Thaw culverts on George St.

Willmott vs. Hiltz.

Flooding on George St. brought three ratepayers to Milton Council Monday evening, requesting "some kind of a permanent improvement."

Councillor Brian Best said records should be made annually of the damage caused in poorly drained areas, so that when the money is available the most seriously affected locations could be improved.

He also complimented the town works department employees for working long hours to deal with the many problems that have arisen this win-One ratepayer indicated, "I've lived there nine years and each year more water seems to accumulate." Councillors recognized the problem and said the works department steam jenny would be taken to the area to get the culverts thawed out.

This summer while fishing, camping, hiking, etc., do not throw anything in a stream or lake. Every little bit helps to pollute. Farmers also, please be careful with fertilizer around streams and run-off ditches. In fertilizer there are nitrates and phosphates both useful as they promote the growth of vegitation as algae, so do not wash your fertilizer drill near a stream or run-off ditch. United States and Canada have joined hands this year in the greatest fight against pollution ever. Your help is needed.

Youngsters thrilled at first sleigh ride

Sleigh bells jingled and dozens of youngsters squealed with excitement as King and Bill — a pair of Belgian horses - did their bit towards making a Centennial project successful.

The brown and white team, owned by William and Gordon Rayner of R.R. 1 Milton, trudged through slush and snow and gave many children their first sleigh ride.

As a result, money was raised for the Percy W. Merry School's Centennial project the purchasing of new books

"I think the sleigh rides raised a nice bit of money for the project," driver William Rayner said, "but I got a big kick out of seeing the youngsters enjoy the rides."

From 1 p.m. until 4.30 on Saturday, the Rayner farm on the Third Line, Oakville, was a hive of activity. King and Bill made the trek through the fields on nine separate occasions — each time pulling a load of excited children.

After the rides, the children were able to purchase refreshments provided by a school committee.

'Fireproof' isn't really so

A new film on fire safety in public buildings, "They Call It Fireproof" is being viewed this month by several staffs and organizations in Milton and Milton Fire Chief A. E. Clement, in conjunction with the Halton Emergency Measures Organization, is showing the films to as many groups as possible. The film points out that even buildings labelled "fireproof" will burn if care is not taken with the contents of the building.

"It is a good film, and really gets the message across," says Fire chief Clement. "It shows how everyone has to take their own part as far as fire prevention is concerned."
