Rotary Club Hosts 12 Foreign Students

A group of 12 students from foreign countries was entertained by the Rotary Club of Milton on the weekend as part of a project to foster international understanding.

The students are presently studying at the University of Toronto and they were picked up there on Saturday and brought to Milton where they met Rotarian hosts. The students represented Ghana, Switzerland, Iran, India, Philippines, Formosa and Hong Kong.

Scottish Dancing

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Costigan entertained the students and their Rotarian hosts, at their home. During the evening Scottish dancing was presented by Donna Purdy, Susan Martin, Jeanne Purdy and Barbara Mackay in an attractive outdoor setting.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. K. Y. Dick entertained the students at an afternoon tea.

The students remained with their hosts Saturday evening, returning to Toronto on Sunday.

Hosts for the students while they were in Milton were Mr. and Mrs. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Al. Francis, Mr. and Mrs. S. Allen and Mrs. and Mrs. J. M. Ledwith.

Banquet Honors Denyes Grads Toasts Valedictory on Program

Thirty-four J. M. Denyes grade eight students attended a graduation banquet in Knox Presbyterian Church on Thursday and heard guest speaker Douglas McArthur of the National Employment Services. Parents, representatives of the Home and School Association and the school board, staff members, supervising principal E. W. Foster and W. L. McNeil, Inspector of Public Schools, attended the banquet.

Purpose Toasts

Toast Mistress for the evening was Glenith Ford and Grace was said by Stanley Knowles and Lynda Servos played God Save the Queen. Gary Mountain introduced the head table and Mrs. Brandon gave a toast the class and it was responded to by Linda Bates. Philip Brush proposed a toast to the parents and it was answered by Robert Brush. Chris Desjardins offered a toast to the teachers and principal W. J. Clow responded.

Lorraine Robbins introduced the guest speaker and Robert Colten offered the class appreciation. A piano solo was played by Lynda Servos.

Remarks were given by W. E. McNeil and E. W. Foster. Mansell Gullis thanked the members of the School Board and school trustee Ron Harris replied. Susan Gray thanked the members of the Home and School Association and Noel Holland replied. The Valedictory Address was given by Marsha Wilson.

—Sunshine School students held their annual closing party at Holy Cross School, Georgetown, on Friday evening.

Present Awards at Banquet Honor Grade Eight Graduates

A talk by the Burlington public schools inspector and presentation of awards to the outstanding students highlighted the annual grade eight graduation dinner held at Fairview School, Lowville, on Thursday evening. J. B. Mitchell, B.A., M.Ed., was guest speaker and spoke of the opportunities students will receive when they reach their next "plateau" — high school. He also warned them to sincerely respect their parents. Don't look on them as "squares," he said, for they still have a lot to offer their children.

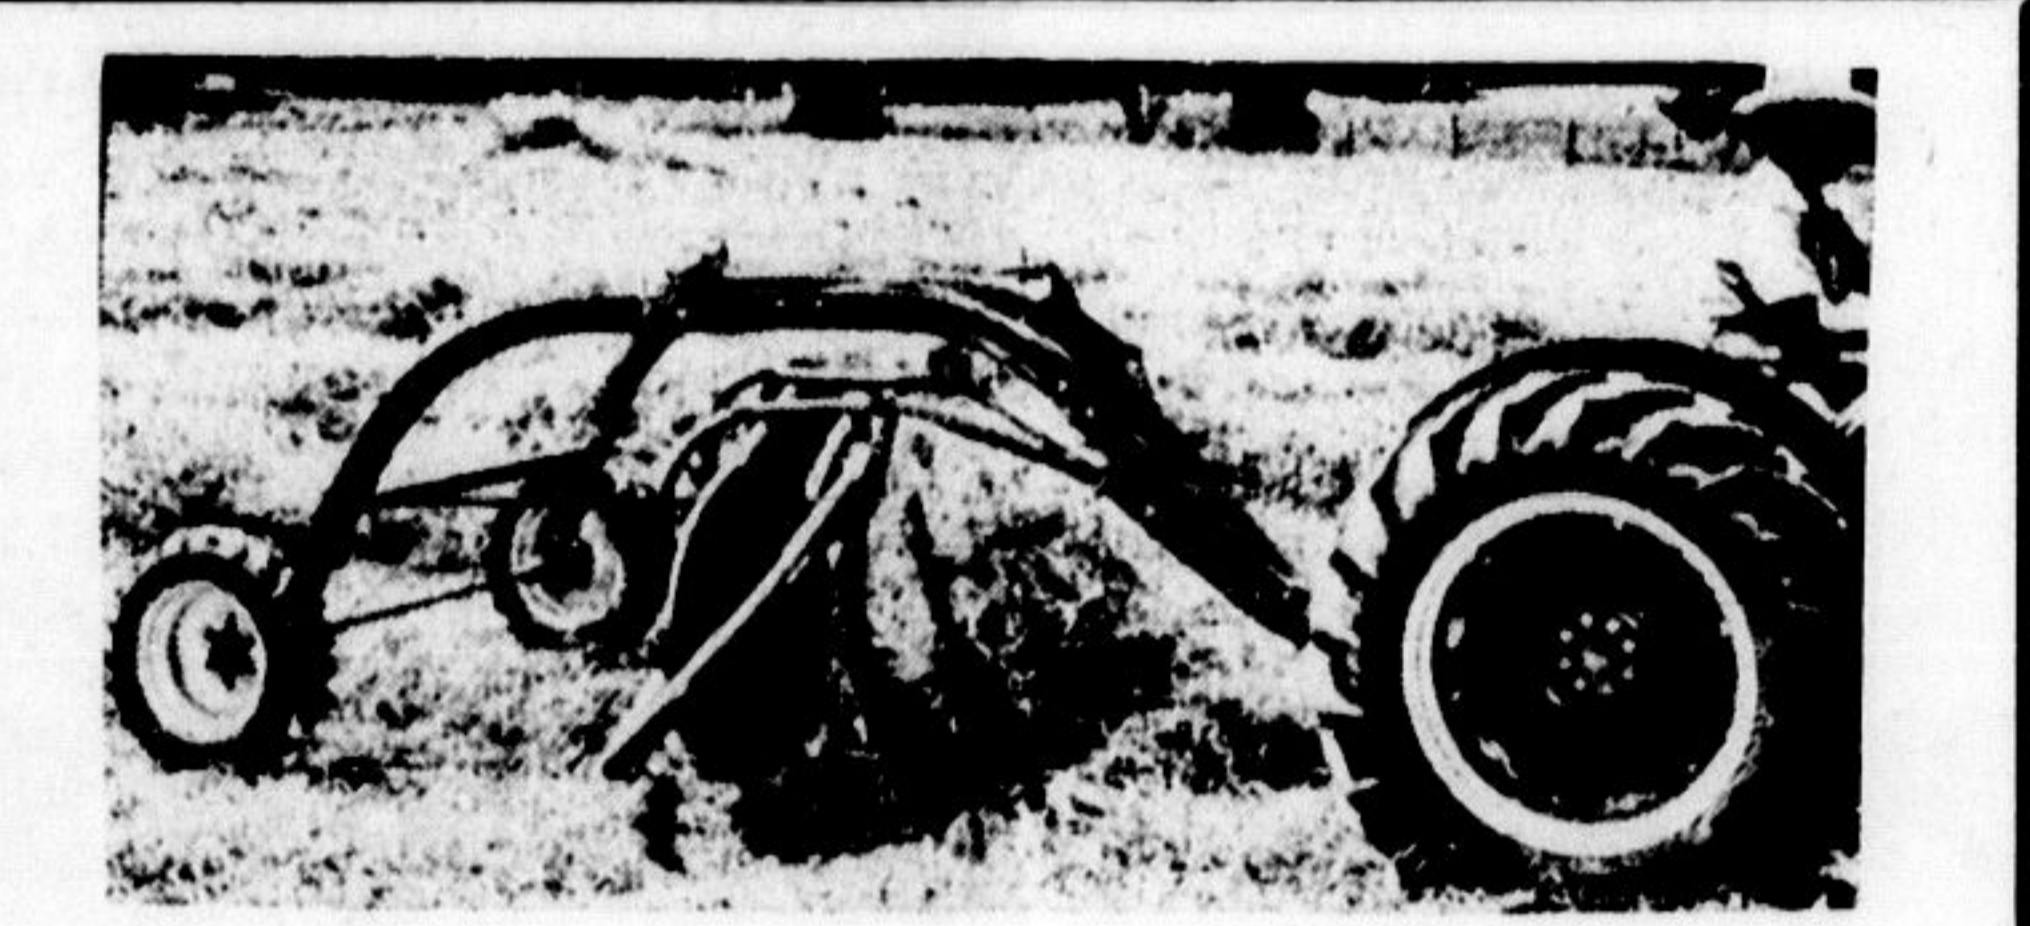

the Home and School Association awards to the top students. General proficiency prizes went to the top boy and girl, Norman Smith and Lynne Fisher. Doug Powell won the citizenship award while Larry Bennett was best in industrial arts and Brenda Colling won the home economics award.

Student Ralph McCormack was chairman of the banquet. Druce Dolbel proposed the toast to the school board, replied to by trustee George Pelletterio. Robert Everett gave the toast to the home and school and parents, to which Mrs. Ed. Eggertson replied. Teacher Mrs. J. Bennett replied when Bryan Boughton gave the toast to the staff and the school.

Retiring Prexy Gives Up Gavel

Rotary Club president Bob McCuaig completed his term of office Tuesday and turned the gavel and president's pin over to incoming president Glyn Roberts.

The retiring president reviewed the year's activities and expressed his appreciation for the club members co-operation. Retiring directors Charles Anderson, Carl Hiltz, Jim Costigan and Dave Thompson outlined the work accomplished under their avenues of service.

Incoming president Roberts introduced the new executive of Carl Hiltz vice president, Chuck Copeland secretary, Len McNeil treasurer, club service director Don MacEachen, vocational service director Ray Olan, community director Ken Campbell, and international service director Bo Wheeler.

THE OLDEST ADHERENT of Boston Presbyterian Church, 90-year-old W. J. Hampshire, was treated royally — as were all the 200 guests — at the church's 143rd anniversary supper held in the church hall Tuesday evening. Mrs. G. McGibbon, Mrs. Ed Parsons, Mrs. Jack Irving and Mrs. Gordon Jefferson of the Ladies Aid are shown offering him some of the delicious food the group had prepared. Erected in 1820, the church is the oldest in this district.
