Thousands Greet Santa . . .

 troop, a group of 15 local girls, paraded in Scottish dancing outfits, and the 25 Brenda Busby school of dancing girls marched in white majorette costumes. Chief Douglas, an Indian from Bronte, marched with four local lads dressed as Indians. He has appeared in most parades in Milton for several years.
 Lorne Scots Military Band was followed by Knight's snow queens and the Snow White and Seven Dwarfs float. Last but not least came Santa Claus, sleigh, and nine reindeer mounted on Milton Milling's float. Several girls dressed as mounties surrounded his float. Bringing up the rear were the Milton Fire Department pumpers and Chief Clement's car containing officials of the sponsoring Santa Claus Parade Committee. Clowns scattered themselves through the parade to delight the children.
 A total of 300 actually took part in the parade, plus many other organizers who worked behind the scenes producing the annual spectacle.
 At the arena, the snow queens and mounties drew Santa's sleigh around the ice and he said a few words over the microphone. Mayor Sydney Childs welcomed Santa and expressed the town's appreciation to the sponsoring committee.

Tiny Hopkins emceed a program of figure skating presented by Pat Bell, Linda Griswold, Jo-Anne McCuaig, Nancy Garrett, Jean Wilson, Lois Bird, Alice Horton, Kathy Tufford and Pam Green of Milton Figure Skating Club, and Andrew Drenters of Guelph.

Only one incident marred the parade, as Stan Allen was thrown from his palomino horse as it shied on Main St. Luckily he was unhurt and climbed back on to finish the parade.

School children are busy preparing the annual Christmas concerts.

A deer was slightly injured but escaped when it ran into a car on Highway 7 near Georgetown Friday. It caused $25 damaged to the car, though.
