Troupe of Georgetown Students Bring Satirical Revue to Town

A newly formed troupe of senior high school students from Georgetown will be presenting their satirical revue in Milton tonight (Wednesday, April 6), at 8.30.

The group, who have formed Georgetown Youth Productions, will take a poke at most of the issues currently in the news, with subjects ranging from "The Man from Cousin", "Superguy", and "Batman" to the old Toronto City Hall and "Gerta".

Proceeds from the work will be donated to North Halton Association for the Mentally Retarded.

The script was written by Nick Martin, and will be co-directed by Mike Baker.

The cast includes Steve Ewing, Terry Lane, Alex Goudeketting, Doug Fitzmaurice, Bill McKeown, Madeline Buresh, Lesley Buresh, Tanis Helliwell, Joanna Gordon.

Linda Rudiger, Marilyn Baker and Lyn Hewson.

Music will be provided by band members Doug Fowler, Marty Wheeler, Rolph Tomlins, Ian Bowell, Rick Belford, Pete Tomlins, Randy Hibbert and Brian Mallabon.

The revue had its premiere on March 30 and 31 at Central Peel Secondary School, Brampton; and other production dates will include Acton May 3 and Georgetown May 7.
