13 WOMEN REGISTERED for the Advanced Sewing class in the Milton Night School this year. Instructor Mrs. J. C. Taylor is shown discussing a piece of fabric with the ladies. The night school is one of the more successful in recent years, with 250 enrolled in 15 classes.

FLORAL DECORATIONS play a big part in the Floriculture class at Milton Night School this winter, and two students of the class are shown discussing a floral creation with instructor Mrs. Marilyn Oldham of Huttonsville, right. The students are Mrs. M. Allhey and Mrs. June Fish. The night school opened last week with 25 adults registered in 15 courses.

NOT TOO FAST
A lady travelling with a friend on an airplane said to the pilot: "Now, don't go faster than sound—we want to talk."
