THEY SURE LOOK GOOD, is the expression of eight year old Michael Clements' face, as he reaches for goodies at the candy booth at the Hospital W.A. lawn party, Saturday afternoon.

A NEWFOUNDLANDER, Mrs. Edith Maunder, tries on an apron assisted by Mrs. J. E. Taylor. Mrs. Maunder, visiting Milton for the first time, said she was enjoying the Lawn Party very much.

BOOKS FROM THE WORKS of James Baldwin to those of Hans Christian Anderson, were on sale at the book stall, one of the busiest spots throughout the afternoon.

DOLLS OF VARIED SHAPES and sizes were for sale at the Lawn Party and Mrs. John Beverley is shown arranging a display at the Doll Table.

"Best We Ever Had"

Hospital W.A. Lawn Party is Big Success

"It was a grand success, the best we've ever had," was the way Mrs. Charles Anderson, treasurer for the Milton District Hospital W.A., described the annual W.A. Lawn Party held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Martin on Martin St., Saturday. Mrs. Anderson noted a profit of approximately $1,500 would be raised from the annual event, following the payment of expenses. Bright, sunny skies and temperatures in the 70's made it a perfect day for the party and a large crowd of adults and children attended.

All Worked Hard
Mrs. John Ostler, convener for the Lawn Party, noted that the ladies had worked hard in making the event a success.

Mrs. F. E. Quinlan of Campbellville was among the first to note the success of party. Mrs. Quinlan was the lucky winner of the trip to New York, being offered as one of the prizes. Other prize winners included Ellen Barton of Oakville, the doll, doll clothes and cradle; Mrs. Fred Smith of Court Street, a needle-point bag; Mrs. D. Marcellus of Georgetown and K.Y. Dick Jr.

Name Conveners

The conveners of each of the booths at the party included: Home Baking, Mrs. Brian Best; Holly Shop, Mrs. C. A. Martin; Aprons, Mrs. F. McNivan, Mrs. Campbell Wilson and Mrs. E. Taylor; Baby and Doll Clothes, Mrs. Norman Pearce; Candy Booth, Mrs. Dave Green; Fish Pond, Mrs. R. Edwards; Antique Cars, Mrs. D. Ptolemy; the Trip to New York raffle, Mrs. John Conway; White Elephant Booth, Mrs. R. Martin; Book Stall, Mrs. W. Rowney; the bag and quilt raffles, Mrs. K. Y. Dick and the conveners of the Tea Tables were Mrs. R. Murphy, Mrs. C. Anderson, Mrs. Hugh Babcock and Mrs. Cliff Hill.

Throughout the afternoon antique cars toured the town, giving the children a chance to see how grandpa rode in style.

Library Notes

You can pay or persuade someone else to clean your house, baby sit, cook your meals, manage your business — in short to do your work. But only YOU can live your own life. Only you can change the pattern of your thoughts and actions and feelings. Only you can reshape your life to what you want it to be. And books can help you, if you will take time and put forth the effort to read them. Memorable books have caused people to revolt against oppression, have started wars, and have revolutionized man's ideas about the universe. Books can revolutionize your life. But you must read them.

Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin." That book caused the American Civil War. A book that would cause a war represents power. Have you ever read Uncle Tom's Cabin? And what do you know about Harriet Beecher Stowe who wrote the book? Read her biography—Runaway to Heaven, and read Uncle Tom's Cabin, if you have not already done so. Both books are in your library.

Excellent Fare
For those who wish to lose weight "How to Reduce Surely and Safely" is an excellent book to read. It is sane common sense that gets results. I know. Your library can supply you with this book.

And those who suffer from an inferiority complex would do well to read "You're Better Than You Think". Many people are under the impression that your work should not give you pleasure. This idea is anti-success. Read "How to Avoid Work" and know that the most successful people in the world get more pleasure from their work than from their leisure.

Your library in the basement of the town hall is a mine of information. But you must unearth it and let it work for you. Make it yours.
