Camera, Babies Go Together

Babies grow older by the day. But they can be kept young in pictures if you start taking them before it's too late. And memorable, delightful baby pictures are remarkably easy to take chiefly because the subject matter is so expressive and usually co-operative.

A series of pictures is desirable to cover the exciting, exacting and exasperating exploits of the very young. It insures that you capture every snap-shot worthy bit of 'business integral to the story.

One of the biggest daily events in any baby's life is his bath. For one of your planned snapshot sessions try to cover all phases including undressing, washing, drying and post bath operations.

Plain Background

Given a toy, preferably a small one that won't get in the way, an upright infant will supply all the picture material your camera can handle. Whenever you have control over the location of the subject as you do here, choose some place that provides a plain, uncluttered background.

When interest in the toy falters, try having someone standing alongside the camera to perform a little vaudeville entertainment for the benefit of the small fry.

Initial stabs at self-feeding are a prime opportunity for color film. Dress the baby in bright clothing for happiest results.

The president Mrs. Len Lister presided for the business period. Mrs. E. Ball was in charge of the devotional period which opened with a hymn, followed by the Scripture reading. A paper on remembrance was read by Mrs. Ball.

Community Club

The November meeting of the North Trafalgar Community Club was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dave Dowling. Twenty members were present. The meeting opened with the club "Ode" after which the president, Mrs. D. Dalgleish conducted the business period.

The treasurer gave very gratifying reports on the dessert euchre held in Streetsville, and also the euchre held at the Percy Merry School.

Instead of the usual exchange of Christmas gifts it was decided each member would bring an unwrapped gift suitable for the White Cross at the Ontario Hospital in New Toronto.

The next euchre will be held at the Percy Merry School on Thursday evening, November 26.

Enjoy Contests

The program was in charge of Mrs. R. Main and Mrs. J. Cordingly. Two contests were held and won by Mrs. J. Millar and Mrs. L. Marshall.

The annual Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred McCracken on Dec. 9.

Lunch was served by the hostess and a social time enjoyed.

John Scott, baby son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pickett; Sandra Lynn Isobel and Dennis Roger, children of Mr. and Mrs. Stan McHugh were baptized by Rev. E. Linstead at Bethel Church Sunday morning.
