WINTER CARNIVAL

By Jean Marie Bailey
On March 8 there was no school because we had a winter carnival. Many of us enjoyed ourselves very much. What I liked best was the dance in the auditorium. We went in at seven o'clock and tickets were passed to each of us. We were for the lucky Snow Queen and King. We danced many kinds of dances and then had a Paul Jones dance. Next was the Virginia Reel and the 10 invited students from Milton High School were just in time to join with us. Everybody was jumping and clapping hands.

After that dance many of us were tired out, so we sat down near the walls and refreshed ourselves with punch and peanut butter cookies. When we were all rested up we did the Limbo. Some did it very well. The Go-Go contest was next and about six to 10 girls were chosen to dance on the stage in any style. The two girls who tried first were Hilda Wultanc and Maryann Chmiel. The second pair were Brenda Neeb and Sandra Simpson. The four girls tried again and Hilda Wultanc was chosen by two students from Milton High School. She was presented with a go-go girl doll.

Next was the Lucky Snow Queen and King draw and the lucky two who had their numbers picked were Cecile Denome and Richard Larsh. They were both presented with gifts. The lucky Snow Queen and King danced and switched partners.

I danced with some boys and the boys from Milton High School were very nice. I hope they enjoyed themselves very much and the girls, too. I had a great time and at last we bunny hopped back to the residence.

Didn't reject fire pumper

Milton Council did not reject the recommendation that a new fire pumper be purchased for the Fire Area, Councillor C. Johnson told The Champion in a statement Monday.

He pointed out council had accepted the report of its representative on the Board, in which he stated he would support the purchase if other members of the Board favored it. Milton Council concurred in this stand, Councillor Johnson said.

The Area Board last week decided to postpone the purchase for another year until a larger financial reserve is built up to reduce the need for debenturing the cost.

TOWN PERMITS

An $8,000 renovation to Alphonso Crisci's grocery store at 178 Mill St. brought the Town of Milton building permits for the month of February to $9,000. The only other construction during the month was a $1,000 garage, reports Town Building Inspector Jack Charlton.
