RIGHT AROUND HOME

By SHIRLEY

With the cool weather we've had lately now is a good time to start baking again and fill the house with the aroma of fresh homemade goodies.

Strudel is made by rolling a special pastry paper-thin, spreading it with filling, and baking. Traditional strudel made this way is superb; but so is a strudel-like cake made with yeast-raised dough. The Fruit-And-Nut Laden Roll below is a fine example, and far easier for the home baker to turn out. Its sweet dough holds a delicious filling of raisins, cherries and almonds. The recipe was developed to appeal to strudel fans and home bakers alike.

One tip: Roll the dough out on a floured cloth. Then, after spreading it with filling, pick up the long side of the cloth and hold it so that the strudel rolls easily into shape. Then pinch the seam and ends well, so all the filling stays right inside the dough where it belongs.

Fruit-And-Nut Laden Roll

Yield — One Cake, 16 Servings

- 2 cups (about) presifted all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons chilled butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 2 teaspoons granulated sugar
- 2 envelopes active dry yeast
- 1/4 cup milk

- 1 egg separated
- 2 cans (15 ounces each) sweetened cherries, well drained
- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 3/4 cup finely-chopped blanched almonds
- 1 teaspoon almond extract
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
- 3 tablespoons granulated sugar

Combine the flour, 1/4 cup sugar and salt in a mixing bowl; cut in the 2 tablespoons chilled butter or margarine finely. Measure lukewarm water; stir in the 2 teaspoons sugar. Sprinkle with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well. Scald milk; cool to lukewarm. Beat egg yolk. Add dissolved yeast, lukewarm milk and egg yolk to flour mixture and mix well, adding a little more flour, if necessary, to make a soft dough. Turn out dough onto a floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 45 minutes. Meantime, combine the well-drained cherries, raisins, bread crumbs, the 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup of the almonds and almond extract. Punch down dough. Turn out onto a lightly-floured canvas and roll out into a 16-inch square. Brush with the 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine. Spread cherry mixture over dough to within 1 inch of edges. Lift canvas at one side and roll dough jelly-roll fashion.

Pinch seam and ends to seal well. Place roll, seam side down diagonally on a large greased cookie sheet. Brush with egg white; sprinkle with the remaining chopped almonds and the 3 tablespoons sugar. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft until almost doubled in bulk — about 1/2 hour. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm or cold.

Omagh Church Ladies Visitors Missionary Speaks at Boston

The August meeting of Boston Presbyterian Church was held in the church parlor. Miss C. Turner, W.M.S. president, opened the meeting with a good thought, followed by singing the doxology. In absence of the secretary Mrs. Clarence Cation was appointed secretary for the meeting.

After singing a hymn, the offering was taken up and dedicated by Mrs. Emmett McGibbon. The president called on the Rev. B. A. Andrews, a former pastor who is now minister in the Presbyterian church in Maple. He opened this part of the meeting with prayer and called on his daughter Heather (Mrs. H. Irvine) who told of her family's experience as missionaries in Georgetown, British Guiana. Heather proved to be a very fine speaker in her humorous way and told of the ways of living there. She then showed very interesting slides taken while in British Guiana.

After the singing of another hymn Mr. Andrews closed this meeting with prayer.

Omagh Program

The Ladies Aid meeting was opened by Mrs. E. McGibbon, vice president, with a few words of welcome to the visitors, the Ladies of Omagh Church. Mrs. Cameron Marshall took the chair for the program.

She called on Mrs. H. Peacock to give scripture reading with comments based on these words, "What so ye, sow it to the Glory of God," and ending with a prayer.

Violin solos were given by Miss Joan Beatty. Then a humorous reading, The Ladies' Aid, was read by Mrs. Jarvis. Miss Nancy Beatty rendered two vocal solos.

Mrs. Robert Marshall thanked the Boston Ladies for their hospitality, and Mrs. Jefferson thanked all the Omagh Ladies for the fine program they brought.

Mrs. Thomas Snow closed the meeting with prayer and a social time was enjoyed over a cup of tea and a delightful lunch served by the Boston ladies.

Dairy Princess C.N.E. Monday

Miss Marion Hunter of Burlington, Halton's 1962 Dairy Princess, will enter the Canadian National Exhibition contest for the Ontario Dairy Princess next Monday, August 27.

Halton's entrant will meet four other girls in a preliminary contest that evening. If she wins, she'll go on to the semi-finals, and semi-final winners will square off in the finals on August 30. About 50 Ontario girls are entered in the C.N.E. competition.

Miss Hunter was chosen Halton's Princess at the recent Hornby garden party, in competition against four other girls. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunter, R.R. 1, Burlington.
