
 Many in this district are confined to home with a virus type of flu. The sickness lasts for three or four days and makes one quite ill. Symptoms are severe headache, nausea, fever, and sore throat.

Entertain Women
 Mrs. S. Curtis entertained the members of Omagh Presbyterian W.A. and W.M.S. on Thursday afternoon for the July meeting. Mrs. J. C. Marshall opened the meeting with prayer and presided. Mrs. Nevin gave the devotionals. It was decided to re-finish the pews in the church in late August, during holidays. The ladies of Boston W.A. and W.M.S. accepted an invitation for August 8 for a social afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. Marshall.

English Girl . . .

 Milton district farm of Bob and Joan Marshall. She leaves Halton Friday.
 Back home she helps her parents and younger brother run a farm that includes 100 dairy cattle, 100 sheep and some poultry. The farm is in Levens, Kendal, Westmorland in the north-west lakes district.

Reward for Work
 Secretary of the Kent-Estuary Young Farmers' Association, she was also secretary of their county rally this year and was chosen the most outstanding Young Farmer in the county. The trip to Canada is partly a reward for this honor.
 She wasn't bothered about talking to a reporter and having her picture taken—matter of fact it was sort of tame, she admitted, after some of the experiences since coming to Ontario. She was on television at Kingston as well as radio at Kingston and St. Catharines.
 On her return home she will be busy telling everybody about her wonderful trip. Anne expects to have "60 or 70" speaking engagements around the countryside when she'll get a chance to tell all her friends about this great country. She admits she is no expert photographer, but has been taking lots of colored slides to complement her talks.

Tips on Photography

Produce Prize-Winning Pics

To many an amateur snapshot comes a magic moment that signifies he has reached photographic maturity. This is when he becomes truly aware of the world around him... things, and event he has long taken for granted. Henceforth, they will provide the basic challenges to his eyes and camera.
 Many photographers, of course, never reach this stage. They are content to use their cameras only for posed pictures on travels, at daughter's birthday party or a reunion of the whole family.
Finds a Meaning
 What sets the serious photographer apart from this casual snapshotter is that one uses the camera to find meaning in his everyday world and the other records on film only pretty and personal pictures.
 That thousands of amateur picture-takers are capable of providing new insights into what otherwise might be routine situations is attested by the quality of pictures submitted in major photo contests throughout the world. Not only have these contests grown in recent years, but the people who enter them have gained immeasurably in their ability to let the flicker of light that falls on their film shed meaning on what they see.
 The photograph that accompanies this article is an example of results that skilled eyes and minds produced when focused, from fresh perspective, on everyday things.

Important Timing
 The photographer who earned top contest honors with the shot of surfboarders got close to the action... so close he could have got his camera wet. Timing was important; for the photographer sought and selected an instant when the riders were close to him, the wave was beginning to break and even the clouds cooperated by seeming to blend with the spray. The figures, side-lighted by the sun, but dark against the sea, demonstrate contrasting tenseness and repose. Thousands of tourists have snapped surfboarders, but few have produced results in which all elements fuse into so near perfect composition.
 In this picture is a lesson for other amateurs: Look at the little things around you, then capture the moment that most expresses their meaning.

 The ball clubs appreciate the help and co-operation of all those who assisted in preparing for the big event, before and after the garden party, such as those who loaned their trucks to gather the seats and stage, to those who helped with the lighting and loud speaker system, to the residents who donated their pies that were readily sold, to the gate-keeper, local and former residents and especially to Alfred Bridgen who worked for days before and after the garden party.
