

The 1962 Plymouth passenger cars from Chrysler of Canada feature a clean, crisp design that is new from the attractive grille treatment to the sweptline rear deck. The design of this series of Plymouths also is enhanced by a reduction in the wheelbase to 116 inches, although there is no appreciable reduction in passenger space. Pictured is the Plymouth Fury two-door hardtop.

Miss M.A. Hume was in charge of the Study Book and gave a very interesting and informative introduction to "Signals for the Sixties." She referred to a recent article which had indicated that perhaps the church was not doing all it could to further the faith. We must examine the tremendous changes that are coming to Canada and we must realize how Christian people are involved in them. We should identify the Church's responsibilities and when young people are exposed to true Christianity then they go abroad and witness their faith and witness the mission of the Church. The Sixties are indeed worthy of deep study in order to learn the great needs of the nations and to examine the relationship the church has to community, country and the world.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction and the hosts served a delicious lunch.
