THE LIVELIEST DWARFS EVER danced around during the presentation of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" at the Ontario School for the Deaf parents' open house last week. The Dwarfs were Nancy Wellein, Helen Wojcik, Ursula Hondt, Debbie McClure, Debbie Sullivan, Susan Farr and Gail Brunson. A cast of 12, backed up by three groups of dancers, staged the colorful and well-prepared play before a "full house" of parents and friends.

Parents Enjoy Open House See Rhythm Band, Show

Friday was parents' day at Ontario School for the Deaf, Milton, as the school played host to the biggest crowd of parents and friends in the school's history.

Tours of classrooms and auxiliary buildings, rhythm demonstrations and the staging of a delightful operetta "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" were among highlights of the afternoon. School officials were overjoyed at the large response to their open house invitation, and the auditorium with happy faces as the proud students nipped on-stage during their numbers.

See Classrooms

Parents assembled first in the junior school auditorium, then visited classrooms while lessons were in session for a first-hand look at how the deaf and hard-of-hearing children are taught. A tour of the buildings, including hospital, boiler house, pre-school clinic and dormitory residences followed.

Mrs. Shirley Dills directed the rhythm demonstrations that opened the mid-afternoon program in the auditorium. Miss Foster's class and Miss McPhie's class presented rhythm band numbers, while Mrs. Elliott's class and Mrs. Hilson's class, and one girl from Mrs. Palomino's class did dance routines.

Rhythm Section

Children in the rhythm band were Kathy Denbok, David Griffiths, John Hale, Teddy Scott, Robert Stelaniuk, Patti Wisnoski, David Weaver, Carl Wolte and Christine Curd of Miss Foster's class and Allan Baer, Joseph Bertoli, George Ducek, Steve Fleuelling, Jan Gibson, Janette Jacques, Daryl Smith and Sidney Weber of Miss McPhie's class.

Dances were by Rino DeMeo, Armando DiBona, Tanji Edgar, Kelvin Fleuelling, Brian Holmes, Laurie Marlatt and Shirley Saylor of Mrs. Elliott's class and Lana Bruce, Sharon Fraser, Paul Garner, Keith Harding, Susan Johnston, Michael McDonald and Karen Ashton of Mrs. Hilson's class.

"Black Sambo"

In a number called "Little Black Sambo" directed by Mrs. F. Sloski and assisted by Mrs. J. Best, nine children acted out the fairy tale with spoken parts and plenty of action. Taking part were reader David Fisher, Barry Buller as Sambo, Vince Giancola as Black Jumbo, Tammy Timins as Black Jumbo, Kathy Rose and Ann McDonald as trees and narrators and Benny Dyck, Michael Thompson and Evelyn Kingma as the tigers.

Mrs. Sloski, with the assistance of Mrs. McDonnell and Mrs. Amon and six other teachers who helped on costumes, was in charge of the "Snow White" number that was vividly portrayed by a large cast in colorful costumes.

Main characters were Joanne Stevens as Snow White, Carol Bowman as wicked queen, John O'Brien the huntsman, Michael Larocke the mirror, Wayne Currah the prince, and Nancy Wellein, Helen Pursula, Debbie McClure, Susan Farr, Debbi Sullivan and Gail Brunson as the dwarfs.

List Dancers

Maypole dancers in the operetta were Carol Bowman, Joanne Stevens, Linda Russell, Sharon Cook, Marlene Marchand, Diana Monteith, Judy Driscoll, Wayne Currah, Michael Larocke, John O'Brien, Dian Shantz and Jimmy Allen.

Dancers in the waltz number were Alana Hogsden, Tracey Simpson, Timmy Wilton, Gregory McDonald, Kim Gourlay, Suzanne Leslie, Beth Lewis, Danny Dinsmore, Dana McCarty and Steven Swan, and in the reel were, Bonnie Butler, Nancy Scott, Rosa Gianmm, Bonnie Gentle, Mary Latimer, Paul Brousseau, Norman Barr, Randy Heath, Scott Burch and Garnet Waito.

Refreshments were served to parents at the close of the program. Many visitors enjoyed looking over a display of photos of school activities and class groups, provided by the Canadian Champion.
