PLAUDITS FOR NURSING DIRECTOR

Dear Sir: In all the plaudits meted out to the management of the Halton Centennial Manor, (well deserved, I hasten to add) have yet to see the name of the Director of Nurses, Mrs. Sykes.

This good lady gives of herself wholeheartedly. Her manner and cheerfulness are to be admired at all times. I am quite sure all residents and staff would agree.

sincerely hope you will print this letter in your wonderful paper, but I would ask you to kindly refrain from printing my name, as I work at the Manor.

Sincerely yours, 'Staffer".

STAMP BAN

Dear Sir: With regards to trading stamps, I am against banning them. After all, we have to pay for our food and the cost of food is not any cheaper in a store that does not give trading stamps. Naturally they advertise that you can buy a certain item cheaper but upon inspection you will usually find the item is a cheaaper brand, and tastes it, too.

We have shopped at the same chain supermarket before and after, and the prices are comparable with any other chain over the period of the last 10 years. Granted, prices have risen but so have wages and have yet to hear someone complain that they want their wages lowered. If people will stop to think about it, they will discover that food costs have not risen nearly as much as building costs, over the same per-

By receiving the stamps when we check out we have been able to obtain various articles with no more cash outlay than our food bill. By banning stamps I do not think food costs would drop. Besides, if those people who object to stamps don't want them, let them buy where they don't give them.

BAN WOULD STIFLE FREE ENTERPRISE

Dear Sir: Much has been said recently about the merits and disadvantages of the use of trading stamps. The Provincial House is even considering the outlawing of this promotion.

Now this country prides itself, and rightly so, on its free enterprise system, so any legislation that would seem to stifle or depress this system would seem to be a contradiction of something that we are proud of. I cannot see why there is such a cry over the use of this type of sales proonly one in 12 stores makes use of this type of sales promotion. TRADING STAMPS

Dear Sir: Only one store in Milton gives out trading stamps, no one is forced to shop there, so obviously those who do, approve the "Stamp Method".

I am a careful shopper and compare prices at the different shopping markets and occasionally change and again compare. I have found I can shop at the same level and have my stamps, as I can where no stamps are given. So why not let the gripers shop where they please and allow us the same privilege. I approve of "Green Stamps" one hundred per cent.

The B. Crisci property on Martin St. bordering on the C. N.R. track was under discussion, following notification from the Committee of Ajustment such an application would be heard Tuesday.

Deputy-Reeve C. Menefy noted a permit was issued for a double duplex (four units) and it should be adhered to.

Councillor B. Best suggested the town could be faced with a charge of discrimination, since it recently allowed a neighboring property to add two units making it now an apartment.

Councillor C. Johnson pointed out the other building had been in existence and was regarded as a non-conforming use when the by-law was pass-

Wrecking yard approved

Approval for the establishment of a wrecking yard in the north end of Nassagaweya Township was given by township council on Monday even-

An application by John Mc-Lean and Douglas McLean for the licence was approved by a three to one margin, with the proviso that the approval is subject to okay of the Halton County Health Unit.

The Township Planning Board had recommended the application be turned down, principally because of concern for the possible pollution of water in the area.

Councillor Ross Gordon spoke out in favor of granting the licence and Reeve William Coulter and William Mahon also voted in favor of the motion. Councillor Anne Mac-Arthur voted against. Deputy Reeve William Hoey was unable to attend the meeting due to illness.

Provided approval is received from the County Health Unit, the wrecking yard will be established on the south half of lot 24, con. 1.
