

"Meet Your Teacher" Theme Parents Greet New President

By Mrs. William Watson
"Meet Your Teacher" and safety was the theme of the Kilbride Home and School Association meeting held Tuesday evening, October 15 in the school auditorium.

Mrs. George Newell who had been absent due to illness when the officers were installed at the May meeting, was installed at this time by past president Mrs. Bradford Clements, and then conducted her first meeting as president.

Treasurer George Logan gave his report and announced that the membership cards had not arrived as yet, but he would have them by the next meeting and anyone wishing to join could do so at this time. The fee would be $1 per family for the 1963-64 term.

U.N.I.C.E.F. banks will be distributed in the school again this year and families wishing to contribute to this worthy cause will be able to do so there.

The parent attendant shield went to Mrs. V. Gilmer's class room.

Safety Talk
Constable P. Bromley, Burlington's safety officer was introduced by Mr. Walmesley. Mr. Bromley spoke briefly of his duty as safety officer, he stressed how important it was to have a child's bicycle equipped with the necessary reflectors and lights for riding after dark. He also brought along the various articles to show the parents. For about $2.00 a bicycle could be equipped properly and so could save a life. Mrs. William Trenwith thanked the constable for coming and giving this informal talk.

Principal Miss Florence Meares introduced the teaching staff to the large crowd attending, then the teachers and parents had a short discussion in their respective rooms.

Following the meeting a social hour was held with mothers of Miss Meares and Mr. Walmesley's grade 7 and 8 providing lunch.
