Ground Beef, one of the most versatile meats can be used for the basis of many delicious meals. Whether for family meals or company meals, these two recipes will surely be favorites.

Hamburger Pie, with the crust comprised of a tasty ground beef mixture accented with garlic and chopped olives makes a wonderful one-dish meal.

Fill the pie with seasoned mashed potatoes after the shell is nearly baked. Then sprinkle Parmesan cheese and broil the pie briefly. A Creole sauce makes a good accompaniment. Just add a salad, some relishes and rolls and supper is ready.

HAMBURGER PIE
2 cups corn flakes or
1/2 cup packaged corn flake crumbs
1 lb. ground beef

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3/4 teaspoon garlic powder
3 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
1 egg
4 cups seasoned mashed potatoes (about 6 medium)
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
Dash paprika
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

METHOD

1. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs.

2. Combine beef, seasonings, corn flake crumbs, olives and egg in a large bowl mixing lightly.

3. Gently pat the mixture into nine-inch pie pan to line bottom and sides (do not put on rim)

4. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 15 minutes, then pour off any liquid from meat.

5. Meanwhile, prepare mashed potatoes. Pile potatoes into hamburger pie shell. Sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Broil four inches from heat for two minutes, or until golden brown.

6. Sprinkle with parsley. Cut in pie shaped pieces. Serve with Creole sauce if desired.

Yield: Six servings
* Succulent ground beef, always a favorite, forms the basis of Meat Loaf Mountain. This juicy meat loaf is dressed for company with the shape of Canada's famous mountain peaks, a frosting of mashed potatoes and a sprinkling of golden cheese.

MEAT LOAF MOUNTAIN

(Makes 6 servings)
2/3 cup undiluted evaporated milk
1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs
1 egg
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons ketchup
1-1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3/4 teaspoon crushed basil
1/4 teaspoon crushed oregano
1-1/2 pounds ground beef
mashed potatoes
1/4 cup grated cheese

Combine evaporated milk, crumbs, egg, onion, ketchup and seasonings; mix well. Add ground beef and mix lightly with fork.

Turn into 1-1/2 quart oven-proof bowl or casserole. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven 45 minutes. If necessary, pour off excess fat. Unmould onto oven-proof platter. Meanwhile, prepare mashed potatoes. Spread over meat loaf. Sprinkle with cheese. Broil 2 minutes, or bake 10 minutes longer, until cheese is melted

Knox W.M.S. Speaker

Discusses Three Philosophies

The April meeting of Knox W.M.S. began with a pot-luck supper at 6.30 p.m. on Tuesday evening, April 14. The Rev. J. L. Graham, minister of St. Paul's United Church, and Mrs. Graham were guests and a very pleasant supper hour was spent.

The president, Mrs. Maggie opened the meeting by reading a poem "Memories of the Cross" by S. Barlow Bird. The Hymn "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross" was sung and followed by prayer. Mr. Graham, guest speaker, was welcomed by Mrs. Newell and his inspiring address will long be remembered by all who were present.

Good Samaritan

Choosing the story of the Good Samaritan as his topic, Mr. Graham drew attention to its three philosophies. First there is the philosophy of the thieves of the Jericho road: "What's yours is mine, and I'll take it". This is the religion of robbers, evidences of which can be noted in our world today. It must be put down by every means in our power by the gospel of Christ.

Second is the philosophy of the Levite: "What's mine is mine, and I'll keep it". This is the philosophy of selfishness, of which there is far too much in our daily lives. We must return to tithing and stewardship, and give of ourselves. We have only to look with understanding eyes to see what two thousand years of Christ's influence has done to the world, and we must never forget that the earth is the Lord's.

The third philosophy is that of the Good Samaritan himself: "What's mine is God's, and I'll share it". The crying need in our world is for people who are willing to commit themselves to the service of God. Such people will take their places as leaders in their community.

Mrs. Elliot expressed thanks on behalf of the group for this most inspiring message.

To Pack Bale

Reports were read by the secretary and treasurer and there was a discussion regarding items for the bale which will be packed at the next meeting in May. Mrs. Thompson favored with a beautiful solo from Handel's "Messiah".

Nellie Anderson was in charge of devotions and took the Bible reading from Deuteronomy Chapter 11, verses 7-18. She then brought a brief message dealing with the love of Christ, and how it reaches greater depths when

HARLEY...to HALTON

By DR. HARRY HARLEY, M.P.

The final Supplementary Estimates have passed the House of Commons. This week, the work of the House of Commons has returned to normal. Monday and Tuesday concluded the Budget Debate for 1964-65.

Since that time, we have been discussing the Redistribution Bill and it is likely this will pass shortly. There are only two contentious matters in the Bill as I have mentioned before: that is the percentage allowance of population to vary between Ridings and the composition of the Boundary Commissions.

Pension Plan Delayed

The Canada Pension Plan has been delayed for a few days. This will be for a few days only as we intend to proceed with it. The delay is to allow the Federal Government to consider the terms of the Pension Plan introduced by the Quebec Government. If by making alterations to the Federal plan, without changing the basic principles, we can ensure that such a plan will be uniform across Canada, it is felt that we should consider changing the Bill.

We do not intend to change the basic principles. In this way, the plan would be ensured of being truly portable, in that a person could move from Province to Province, including Quebec, and have pension rights etc., to be transferred from one plan to another, whether Federal or Provincial.

The Confederation Room was officially opened last week. This is a large room in the West Block of the Parliament Buildings where my office is located.

It is a special room to be used for state dinners and receptions. Up to the present time, there has been little space for this type of entertaining.

The only adequate place has been the Governor-General's residence. This Confederation Room was started in 1960, at the same time as the renovations to the West Block. These renovations have converted the inside of the West Block to modern of fine space, and the outside remains untouched as it has since 1878.

Open for Tours?

The Confederation Room is 80 feet long by 40 feet wide and 28 feet high. It will hold 200 people for a state dinner or 450 for a state reception. It is my hope that this room will be open for tours, as I am sure the people of Halton would like to see this room where visiting international statesmen will be greeted on Canada's behalf.

THE END OF PACKARD

The Studebaker - Packard Corporation is dropping the name of Packard and from its corporation title and thus declaring at an end the era of history.

The last Packards were built in 1958 on a common body shell with Studebaker. The first one was built in 1899 in Warren, Ohio by J. W. Packard and his brother who assembled the parts by hand in a small workshop.

Like many of the fine automobile makes established since then, the Packard was built as an improvement on some of the vehicles being manufactured at the time, particularly the Winton Horseless Carriage.

The story goes that Packard first proposed some improvements in the Winton vehicles to the already famous manufacturer. Winton rejected them saying: "If you're so smart why don't you build a better machine yourself?"

Mild and easy going Packard was offended and replied: "Why, Mr. Winton, I guess I'll do just that." Packard designed a roomy luxurious and prestige automobile which that famous care remained until its death.

The decline of Packard was due primarily to market changes and the unpredictable shifting of public preferences. Perhaps most of all, Packard will be remembered for one of the most famous slogans ever coined in the industry - "Ask the Man Who Owns One."

Its meaning makes as much good sense today to anyone seeking a quality car or a reputable, reliable dealer.
