Mrs. Wilbert Ford receives U.C.W. life membership pin

By Mrs. Cecil Patterson
(Intended for last week)

The November meeting of Bethel U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Len Buckler on Wednesday, with 15 ladies attending. Mrs. Tom Alderson, president, welcomed the ladies and conducted the business. Mrs. John Pickett gave an interesting talk on "Christmas All Over the World". Plans and committees were named to cater for a banquet in the church for the championship Ontario Rural team — Drumquin Squirts. A quilting bee will be held in the basement on November 23 at which time many quilts will be tied and completed for the bazaar, this is to be sent to the Fred Victor Mission.

Used clothing will also be sent and anyone desiring to contribute to this worthy cause may contact the president.

A pleasant feature of the meeting was a presentation of a life membership pin and certificate to one of their members, Mrs. W. E. Ford, who has moved from the district to Milton. Mrs. Alderson read an address and Mrs. P. Merry pinned the pin on Mrs. Ford's dress. A member for nearly 45 years and a faithful worker in the church, Mrs. Ford expressed her appreciation for the honor and gift.

A contest conducted by Mrs. Alderson was won by Mrs. Winch. Lunch was served by Mrs. C. Ford and Mrs. Carlyle. Next meeting at Mrs. T. A. Leslie's.

Happy birthday to, Tommy Learmont, Nov. 14; David Prestidge, 12 on Nov. 12; Sharon McKav, 11 on Nov. 14; Thelma Wilkinson, Nov. 7; Paul Stewart, 11 on Nov. 12; Patricia Brown, 10 on Nov. 8; and Miss Beverley Hoey, Nov. 13.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Galbraith on their 31st wedding anniversary on November 9.

Congratulations to the Hornby Women's Institute on their very successful euchre party and draw for prizes, held in Hornby Orange Hall on Friday evening. Euchre was enjoyed by the large attendance with 17 tables in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Marchment, Mrs. Ralph Featherston, Clifford Wrigglesworth and Kerry Jackson. Lucky door prize went to Miss Eva Chisholm.

Little Miss Valarie Ella drew the tickets for the handsome quilt in dahlia pattern. The top was made by Mrs. Percy Merry and members quilted it. The winner was Mrs. Grange of Ireland. This lady has visited Hornby Institute with her friend and hostess Mrs. L. Sampson and told of customs of her home Institute in Ireland, and members are pleased to send her the quilt.

The cushion, second prize, was made and donated by Mrs. Hugh O'Connor. It too has a long journey to its new home in Gibsons, Alberta, to the lucky winner, Mrs. Agnes Rippon, a former resident of this area. A pair of bath towels with crocheted ends were made and given by Mrs. McPherson and a pair of pillowcases in cross stitch by Mrs. Stanley May were won by Mrs. Harry King and Mrs. Leslie Peer of the Burlington Area.

A delicious lunch was served in the dining room and all had a social half hour. The dining hall has recently been redecorated and is a pleasure to see. Credit for the new ceiling, panelled walls, paint job, cupboards and counters should go to Gordon Bridgen for his fine job.

It has been quite a while since there has been such a pleasant party in the "old hall" and let's hope there'll be many more soon.

Mrs. Delbert Downs was hostess on Thursday evening, Nov. 4 to ladies from Milton for a bridge party, all members of Milton Lawn Bowlers Club. Lunch was served to bring the evening to a close.

Mrs. Tom Alderson opened her home on Monday evening, Nov. 7 to entertain members of the Drumquin Women's Institute. Mrs. Ralph Featherston, the president, opened the meeting and presided. Roll call — name a germ spreader, was well answered by 12 ladies present. Mrs. T. Alderson gave the report of a directors meeting held in Milton recently. A centennial project for 1967 was planned, to give a scholarship for a girl to attend Macdonald Hall, Guelph. Each branch would be asked to contribute five dollars, or ten if possible.

Plans for the district annual next May were announced — each branch is to take pennies for friendship as roll call and exhibit for competition an old fashioned quilt and old fashioned cookies. It is also to have a display of kitchen utensils that grandmother could have used. The curator of Milton would like branches to send in a history of their branch as a county book may be started.

Drumquin W.I. had requested a two-day short course in "Copper Tooling". This is scheduled for approximately April 10 and 11 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Arrangements will be made at a later date as to place. A letter of thanks was read from the Mental Health Association for a cash donation sent recently.

The topic for the meeting was "Health" and convenor, Mrs. George Bailey then called on Mrs. G. Robinson to take the chair. She gave a reading "Look Pleasant and Smile". This told that there were so many things to smile about, it was too bad not to look happy and help make friends be happier, too.

A paper "Poisonous Plants Pose Problems" emphasized the danger that lurks in many flowers, plants and shrubs and that if they are sucked or eaten could cause death to small children because of a deadly poisonous juice: rhubarb leaves, leaves or twigs from a peach tree, Poinsettia leaves, castor bean seeds, any part of lily of the valley, crocus, bleeding heart, azalea, Duffenbachia, acorns, daffodils or hyacinth. Some of the plant poisons affect the kidney or heart or nervous system and can be fatal.

Most of these are house plants which are attractive, but should be out of reach of children. This was read by Mrs. C. Patterson. The guest speaker Mrs. Don Hancock was introduced by Mrs. Robinson and she gave an interesting talk on her work as a teacher at the Sunshine School at Hornby. At present there are 27 children from 5 to 18 years of age attending with three teachers in charge. She emphasized that the school is trying to teach the children so they will be accepted by society. Mrs. Hancock showed many stuffed toys and ceramics made by the children. She also gave a brief outline of the workshop at Hornby called "Hope". This is for those over 18 years of age, where they can work with their hands under supervision. Beautiful Christmas' trees of nylon net and silver trimmed Christmas cards, pillows, aprons, mats and puppets are nicely made. Many of these were purchased by the W.I. ladies. Mrs. Hancock said volunteer helpers at both schools would be welcomed and plastic containers and fancy bottles from bath salts, old nylons for stuffing toys, etc., would be appreciated. Four inch squares of print would also be a help in making a very cute clown doll. Anyone caring to contribute these, get in touch with secretary, Mrs. W. Alderson. The speaker answered questions on the work.

A lot of excitement and suspense is in a man's mind when he starts out on a trip he has been planning for a lifetime. There was just that in the mind of George Robertson of Kilbride when he started out last August 17 with his wife Shirley and youngest son Stanley for a trip to Cranbrook, B.C., in quest of a grizzly bear and a rocky mountain goat.

George got to Cranbrook safely and after depositing Shirley and Stanley with friends, Dawn and Donald Atkinson (formerly Dawn Coulter of Lowville), he set out on horseback with his guide and their cook for the hunting grounds. After what seemed a week on horseback, they arrived at their base camp.

Two contests were conducted. A tree courtship was won by Mrs. Hancock, Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Pickett Sr. A "word finding contest" was conducted by Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Hancock for her interesting talk and also Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Robertson for their part in the program. The hostess served coffee and dessert.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDougall and family moved recently from their home in Sudbury and have taken up residence on No. 2 Highway at Bronte. Mr. McDougall is assistant principal at Blakelock High School. Mrs. McDougall is a teacher and also a music teacher. We welcome them back to this area. They were dinner guests of her mother, Mrs. Percy Merry, on Oct. 30.

George has five words to describe the terrain where he hunted, "straight up and straight down".

The scenery was beautiful and wildlife abundant. The elk came right to camp and one morning when George got up, he counted eight right where they had their horses hobbled. George was amazed at the sure-footedness of the Rocky Mountain goats. The young goats would jump from ledge to ledge in play and a misstep would mean a fall of five to 1,000 feet down.

After 14 days in the Rockies, George did not get his grizzly, but shot magnificent goat. He said the meat was the best he had eaten in his lifetime. George also did a little fishing with the cook and guide. He caught four fish for a total of 75 lbs. Wow! George completed his trip home with a moose hunt with his brother Russell and Jim Mountain at Harwood Lake in the Goganda District, where George shot a four cow moose 20 minutes away from camp on opening day.

Ron Marshall, Delmar Coulson, Roy Robertson and Elvin Coulson returned home from moose hunting with a large bull moose shot by Roy Robertson on the last day of their hunt.

Will Penson, Peter Thomas of Milton and their respective gangs returned home from moose hunting this year empty-handed.

Pheasant and rabbit seasons are both in full swing in Halton County. We have not heard of any large bags of pheasant or rabbits so far. Rabbit hunting will become a lot better as soon as it freezes up and we get a little snow.

More and more carloads of New Canadians are coming out to the country to hunt each Fall and this year is no exception. We have had many complaints (and rightly so) from farmers and people with small holdings that these hunters, either through ignorance of the law, which is no excuse, or just downright boldness, have been failing to get permission before hunting on the farmer's land. Hunters! There is no farmer who has to let you hunt on his property without his permission, so please, before you go running across his property shooting and disturbing farm animals, take five minutes to go and ask his permission. You will find he is a darn nice guy. He also holds the key to your hunting in the future.

At the Halton Sportsmen's Association Club, activity is increasing as the hunting season goes on. The boys are sharpening up their shooting eye for deer and moose and the turkey shoots ahead. Last week, a number of the boys travelled to Acton to participate in a challenge shoot with Acton. They didn't get first prize, but they only lost by five points and they had a very enjoyable day.

This week, we learned with regret of the resignation of the Hon. Kelso Roberts, Minister of Lands and Forests. He will be missed very much in the department. Mr. Roberts has a deep love for the north country and our wildlife as was shown by his good work for this last few years.

To duck hunters — crippling waterfowl without retrieving the cripples is a waste of game. Frank Kortwright, author and president of the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show has three simple rules to do away with the waste of wild game, which in itself is against the law:

(1) Hold your fire until the ducks are well within range; do not shoot at birds more than 40 yards away.

(2) Get that wounded bird. On no account must it escape. Do not let it float into the weeds and be lost later when darkness falls. Let the old saying be your guide, "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush".

(3) Take your retriever along with you or go with a friend who has a good retrieving dog. And remember, fellow sportsmen, it's the hunter who does see the minister approaching. And he is too stupid, or too cowardly to laugh heartily and shout, "Don't be ridiculous!", when the latter has asked him to preach the sermon on Layman's Sunday.

As a Grade 0, my admiration of the chaps on the higher echelons is unbounded. But the guy I really envy is the layman of 2,000 years ago

What a snap he had. He turned up at the service with his offering, a loaf of bread or a couple of onions, worshipped, then went home and counted his sheep, his daughters and his blessings. No golf, no summer cottage, no ski hills, no television. Nothing to do for the rest of the day but meditate upon what a good layman he was.

It's a little tougher today. But we're tougher people. Anyone who can stand up to television commercials, the price of beef, and the threat of instant annihilation can cope with anything.

Well, we can do the chores, anyway. Let the rector handle the alkies and the infirm and the broken homes and the mentally ill. After all, that's what he's paid for. And in some cases, he makes more than a truck driver.

Auxiliary plans Manor yule party

Residents of Halton Centennial Manor will have a combined Christmas and birthday party December 15 at 2 p.m., it was learned Wednesday, November 1 at a meeting of the Manor Women's Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary decided to purchase 12 book rest stands, with Mrs. R. Randall in charge of the buying.

Purchase of a new electric tea kettle for the auditorium kitchen was also decided upon. The ladies are going to serve coffee and tea at noon November 25, when a group of nurses' aides will be touring the Manor.

Mrs. C. Hill and Mrs. J. Brownridge were appointed as lunch committee for the December meeting.

Mrs. S. Allen and Mrs. M. Cullion served lunch at the meeting's end.

some practicing before he leaves and knows his gun and what it will do, who is the one who returns home with the game.

BELL LINES

by Arnold Blachford, your telephone manager

Christmas shopping lists beginning to get you down? Sometimes it is difficult to know just what would be most appreciated by members of the family and special friends. Something that is exciting to receive but still practical and useful. I've a suggestion that might help you fill the blank spaces beside a couple of special names on your list. An extension telephone. Your Christmas-morning surprise will be a year-long reminder of your thoughtfulness. It won't be tucked in a drawer, pretty but useless. Instead, all year long it will save time and steps and its ring will bring a thought of Christmas cheer on the hottest August day. If this idea helps solve a shopping problem, give our Service Representative a call at 878-2301. We'll Christmas-wrap and deliver the telephone of your choice, and arrange to return and connect it later when most convenient.

Just a reminder to anyone planning to make overseas calls during the busy holiday periods of December 24-26 and December 31 to January 2. Advance reservations for such calls will be taken starting Monday, November 28 from 9:00 a.m. To reserve a call, just ask your Long Distance Operator to connect you with the Overseas Operator for the country that you wish to call. The Overseas Operator can then arrange all the details of the call with you. If at all possible, it's a good idea to make the calls before or after two peak calling periods. That way no reservations are necessary and your call should go through quickly and easily.

"TELEPHONE OPERATORS ARE NOT PERMITTED TO REPORT AT THIS BUILDING AT ANY HOUR OF DAY OR NIGHT IN BICYCLE COSTUME." Believe it or not, that's a quotation from a telephone company bulletin dated 1895. And that same year, a women's fashion magazine said, "Let women's business attire be black, brown, or grey serge. Black is preferred on account of the unwritten law governing the style of dress by many self-supporting women." How the styles have changed in almost three-quarters of a century, and personally, I think our telephone girls today look pretty attractive in their bright, gay colors. But Operators' clothes aren't the only things that have changed around the telephone company during the last 71 years. There is no shouting now when talking Long Distance, it's just like speaking to someone across a desk; it's possible to dial cross-continent calls in seconds for a fraction of the cost of 71 years ago. In fact, our Operators today preside over boards keyed to a communications network unimagined 71 years ago. All those years of research and development have made your telephone the most modern, trouble-free, reasonably-priced phone in the whole world.
