

JOLLY SNOWMEN complete with top hats, scarves and buttons caught the fancy of John Cairns when he and more than 50 other students from Holy Rosary School performed at the Halton Centennial Manor on Saturday. White string, balloons and felt are the major ingredients in the production of these colorful snowmen. They are attached to a wooden base.

CAROLYN ALTON and Jack Langedyk took the leading roles in the Holy Rosary School presentation of the Nativity play at the Halton Centennial Manor on Saturday. Students from the school annually entertain the manor residents just prior to Christmas.

Support nurses

Halton's public health nurses, still attempting to negotiate with Halton County Council for the right to collective bargaining, have received moral support from the Canadian Nurses' Association. The 80,000 member association issued a statement last week in Ottawa supporting the rights of nurses for collective bargaining and strike action.

Martin House to be ready in January

It will be some time in January before the new building "Martin House" at Halton Centennial Manor will be opened to another 300 senior residents of Halton, Oakville Reeve Herb Merry told Oakville Council last week. The large new manor is nearing completion south of the existing Manor on Ontario St. Milton. The work is four to six weeks behind schedule due to strikes and holdups on construction materials, Mr. Merry said.

High School Highlights

by maurice cassidy

The Christmas examinations are over and as one might expect, activities are once again on a normal schedule. However, in a very short period of time, the school will be abandoned for Christmas vacation. Until then, there are certain events to inform you of. When first observing our senior boys' basketball team during workouts in the gym, I felt reasonably sure that the squad would make a good account of themselves during their games. Although their actual league play does not start until January, they have played in four exhibition games thus far. All four were won by our team with apparently little effort. Of course, it was to be expected they would defeat the teachers since they had no actual competition. In a game with OSD, they handed their hosts a 28-16 loss and when they received a social call from Elora, they had little trouble in coming out on top of a 38-30 score. So it appears as if the students of MDHS can look forward to a relatively successful season as far as basketball is concerned. The institution of a wrestling tournament has inspired great competitive spirit among students. Its progress, although impeded somewhat by exams, is now running smoothly. The students' council this year seems to be the most active in many a year. Their newest committee is the Winter Carnival committee. Its name defines itself and its results will appear before too long. The students' council is also sponsoring a draw, the prize being two passes for a popular group concert in Toronto. The winning tickets will be drawn on Friday and it is expected that a substantial profit will be made. It might be most advantageous to mention that the majority of profits accumulated from projects will be utilized to obtain a timer for the gymnasium. Perhaps this year the timer will be a reality instead of a promise from the politicians of the school. We sincerely hope so. Results of labor and zeal are being relayed to the students. These examination marks will be finalized in the form of report cards to be issued in late December before vacation starts.
