Asks Warden present chain to Mayor Syd

Presentation of the recently purchased chain of office for Milton's Mayor is to be arranged in June, members of Milton Council agreed during Monday's meeting. It was agreed the Warden of Halton County would be invited to make the presentation with all former mayors invited to attend the event. The chain of office was specially designed for the town and will be worn symbolically during events at which the mayor may be present.

Councillor C. Johnson, referred to as the senior member of council in terms of years of service, was named to serve as chairman for the presentation.

An open invitation to all citizens and service groups to attend the event, that will be planned to follow a short regular meeting, is to be issued when a suitable date for the Warden's presence is established.

WIFE MISPLACED

A tourist, after spending the night in Myrtle Beach, S.C., appealed to the Chamber of Commerce for help in finding his wife. He couldn't remember which of the town's more than 20 motels they had checked in to. The man had left to get gas for his car and when he headed back to pick up his wife, he realized he didn't know which of the numerous places along the Ocean Highway was home base. Policemen took him from motel to motel and hours later, he finally hit the right one and was reunited with his wife.

Dump not open long enough man puts junk outside gate

When is a town dump not a town dump?

When it is not open enough hours to serve the people who pay for it, says George Jackson of Queen St., Milton. He appeared before council on Monday to complain the town's sanitary disposal site was useless with its present open hours of 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mr. Jackson said last fall he cleaned up his yard and gathered up a trailer-load of rocks, rubble and general debris. He didn't expect the town garbage crews to take it away for him, so he tried to deliver it himself to the town dump off Williams Ave. But by the time he got home from work, the dump was closed and it wasn't open on Saturdays, either.

After repeated attempts to get it there during the dump's "business hours", he finally got mad and dumped the load in front of the locked gate.

"Now I am bothered with a charge, which I will go to court about," he told council.

"That dump is a public facility that should be available to the public at reasonable hours, and those are not reasonable hours," he complained.

Councillor Brian Best said it was not feasible to open the dump when the operator is not there, as the loose paper blows all over town if it is not covered up immediately. He recalled the town opened it on Saturday mornings for about six months, but it was used so little, it wasn't worth while to keep an operator on duty. He wondered if it could be opened one Saturday morning each month to accommodate those who cannot come there in the daytime.

Another suggestion came from Councillor Charles Fay, who said if a resident telephoned the town hall, the garbage crew would pick up trees and large piles of debris on Wednesday afternoons.

The matter was left with Councillor Best to inquire if the town works foreman favored opening one Saturday a month. A report is expected next week.

SUICIDE FINDINGS

Contrary to popular opinion, suicide is not always preceded by visible gloom or dejection. Psychiatrists working at suicide prevention centers have discovered that attempts by patients to take their own lives frequently are preceded by "smiling depression" — a covering-up of inner fears of failings with an air of good humor. "Once the suicide has made up his mind to take his life, he may suddenly seem relaxed, even happy and relieved, even he has decided a way out of his agony," according to Dr. Robert E. Litman of the Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Center.

A track and field meet between the Americas and Europe will be held August 9 and 10 during Expo 67. The contestants will be selected from the finalists of the Pan-American and European championships.

Animals will play a big role at Expo 67. The Children's Zoo at La Ronde has 200, all cubs. There will be baby lions, tigers, llamas, ostriches and many more. Outside the Australian Pavilion, kangaroos will be on display.
