"BETTER HEARING WEEK" is being observed in Canada this week, and free assistance is offered to hard-of-hearing people through the Canadian Hearing Society, 60 Bedford Rd., Toronto. Ontario School for the Deaf, Milton, is also equipped to offer information to children and adults outside the school, who suspect hearing loss. Robert Argall, audiological services advisor for O.S.D., is shown at work with some of the equipment available in the O.S.D. audio clinic.

Committee Resigns...

Trustee Johnson insisted the Board was not obliged to give complete detailed breakdowns of its budget.

Board Chairman G. C. Gowland emphasized the town finance committee received the budget, was given ample time to ask questions about it, "then you cut our budget behind our back."

Councillor Johnson defended the cut, noting the $24,500 for a general purpose room had been cut on the solicitor's advice, it could not be paid from current revenue. He recalled the other two items appeared in the same grouping and it was felt they were part of the project that should be capitalized.

Elected Too

Deputy-Reeve Ledwith supported re-instatement of the $13,500. He noted school trustees were elected as were councillors, and it was up to the Board to know the condition of school roofs.

Councillor N. Pearce summed up, suggesting it now appeared to be a point of principle as to who should control the fund for the roof.

Reeve C. Martin suggested the town would have to increase its application for increased capital borrowing to the O.M.B., since funds planned from current town revenue would not be available for capital works.

Voting in favor of re-instating the $13,578 in the public school board budget were Mayor Chilas who broke the tie vote, Reeve Martin, Deputy Reeve Ledwith and Councillors Pearce and Addison. As the mayor declared the motion carried, Councillor Menely and Councillor Johnson announced their resignation from the town's finance committee.

Required or Not

Reeve Martin recalled that last week a school board representative had said the Department of Education would not approve a Senior Public School without a general purpose room.

"That's not right," he declared. "Do you know of an application that has been approved for a senior public school without a general purpose room?" Chairman Gowland asked.

Trustee H. P. Johnson wondered if the phrasing hadn't been that if there was no general purpose room the whole proposal would have to be resubmitted to the Department.

Trustee Ron Harris recalled stressing the need of a general purpose room for the senior public school program, but he admitted not knowing if it was required in the Act.

See If Mandatory

Council agreed to ask the Department of Education if a general purpose room was mandatory for senior public schools.

Solicitor Nichols recommended a council and board get-together "on the needed $31,000 for the general purpose room" above the already approved $158,500 debt issue. The meeting was set for June 1 at 8.30.

HALTON MANOR

Spring-Like Setting for Bazaar Warden Gallagher Opens Event

By Miss Muriel Thompson

Although Mother Nature saw fit to send rain showers upon this part of the earth on Wednesday, May 13, the atmosphere and surroundings in the auditorium of the Manor were decidedly those of the summer season. The auditorium had been beautifully decorated for the third annual Bazaar and Tea, held in the afternoon and evening.

The floor space of the auditorium had been divided into two sections, one for the sale of goods and one for the serving of afternoon tea. A white picket fence and a white lattice gateway decorated with ivy separated the two sections. Large arrangements of artificial flowers had been suspended from the ceiling by means of colored ribbons, and lattice work decorated with colored cut-outs of flowers had been affixed to the walls. Large lawn umbrellas had been placed in the rear corners of the stage with a large shrub between them.

Extend Welcome

Promptly at two o'clock, Mrs. S. Allen, president of the Halton Manor Auxiliary extended greetings to the large crowd of visitors and residents present, and then called on Mr. Allen, the superintendent of the Manor. Mr. Allen extended a welcome to all and expressed thanks to all those who had worked so hard in preparing for the bazaar and in particular to the ladies of the Auxiliary for their efforts in this direction. He also described the benefits that the residents had derived from making, in their own handicraft classes, many of the articles about to be offered for sale. He then called on Dr. C. A. Martin, the Chairman of the Halton Manor Committee of Management and Gordon Gallagher, the Warden of Halton County, both of whom also commended the Auxiliary ladies and the residents for their work in connection with the bazaar. Mr. Gallagher then declared the bazaar officially opened.

A large number of ladies and gentlemen had come to take advantage of the sale of many useful and attractive articles on display. As they entered they were received by a reception committee of two ladies Mrs. S. Allen and Mrs. J. Hatherley. They were asked to sign the register which was looked after by Mrs. B. Lantz and Mrs. A. Hill. The Auxiliary ladies and the residents who looked after the various tables were kept busy all afternoon and evening. The conveners of these tables were: Handicrafts, Mrs. M. Hill and Mrs. J. Randall; bake table, Mrs. H. Woodley and Mrs. M. Brownridge; penny table, Mrs. A. Cheskey and Mrs. M. Hicks; quilt draw tickets, Miss B.

Richardson; doll draw tickets, Mrs. M. Forbes; membership in Halton Manor Auxiliary, Mrs. Parker. The visitors had the opportunity to make tours of the Manor under the direction of Mrs. A. Sykes, Supervising Nurse.

Busy Tea Room

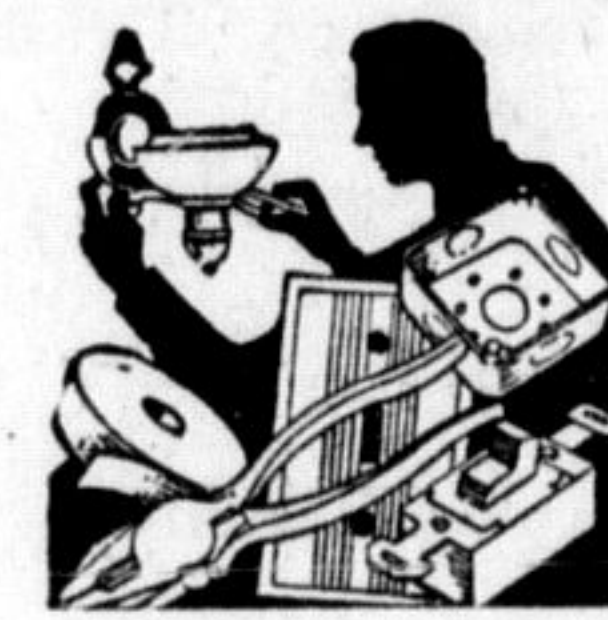

The tea-room was well patronized in both afternoon and evening. Very attractive tea tables had been set up both on the floor of the auditorium and on the stage. Delicious afternoon tea, sandwiches, relishes and confections were served by a number of ladies under Mrs. A. Wilson and Mrs. M. Hayward as conveners. In the afternoon those pouring tea were Mrs. G. Gallagher, of Burlington, wife of the Warden of the County, Mrs. L. Whiting, wife of the Deputy Reeve of Oakville; Mrs. John Elliott, wife of the Reeve of Georgetown; and three women residents, Mrs. A. Cumming, Mrs. J. Hoare and Miss B. Hartenstein. Those pouring tea in the evening were Mrs. C. A. Martin, wife of the Reeve of Milton and present chairman of the Halton Manor Committee of Management; and a resident, Mrs. W. McMillan. Soft music was played on the Manor electric organ in the afternoon by Mrs. K. O. Foster and Mrs. G. Nowell and in the evening by Bill Brush. Mrs. M. Cullion was the tea-room cashier.

Many Assist

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen specifically named in this account there were many others who helped graciously and efficiently in many ways and the Manor owes them a great debt of gratitude. Like the other two annual bazaars, this bazaar will long be remembered as a very pleasant, profitable and rewarding event.

This year the penny draw table had been set up in the ante-room. At the close of the evening the draw conducted by Mrs. Allen showed the following results: Necklace and ear-rings — Miss B. Richardson, Key-ring — Mrs. D. Pearson, Georgetown. Toy clown — Mrs. B. Oakes, staff house. Lemon-Squeezer — Mrs. C. Wilson, Georgetown. Silver necklace set John Hatherley, Milton. Teacher, Nurse Tour O.S.D.

Visitors from India England

Several visitors have been given guided tours of the Ontario School for the Deaf residential junior school at Milton in the past week, including a teacher from England and a health nurse from India.

Superintendent D. E. Kennedy and the staff welcomed Miss Rita Davis of Liverpool, England, for two days last week, as she carefully scrutinized the operations of the school. Miss Davis is touring Ontario's educational facilities, with a special emphasis on the special education programs conducted by the Department of Education. She is a teacher of underprivileged children in Liverpool.

Speaks to Staff

During her stay Thursday and Friday, she saw several classes in action. She also spoke to an assembly of teachers and other staff personnel and told them of teaching methods in England.

Tuesday of last week, 90 student teachers from the Lakeshore Teachers' College toured the school, during a program arranged to develop their interest in special education. With them were Peel County Medical Officer of Health Dr. Powell and three from her staff, plus a visiting public health nurse from New Delhi, India, wearing her native costume.

Teacher Mrs. Joan McDonnell's class assembled in the auditorium with the guests and went through three lessons, demonstrating the speech, language, lip reading, hearing aids and rhythm instruction the deaf students receive.

The draws for the quilt and doll caused a flurry of excitement and the winners were: Quilt draw winner — Mrs. A. Collier, Manor. Doll draw winner — Daisy Haradis, Rural Route, Balinafad.

Mother's Day was fittingly observed at the Manor, Sunday,

May 10. Rev. J. K. L. McGown delivered an appropriate sermon at the church service and Mrs. S. Lockie played the organ. Mr. McGown read verses 5-14 of Chapter 66 of Isaiah and then based his sermon on verse 13.

At noon on Mother's Day every woman resident received a pretty carnation corsage as a gift from the Board of Management. Many scores of visitors came to visit the residents throughout the day.

BELL LINES

by Arnold Blachford, your telephone
manager

NOT VISIBLE

I suppose it may seem strange bringing up icebergs in May, but it suddenly occurred to me that they have something in common with the telephone business! — Just like the greater part of an iceberg, the greater bulk of technological advances in telephone service is not visible to the average person. If asked, I suspect most telephone users would say that 'phone styles have changed over the years, and that transmission has improved markedly, but that in general telephone service serves the same single function today as it did fifty ago. Not so! For example, telephone lines today carry computer "talk" as well as people's conversations, and carry charts, diagrams, drawings, musical scales and even handwriting as it is being written! Again, telephone lines are used to regulate traffic lights from remote control positions, or to regulate the flow of oil or natural gas in pipelines spanning the continent. But, as I say, many of these aspects are not apparent to the average customer.

CUSTOM MADE

I'd like to bring your attention again to the special telephone handsets that we provide for customers with speech or hearing difficulties. The "handset for confidential conversations" is not only meant for people who wish to speak softly for privacy, but for those who, perhaps as the result of an operation, cannot speak as loudly as they wish; and for laryngectomies, of course, there is the artificial larynx. The handset for impaired hearing contains a rotary switch that raises the caller's voice-level to desired strength. If either of these handsets, or the artificial larynx, could possibly make your life a little pleasanter, please don't hesitate to call our Business Office at 878-2301 and inquire about them.

The celebration of the 50th anniversary of Milton Hydro Electric Commission is certainly a significant event, marking as it does, a milestone in the development of the utility and the community. Our congratulations to Milton Hydro Commission and the staff on the commission's 50th Anniversary.

Arnold Blachford.
