

IN DAYS OF OLD, when men were bold, the ladies' hats were even more bold! Three members of the Sarah Martin I.O.D.E. Chapter provided some laughs during the chapter's "Spring Bonnet Fashion Show" and tea Saturday afternoon by modelling these "creations" from yesterday — a rather harsh comparison to the present-day models that highlighted the show. From left, Mae Johnson wears a feathered creation that looked about to fly away any minute; Joy Wooland chose a bird-house masterpiece that only lacked a real bird for effects; and fashion show convener Diane Funk showed off what Eve chose for tending the apples in the Garden of Eden — fig leaves creatively arranged on top. This portion of the show provided plenty of laughter.

Model New, Old Hats At Spring Bonnet Tea

Everything new (and old) in milady's headwear was charmingly displayed for a large crowd attending the Sarah Martin Chapter I.O.D.E. Spring Bonnet Tea in the Williams Ave. High School cafeteria on Saturday afternoon.

Eight members of the Chapter served as models—five showing off the newest spring creations supplied by Morgan's, and the other three presenting a zany old-fashioned review of the hats that grandma used to wear.

Mrs. Diane Funk, who convened the afternoon, decided to drag out the old hats "just for laughs" and the idea paid off with dozens of laughs as she, Mrs. Mae Johnson and Mrs. Joy Wooland modelled bird houses, fig leaves, dunce's caps and an assortment of bygone styles.

Five Models

The newer models of headwear,

Mrs. Isobel Thompson, Mrs. Marilyn Smith, Mrs. Chris Langridge, Mrs. Liz Farley and Mrs. Jean Hodson were models while Mrs. Liz Frame acted as commentator.

Mrs. Lorraine Beverley was a food convener; Mrs. Marg Banner business convener; Mrs. Marilyn Smith models convener; Mrs. Vi Gawronski and Mrs. Hilda Hill decorations convener. Tea was poured by Chapter Regent Mrs. Pat Watters and a former Chapter member Mrs. Althea Hendrie of Burlington. Girls from the Milton Rangers served the attractively decorated tea tables.

Prizes

A top prize of a spring floral arrangement was won by Mrs. M. Smith and a draw for a $10 bonnet was won by Mrs. P. Ford.

Proceeds from the day will be used for the group's high school student bursary fund. About 70 however, were the hit of the show.

Liz Frame was commentator for the fashions.

Senior Citizens Visit Bronte

Thirty-five members of the Milton Senior Citizens' Club paid a visit to 34 members of the Bronte club on Wednesday, March 16.

Due to the nearness of St. Patrick's Day, the program was centered mainly on this theme. The Woods from Bronte entertained with Irish and Scottish piano selections.

There were also some appropriate recitations, "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight" by Mrs. Tray Lott, "Birth of St. Patrick" by Mrs. Gordon MacNab, and a selection from Rudyard Kipling by Frank Hadley.

Some musical entertainment was provided by the Milton Senior Citizens' Band, and Bob Laking and T. Bradley sang two duets.

R. Fulton, corresponding secretary of the U.S.C.O. attended, and in his address intimated that the U.S.C.O. conference would be held in Ottawa this year.

T. Bradley, president of zone 13, also gave an address and thanked the Bronte club for an enjoyable visit.

A delicious lunch was served and the Miltonians left for Knox church hall to hold their own monthly meeting.

With Fred Harbottle presiding, the meeting opened with the singing of O Canada, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Mowat, followed by prayer led by Alexander Watson.

The minutes of the preceding meeting and of the executive meeting were read by secretary Mrs. F. Harbottle.

Bert Wheeler announced that there were now 86 members enrolled including six new ones who paid their dues and became full fledged members of the club that night.

Mrs. E. Zimmerman reported on the sick members and read letters of appreciation.

Greetings were sung to those having birthdays in March.

A committee headed by Mrs. W. Thompson served lunch, after which the meeting closed with the singing of God Save the Queen.

The president then announced that the motto for the month was "Brotherhood" in observance of Brotherhood Week.

MOFFAT

Lt.-Col. J. Anderson Tertiary Minister

Lt.-Col. J. M. Anderson of Oakville has been appointed Interim Moderator by Brampton Presbytery for Nassagaweya and Campbellville Presbyterian Churches, and he has accepted the pulpit since the first of March. Mr. Anderson announced on Sunday morning that he received an invitation from the joint session to fill the vacancy until a permanent minister can be had.

He has agreed to fill the position as many Sundays as he is able to without interfering with his own work. We were very pleased to hear this.

We are sorry to report Mr. Elmer Cox, one of the members of session of Nassagaweya Church, is confined to the General Hospital in Toronto. All hope he will soon be well again.

Mr. M. Traas, a local poultry farmer, had the misfortune to have his newly remodelled barn burned to the ground in January. The neighbors canvassed the area and a purse of money was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Traas at a party in Brookville Hall last week. His plans are to re-build in the spring.

Last Friday evening a party and presentation was held in Brookville Hall for Mr. and Mrs. John Jarvis and they were presented with a china cabinet.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dempster of Cooksville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Campbell.

Plan for New Congregations Launch Land Purchase Program

An intention to acquire parcels of land throughout the Presbytery with a view to long-range development of new congregations was determined by the new Presbytery of Brampton of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, at a meeting in St. Andrew's Church, Port Credit on Tuesday, March 15.

At the same time, a policy to consider the commencing of new work in the spirit of co-operation with other churches was agreed upon.

Ask Raise Stipend

Initiated by the session of Dixie Presbyterian Church, an overture was ordered sent to forthcoming 92nd General Assembly of the church asking that the basic minimum annual stipend, steady since 1962, be raised in keeping with the rise in cost of living and that all congregations be instructed to review the stipend paid to their minister every year.

Progress in the Presbytery was noted from the announcement of the forth-coming dedications of a new church building in Hillsburg, replacing one destroyed by fire, in April, and of a new Christian Education building in Erin in May.

Plans for the organization of a Young People's Council for the new Presbytery were indicated. An executive will be elected and later installed at a rally for all young people in Norval Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. on Sunday, April 3.
