EARLY START
"So you weren't in the least surprised that John had become a doctor?"
"Not a bit. Why, even when he was at school his handwriting was terrible."

ARCHITECTS
There are customers who want something special in the way of design or who feel that stock plans do not completely meet their needs. These people usually hire an architect to draw up a house plan to their own specifications. The house can then be tailored to fit the lot and to incorporate those distinctive features suggested by the owner. In addition, a lot of headaches and regrets can be avoided simply by engaging the services of an architect to oversee the job. In this capacity he's the homeowner's best friend.

Bustle — deceitful little seatful.

The Dr. met a former patient. "Hello, Mr. Jones. That check you gave me came back." "That's funny. So did my lumbago."
