

Marlett-Hayward

Wed in McMaster Chapel

Divinity College Chapel, McMaster University, was decorated with tall standards of white chrysanthemums and lilac colored stocks for the wedding of Miss Nancy Jean Hayward and Chester George Marlett on June 5.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Marlett

The officiating ministers were Rev. K. E. Griffiths, Lowville United Church and Dean P. R. Clifford of McMaster Divinity College.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza over satin, featuring a bell shaped skirt, applied with white lace.

Barbara Roth of Toronto and Miss Donna Marlett, a sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. All the bride's attendants were gowned in lilac and blue silk prints, with long bell shaped skirts.

Miss Lisa Gunby of Burlington was a winsome flower girl in pale blue taffeta trimmed in lilac shades, and she carried a basket of lilacs and white flowers.

Master Raymond Campbell of Waterdown was the ring bearer for the double-ring ceremony. Charles McDowell of Burlington and Eustace Reynolds of Jamaica were ushers.

The reception was held in the Eleanor McKay room of Moulton Hall at McMaster University. Mrs. William Hayward received for her daughter, wearing a French blue floor length gown with a matching jacket and a flowered hat. Her corsage was of purple violets.

Mrs. George Marlett received for her son, wearing a floor length gown of eggshell and gold brocade and a corsage of orchids.

For a short honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, the bride chose a pale yellow knit suit and hat, a corsage of white and yellow rosebuds and ivy, and she carried a white mohair coat.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of McMaster University and the bride will be doing post graduate work in Social Studies in Toronto in the fall.

Out-of-town guests present for the wedding came from Niagara Falls, Galt, Brantford, Simcoe, Peterborough, Ottawa, Royal Oak, Virginia and Toronto.

With the W.M.S. motto, "The World for Christ" in mind, members offered silent prayers for the overall work of the church, both at home and abroad.

The meeting adjourned with a missionary hymn, "Forth in Thy Name, O Lord, I Go," and prayer by the president.

"Outreach Through Evangelism" Study at June W.M.S. Meeting

The June meeting of the Robertson Auxiliary of Knox W.M.S. was opened on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. T. Amis, with a poem entitled "His Will Be Done", and the hymn, "Lord of Mercy and Grace".

This took the form of a question and answer period, as the ladies reviewed the different phases of the work of the missionaries, as they serve in their respective fields in India.

Mrs. C. Davenport, Guelph Hosts Scotch Block W.I.

Mrs. C. E. Davenport of 25 Collingwood St., Guelph, was hostess to the Scotch Block Women's Institute for their June meeting. There were 23 ladies present.

The minutes and treasurer's report were given. Several items of business were discussed, one being a decision on a sign for Ligny Hall.

Lockies Win At Iris Show

The annual Canadian Iris Society held their annual Iris Show in the Royal Botanical Gardens headquarters in Hamilton on Saturday, June 6.

Mrs. J. Hopkin gave the report of the district annual as held on May 20 at Knox Presbyterian Church, Acton.

Miss Charlotte Turner read several poems and a contest was conducted by Mrs. Service. Fruit breads, cheese, relishes and tea were served by the committee in charge.

Halton Staff Enjoys Picnic

Halco Social Club held a successful picnic at Hidden Valley Park, Burlington, on Sunday with a big crowd of Halton County employees, councillors, and Warden Gordon Gallagher attending.

Races and games were enjoyed, with prizes going to all the winners, followed by a picnic supper. Halco president Mrs. Jean Thompson was in charge of the picnic, assisted by Miss Barbara Lemon, Alec Howitt, Bill Matlocks, Mrs. Kay Loomis and Miss Marlene Mason.

June is the month of strawberries, and the beginning of the fresh fruit season. As the strawberries become more plentiful on the market, they make a very economical dessert for family or company.

For even more delicious and economical desserts, add a few extra ingredients to the berries and get extra servings. Here are several recipes featuring fresh strawberries, which you'll enjoy serving your family and friends.

GLAZED STRAWBERRY SQUARES

1/2 cup butter 1/3 cup firmly packed brown sugar 1 cup sifted flour Cream butter and sugar. Add sifted flour and blend thoroughly with pastry blender (or finger tips). Pat mixture evenly into an 8-inch square cake pan.

Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until lightly browned—15-18 minutes. Let cool in the pan before covering with the strawberries.

GLAZED STRAWBERRIES

1 quart box strawberries 1/2 cup sugar Few grains salt 4 teaspoons corn starch 1/4 cup water Red food coloring 1 teaspoon lemon juice 1/2 pint whipping cream (1 1/4 cups)

Wash, hull and drain berries. Measure 1 cup strawberries into small saucepan, reserving remainder to cover baked crust. Crush berries in saucepan and heat to boil, then rub through a fine sieve.

Return to saucepan and stir in the 1/2 cup sugar and salt. Make a paste of the corn starch and water and stir into the sieved berries. Return to heat and cook until mixture becomes clear—about three minutes.

Add enough food coloring to give a light red color. Cool slightly, then stir in lemon juice. Arrange remaining berries on baked crust, leaving small berries whole and cutting larger ones in halves and quarters.

Spoon glaze over berries, then chill. Cut in squares or oblongs, top with sweetened whipped cream.

Yield: 6 large or 9 medium servings.

STRAWBERRY DELIGHT

2 cups hulled fresh strawberries 2/3 cup sugar Few grains salt 1 tablespoon gelatin 1/4 cup cold water 1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Crush strawberries, add sugar and salt and stir well. Let stand 10 minutes. Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Pour juice from strawberries into saucepan and heat. Add soaked gelatin, remove from heat and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add strawberries, stir well, then chill. When mixture is partially set, fold in whipped cream.

To serve as a pudding, turn into a 4-cup mould and chill until firm. Unmould and serve garnished with whole berries. (Serves 6.) To serve as a pie, turn into a 9-inch baked pie shell, chill and garnish as above.

STRAWBERRY TULIP LOAF

1 package strawberry-flavored jelly powder 1 cup hot water 1 cup cold water 2 cups halved fresh strawberries 1/3 cup sugar 6 marshmallows, finely cut (optional) 1 cup cream, whipped

Dissolve strawberry-flavored jelly powder in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Combine strawberries and sugar and let stand 10 minutes.

Place slightly thickened gelatin in bowl of ice and water and whip with egg beater until fluffy and thick. Fold in strawberries, marshmallows and whipped cream. Spoon into loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmould. Serve in slices. Makes 12 servings.

To garnish: Whip 1/2 cup cream. Spoon over top of loaf, making two rows of small puffs. Top each puff with a strawberry slice. Split 4 marshmallows to make 8 circular halves. Using small sharp knife, cut each marshmallow half into the shape of a tulip. Mount 4 'tulips' on each side of loaf at base, and garnish with mint leaves.

Library Notes

By Miss E. Braun

This is mid-June. For the children of all grades, this means examinations are drawing to a close and that holidays are not far off. At a time like this, what is the role of the library?

But indeed, this is an ideal time to make use of your library—not for research but for relaxation. What is relaxation? An old Negro woman defined it thus, "When I runs, I walks, and when I sits, I sits loose, and when I worries, I goes to sleep."

And yet, do not slump into perpetual relaxation. That is not what I am advocating. Nor should your reading be such that it is always relaxing—just sometimes, thrown in like dessert.

Here is a list of books for relaxation—who-done-its (murder mystery), westerns, science fiction. And for those who are not interested in this type of reading—Mrs. Arris Goes to Paris, The Little World of Don Camillo, Dear Mad'm, Tales of Cedar Valley, Say Uncle, Jake and the Kid, A Finger in Every Pie, Applesauce Needs Sugar, as well as pleasant novels.

Stimulating and thought-provoking books—How to Live 365 Days a Year, Temples, Tombs and Hieroglyphs, Mandalay the Golden, Minerva Reef, The Road to Survival, The Amazing Results of the Power of Positive Thinking, The Masks of God (3 vol., Oriental Mythology, Occidental Mythology, Primitive Mythology), Eastern Christendom, Island of the Dragon's Teeth, Father Flanagan of Boys' Town, Snake Lore, Nefertiti, Livingstone's Travels, The Slave Trade, Cameracraft, Hunger and History, Search Beneath the Sea, Masterpieces of Religious Verse, The Magic of Believing, How to Make a Habit of Success. And for the children (for the very young)—Creepy Caterpillar, Keeko and Chee Chee, Keeko, Huge Harold, Hubert's Hair Raising Experience, Watch that Ball, A Fly went By, The Smart Little Mouse, Yerdle the Turtle, The Sneeches.

For older children—Kipling's Jungle Book, Stormy, Misty's Foal, The Five Little Peppers series, O. Henry, William Shakepeare, The Great Houdini, Adventuring with Baden Powell, The Wonder Clock, By the Shores of Silver Lake, Russia under the Czars, Wolf-Eye, The Bad One, Knights of the Crusades, The Secret of the Spanish Desert, Waterloo, It's Like This Cat, The World of the Bobcat.

Mrs. A. G. MacNab was hostess for the regular meeting of the John Milton Chapter I.O.D.E. The Regent Mrs. D. E. Martin presided.

Mary Hadley, a Girl Guide working for her gold cord, spoke on the subject "Brave Isles". Three delightful piano selections were played for members by Linda, Laurie and Margaret MacNab. Three applications for membership were accepted, and it was decided to hold the June meeting at Halton Museum at Kelso.

Following the business period the speaker for the evening was introduced. E. Harrop showed the members his beautiful and interesting slides taken during his trip to South America. Mrs. R. MacKay expressed the group's thanks to Mr. Harrop and to Mrs. MacNab, the hostess.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. M. Rasberry and her committee served dainty refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

The secret of patience is doing something else while you're waiting.

Social and Personal News

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil "Slim" Fuller of Palermo will be at home to friends and neighbors Saturday, June 20 from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m., for the celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Leslie, R. R. 1, Milton, who will be celebrating their 50th anniversary, June 24, with their family.

A very enjoyable turkey supper was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Varley, Moffat, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Paupst (nee Mary Teresa Quinlan of Campbellville). The tables were decorated with pink and white streamers, tall pink candles and a bridal wreath, and centred with the wedding cake.

The newlyweds received many lovely and useful gifts. Friends and relatives were present from Kitchener, Waterloo, and Milton, and all wished the newlyweds their best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Paupst will reside at 171 Bronte St., Milton.

Flying Officer and Mrs. Craig Kerr and daughter Laurie of Edmonton arrived in Milton Monday to spend two weeks of their holiday with Mrs. Kerr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray German, 146 Meadowbrook Dr.
